Cure For Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like presperation, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts effected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address, The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by W. F. Kremer, Grant's Pass.

Local and Personal.

Prof. R. A. Booth of Drain, was in town this week.

Miss Allie Jennings made a flying visit to Medford last week.

A. Every packed a mower over the trail to Bear Camp this week.

Dr. James Spence of Sucker creek, came over for a new mower this week.

J. T. Galvin caught a large number of fine trout in the river above here Sunday.

Eugene Ricksecker of the geological survey corps, called at our office Monday.

C. H. and Wm. Basye of Missouri Flat came over after a new twine binder this week.

R. D. Sandford has been shipping large quantities of strawberries to the Willamette valley.

Horace Woodcock, N. Ayers and S. W. Forbes were in town during the week, from Kerby.

J. K. Pigney's new residence on 6th street is about completed. He moved into it last Wednesday.

Kerbyville, Missouri Flat and Gold Hill will celebrate in grand style. We hope they may succeed.

Will Hunter broke jail last Sunday night. He was incarcerated for drawing a pistol on Wm. Hyde.

J. M. Sabin, traveling agent for the old and reliable house of J. C. Ayer & Son, called to see us Tuesday.

Miss Elva Wheeler's manner of handling a gun while on the stage the other night at Music Hall was nearly perfect.

Mrs. Stone has moved to her new building on front street, which is a handsome structure. It is now receiving the paint.

We call attention to the new ad. of A. H. Carson this week. This gentleman has a fine nursery and sells superior trees.

The rain of last Saturday and Saturday night was sufficient to wet the ground thoroughly, doing much good to the crops.

A large amount of matter laid over this week for want of space. It will appear next week. We hope to be excused this time.

A. Sargent, C. Duncan and Ed. Tolan of Kerbyville precinct have all bought new wagons of the Newton pattern at this place.

Walter Simmons is now at home. He informs us he will soon finish his clean up at Galice creek and close down for the season.

M. F. Nessly, A. J. and P. A. Langworthy prospectors, returned to Portland from the vicinity of Gold Hill a few days ago.

We regret very much to learn that Sheriff T. G. Patterson is no better. In fact the latest news from Portland says he is worse.

J. Binswanger, traveling salesman for the popular house of Hecht Bros. & Co., will be in this section about the 20th soliciting orders.

Wm. Hogue and wife came over from Deer creek this week. Mrs. H. had never seen the cars and came to take a look at them.

It is the duty of our people to make all new comers who settle in our midst welcome, and to do everything to encourage them to remain.

Gen. Tolman, Gen. Reames and David Linn of Jacksonville, went to Portland on Sunday's train to attend the grand lodge, A. F. & A. M.

Chas. H. Basye on last Tuesday brought us a sample of rye cut off above the roots, which measures 8 feet, 3 inches. Beat it, somebody.

Lewis Rotermund, Dr. Flanagan and J. H. Ahlf have all been building additions to their residences. J. C. Campbell has been building a barn.

Miss Allie Cook has our kind thanks for a nice boquet. We love flowers and especially do we enjoy such presents from sweet little children.

Mrs. Erna F. Fehely is in town preparing for the photograph business, which she has been studying several years. She will doubtless succeed.

W. A. Hunter, who escaped from jail a few days ago, was re-arrested on the Siskiyous by Dave Crosby, and returned to this place and re confined.

O. A. Hubbard & Co. on last Monday sold a fine hack to Hardy Ellef of Glendale. They have just opened an agricultural implement and salesroom on front street.

Mrs. Thornton on 6th street has a fine orange bush, which she raised from the seed. She also has a young carp in a globe, which we think is handsomer than a gold fish.

Prof. C. W. Ganiard of Ashland, (formerly of California), was in town the fore part of the week trying to organize a brass band, but failed. We need a band badly and hope to see one organized.

C. L. Gray, our efficient jeweler, after closing down his stock and boxing up to leave Grants Pass has changed his mind and opened out his stock again, we are glad to say. See his ad. elsewhere in this issue.

Chas. W. Cornelius of the Gold Hill quartz mines, went to Portland on Sunday, having $4000 in gold bullion with him. This speaks volumes for our country as this money has been taken out at an expense of about 1000 or less.

Owing to a large amount of printing for the various celebrations throughout the county, we are compelled to go to press one day late this week.

The meed of merit for promoting personal comeliness, is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, and agreeable, it ranks among the indispensable toilet articles.

For chronic catarrh, induced by a scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It stops catarrhal discharges, removes the sickening odor, and never fails to thoroughly eradicate every trace of the disease from the blood. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

Messrs. Sherer & Judson are now handling a large lot of wagons, farm machinery, buggies &c. Their large store-room on 6th street looks like business, as it is filled with attractive articles that are comfortable to the farmer. This is a good house and they are doing a large business.

The freight rate on the O. P. R. R. now charged from San Francisco to Grants Pass via Yaquina are from $2.40 to $3.60 per ton lower than the rates charged on the O. & C. road at the time the O. P. began to cut rates. So we are informed by reliable authority. The conveniences at Yaquina for handling freight figure no little in this reduction.

Miss Ione Cranfiel, who was the first principal of our academy, died at Eugene on the 13th. Her health failing, she went to California last fall, but received no benefits from the trip. About three weeks ago, in company with Mrs. Fred Croxton, who is her sister, she returned to this place and thence to Eugene City. Her many friends at this place will regret to hear of her death.

Owing to an over-crowded state of our columns last week, we were compelled to throw out a large amount of matter already written up, some of which was in type and we regret to say we are no better prepared this week to publish all of the important news. We did not find space in our last issue for a fitting comment on the drama at Music Hall on the 8th, we therefore laid the matter over until this week that we might mention each performer at length but owing to a large amount of county news we will have to pass the matter by, simply saying that it was a success, the players acquitting themselves very well.

We call attention this week to the ad. of Somerville & Axtell who have just taken charge of the City Bakery. They are first-class bakers. Mr. S. is from Globe, Arizona, having just closed out his bakery at that place, while Mr. Axtell is from California. These gentlemen are thorough in their line, and deserve the liberal patronage of the people. They are first-class business men who have located in our midst permanently and we hope to see them build up a large business. We examined some of their sponge loaf and pronounce it far superior to any bread produced at that bakery before. Give them a call and see for yourself. While there notice the cleanliness of the place.

The people of Grants Pass want it distinctly understood that the coming celebration does not mean a speculation, but on the other hand it is gotten up without regard to cost and is to be made free just as far as possible. Everybody far and near is invited to come and be happy. According to the arrangement the town people as well as the farmers are to take well filled baskets for the dinner and a committee is appointed to call at their respective houses here in town to convey the eatables to the grounds. In fact, there are committees for each and every duty who will carry out the details of their respective departments to the letter. With such an organization our fourth will be a grand success.

Correspondence.

ED. COURIER:—The traveler being at home again after having taken quite a tour through the northeastern, south-eastern and eastern part of the county, thinks perhaps a few items from those districts visited might interest you and your many readers. But little change in general has taken place since my last. Crops are looking fine, haying already begun, and things in general look prosperous. The singing class at Merlin is improving wonderfully in volume and tone; they number 32 members and each one striving to out-do their neighbors, hence their rapid improvement. During the last week, I visited many of the district schools and found them in good working order and under the supervision of competent and faithful teachers. The Grave creek school (a new district) is being taught by Willie Harmon, of Deer creek, a young teacher of merit; schedule role 20, with an average attendance of 15, order good, advancement rapid. The Lucky Queen school, also a small school of about 15 regular attendants, is taught by Miss Lula Day, of Applegate, also a beginner in pedagogueism, who is conducting her school with much credit. Coming on south, I visited the Nida district on Louse creek; where I found an average attendance of 18, schedule roll 23, of intelligent and studious pupils under the efficient management of Miss Bell Jess, who is proving herself to be a successful and able teacher. The New Hope and Murphy schools on Applegate are also in a healthy and prosperous condition, under the very able management of Misses Green and Lewis, two excellent and worthy young ladies and teachers. I am pleased to find the schools mentioned, under the management of resident teachers of this county; young people mostly raised and educated in southern Oregon, one of whom, I believe, was born in the county. We now come to the Grants Pass school which has just closed a successful term of nine months, under the tutorship of the model teacher of Southern Oregon, Prof. Benson, who with his corps of competent and refined assistants, have done excellent and permanent work.

I fear, Mr. Editor, that I am getting somewhat lengthy, but hope your pardon. The schools of our country is the hope of our nation and it is a subject that all should be interested in. Being myself an educator and teacher for more than a quarter of a century I have a deep interest in the moral and intellectual training and education of the young; and my experience with your people teaches me that none are more teachable or intelligent than the young people of Southern Oregon. Give them a chance then; throw no obstacle in their way, but surround them with the right influences; elevate the educational standard; make the children feel that we are their friends, and as education advances so will the morals of our country improve and from Josephine county will go fourth competent men and women to battle for the right.

TRAVELER.

From Althouse.

J. Merry left on the 9th for the Cœur d'Alene mines.

Burnett & Dickey are prospering in their claim on Greens creek.

Clark & Gillmore still hang to Ceaser, hopeing to pull out that thirty-pound "slug" which Clark saw in his dream the other night.

Johnson & Leander Henry are still pegging away in their ravine high up on the divide. They have but little water, yet they pan out the ore in fair quantities.

T. Senner was down from Louse creek on Sunday for fresh supplies. He reports the snow still deep on the divide, and a good prospect for a long water season on Indian creek.

While thinking over and planning in my mind the best way to assist the Odd Fellows' Orphan Home, my eye met the following paragraph, which seems to me to be the very thing needed, and the best plan of any which I have as yet heard advanced, for the up-building of an institution which is much needed in the state of Oregon. Here is the New Jersey plan to provide a home for the indigent members of the Order:

The Odd Fellows of New Jersey have bought nine acres of land and an eighteen roomed mansion near Trenton, which are to be used as a home for indigent members of the Order. Every member of the Order in the state will be taxed one cent per week for its maintenance. Every lodge can, when it has an incurable, send the unfortunate brother to the home and know that he will be well cared for and made as comfortable as human hands and hearts can make him, the sick benefits, less the monthly or quarterly dues, being paid to the home. These will provide the brother with all things needed for his support and nursing, thereby saving the lodge and its members much trouble and anxiety, while the afflicted would receive much better attention and would be much better off in so far as attendance and proper treatment, than he possibly could while under the charge of the lodge, with strange nurses every other night or so. Think of it, brothers.

Mr. Editor, shall I tell you of the great gravel mine commencing on the Illinois river, extending thence up Sucker creek, Althouse creek and the deep part of what is known as Democrat gulch, from north to south some 12 to 14 miles in length; from east to west perhaps three miles in width. Remember I do not say that there is gold all the way across from east to west, but I will say that there are from two to three different channels running from the mountains. These have by their natural course come together and formed the valley now known as the Sucker creek valley, and the flat land lying along the east side of the Illinois river. Gold has been found wherever men could work without machinery, and there are millions lying in the sand and gravel of this vast stretch of country. You will perhaps laugh, and say, "suppose there is, who can get it out," my answer would be, and is, capital. There are hundreds of men to-day who know not what to do with their millions. They are seeking for good investments where they can realize from 10 to 12 per cent., rather than 2 and 3. What we need is some such man as De Lesseps. Such a one would soon find the means to open up this great mining basin, make a canal through it, and float the great forests of our mountains to tide water and ship our sugar pine to the cities of the old world, and convert our lofty pines into masts for stately ships to spread their wings upon.

While at Waldo the other day I was told of the new strike in Geo. Simmons and Co.'s claim in their lower cut. This will be the richest and most extensive mining claim in all southern Oregon. The Scott gulch mining claim is also panning out big and will probably make a large clean up. There does not seem to be an idle man in this camp that is, except the few who are laying off for a rest, or for some other cause. Very many of the chinamen from Althouse are now employed in the diggings at Waldo, where they will remain until the claims have got through cleaning up for the season.

Inconsistent and Insolvent.

(Oregon Sentinel.)

The editor of the Roseburg "Review" finds it practically impossible to divest himself of his sacerdotal robes while performing, among the multiplicity of his miscellaneous duties, the functions of a journalist; and, as a consequence, he vainly imagines himself floating around in the upper regions of the moral atmosphere of his community, uncontaminated by and independent of the varied influences which warp the minds and dictate the utterances of his journalistic brethren. His pharisaical assumption, as utterly false as it is absurdly ridiculous, impels him with undesirable frequency to insolently and impudently meddle in affairs which are conspicuously none of his business. Arrogating to himself the rights of a journalistic dictator, he has repeatedly, in a manner marked with studied insult, essayed to instruct his equals in ability and his superiors in polite expression as to the manner in which they should or should not conduct their professions. Not long since he asserted his assumed authority over the editor of the "Times," then he gave utterance to intensely disparaging remarks concerning the editorial writings of the Drain "Echo," and now he launches upon the editors of the "Courier," "Tidings" and Sentinel the thunders of his disapproval of their course in disclosing the lack of integrity as an element of character in the editor of the "Times." Were he possessed of a moiety of the average perceptive powers of a school boy, he would discover that the moat he deplores in another's eye is really a beam in his own—that the squirrel at which he has been shooting in Southern Oregon is only a louse on his own eyebrow. What the Sentinel has said concerning the editor of the "Times" related to his business transactions with the public, and to his political inconsistencies, was based upon recorded facts. These facts are so indisputable that Nickell has not attempted to deny their authenticity, but has endeavored only to divert attention from them by the subterfuge of spite; and by bathing a hapless, helpless member of his own party, an innocent instrument of his legislative crookedness, who had honor enough to squeal but hadn't grit enough to kick, by bathing him in a burning flood of apt and artful sarcasm, furnished by some vindictive lackey of the "Times."

The readers of the "Review" will remember that during his clerkship incubating season, the editor of that paper delivered himself of a bombastic, garrulous, omnipotent I, impotent you, sort of an article—a regular old woman's scold—directed against this same editor of the "Times" whose cause he now inconsistently champions, and champions with insult for the very want of argument. He criticised the man and not the paper; so did we. His criticism was based on sentiment and individual interest; our criticism was based on fact and public interest. He applied the paternal hand to Nickell because that individual wanted his place; we upbraided Nickell because he wanted the earth and the fullness thereof. We maintain that our course has the advantage of dignity and justice. Is the editor of the "Review" on the stool of repentance for an impolitic act? Is he making punitive reparation to the "Times" by chastising himself for the things which he did do and which for his political advantage he should not have done? Have the rods of good democracy with which he lashed the back of Nickell been already converted into writhing serpents in his hands? Is he consistently hypocritical or hypocritically inconsistent? Sacrifice yourself, Bro. Bell, your manhood, your all, upon the altar of your political ambition, if you wish to; but, don't endeavor to do penance to Nickell, we entreat of you, by sacrificing us upon the altar of his wrath. And as to your advice to us concerning the value of our paper, what the little boy said to his mother about the injection, that will we say unto you, Bro. Bell, "Take it yourself." When you are no longer in cowardly fear of Nickell, and are able to edit a better paper than the Sentinel, then we will listen to you; but until you teach yourself good manners and journalistic courtesy, until your expressions have the purity of diction and the polished phraseology of a scholar, until what is right rather than what is politic constrains you to do and to be, until you are an established success, we will not listen to you; no, never!

My Fine Stock Ranch and stock, situated 65 miles from Grants Pass on Rogue river. This ranch was formerly known as the Northrop Stock Range.
