There are two or three cases of scarlet fever reported in town but none of them are of a malignant type. Those having the disease are doing as well as could be expected under the skillful treatment of the physicians who have instructed the nurses in every case to use care in order to prevent the spread of the disease. The city council, realizing that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure, have ordered published an ordinance which will be strictly enforced in the future. There was quite a falling off in the attendance at the public school when the report went abroad but, if there are no more cases by Monday most of the pupils will return.
A singular freak in the way of a Royal Ann cherry tree may be seen in the front yard of Mrs. Sarah Goodman of this city. Last spring it blossomed out and fruited in due time. In September it began a regular series of idiosyncrasies unknown to the horticulturist, by blossoming out again in regular spring style and now in the middle of November, may be seen with blossoms and unopened green fruit in seeming defiance of Jack frost or "black November's surly blast."

In our last issue we quoted the city council as saying that the reason for not fighting the streets, when a petition of 75 per cent of the tax payers was presented, requesting them to do so, was that they could not get good enough lights for the money, there must have been some mistake about this, as we are informed no question was asked regarding the price of lights.
Hosca Brown Dead.
Hosca Brown, the last survivor of the war of 1812 living on the Pacific coast, passed to his final rest and reward Monday of this week at the home of Orr Brown on Applegate. Mr. Brown was born in the state of New Hampshire, July 18, 1792, which would make him at his last birthday, 105 years old. He served in the war of 1812, became a Christian man after the close of the war and has ever been faithful to his government and to the Christian cause he continued to love until his death. The G. A. R. of this city took charge of the remains and the funeral services were held at the Christian chapel, by Stephen Jewell. A large audience assembled to pay their last respects to a truly good man.

PERSONAL.

Claud Hockett went to Ashland last week to enter the Normal.
A. C. Godfrey of Merline was registered at Hotel Josephine last Friday.
Misses Jennie, Elsie and Etta Pollock came home from California to visit for a few days.
The Leonard Brothers have gone to Bly, Klamath county, Or., to take charge of their mother's stock ranch.
Fred Meach has been spending several days at home lately but will leave soon for his labors on the Illinois river.
W. E. Reedy, of the firm of Stevens, & Reedy of Wimer, spent a day in town last week.
C. L. Mangum and Professor Thompson went down to Grave creek Tuesday night to be gone a short time.
John L. Childs, editor of the Crescent City News was in the city Saturday night. He left for home Sunday morning on the stage.
H. C. Perkins is now on Forest creek in Jackson county looking after the mine for which he was appointed receiver by Judge Hanna.
A card from J. Numan informs us that his address is now 181 Hooker St., Portland, Or. Mr. Numan says, "I see the Courier is all right."
John Randale is happy because a tiny little girl came to his house the morning of the 12th to make its abode. All are reported doing well.
D. C. Brownell has returned from his trip through Eastern Oregon. Mr. Brownell was absent about a month and reports having had a very pleasant time.
Misses Annie Fiestler and Lucy George, of Kerby were in the city last week visiting friends. Both of these young ladies will likely go to Ashland to attend the Normal at the beginning of the year.
Prof. W. H. Haughton of Placer, is in town for a few days on business. Mr. Haughton informs us that he will be ready for a big run in his mine as soon as there is plenty of water.
Delos Axell, a cousin of our fellow-townsmen Major Axell, has recently been elected to the New York legislature by a large majority. The major is not the only Axell trusted by the people, with office.
Miss Arella Titus who has just closed a successful term of school at Selma, came into town Tuesday enroute to Ashland her home. The directors asked Miss Titus to take the school next spring which is evidence that she must have given satisfaction.
Rosa Williams who went to Skagway with a Mr. D. Stinebaugh returned to the city Monday morning. Mr. Williams reports that Mr. Stinebaugh is getting along nicely in his business at that place. The weather he reports as being very similar to Oregon at the present time.
Hon. H. H. Gilroy who has been reading clerk for the United States senate for 18 years, was in the city last week. While in this city, Mr. Gilroy and wife who accompanied him, were royally entertained in the evening by his old friend A. J. Barlow, at whose house a very pleasant time was had in company with a few invited guests.
Judge Hanna was down from Jackson Monday and held court. Sam White of Kerby, was tried for contempt of court, he having been accused by one Carl Conrad Earnest Schoskow for trespassing upon a mine belonging to Schoskow contrary to the orders of the court. The judge after listening to the evidence decided that there was no reason for fining Mr. White.
Mr. Lee Fay, wife and eight children, together with Mr. and Mrs. Ryal and three boys, and Miss Mary Bice, a lady friend, arrived in the city from Freeborn, Minnesota, last Sunday morning. They have come to Josephine county to see if they can find a suitable location for a future home. After spending one winter in this mild climate, we are quite sure that they will never return to the bleak regions of Minnesota to spend another winter.

Trouble on the Coast.

On the front page of this issue our readers will find an account of the killing of Al Coolidge by the Van Pelts of Chetco, which we copied from the Del Norte Record of Crescent City. There has been blood existing between these parties and their friends on both sides for some time and the serious aspects of it culminated in the death of Al Coolidge as aforesaid. From the latest authentic reports we learn that the end is not yet. The Van Pelts are fortified in their house with a good supply of guns and ammunition. Indians and half breeds are on the way from California to reinforce them. They refuse to surrender and the people have patrolled the streets and roads. Late reports still come to the effect that seven of the party have escaped, but a desperate effort will be made to bring them to justice. Some of the best citizens fear that much blood will be shed before the criminals are in the hands of the officers of the law. It is creating great excitement in Curry county and in and around Crescent City.

The Oregonian of the 15th, credited the Chetco land affair to Josephine county. That reminds us of the German newspaper which located Illinois in the city of Chicago.

Notice of Dissolution.
The Hardware firm of Jewell and Dodge is this day, October 9th, 1897, dissolved. All accounts must be settled without delay. JEWELL & DODGE.

S. choir will direct the song service, calling to their assistance any needed help and Rev. Mr. Pope with close with a benedictory prayer.
J. A. CRITCHFIELD.

A Little Child Killed.

The sad news was received in this city Tuesday, of the accidental killing of a little three-year old child of Mr. Chas. Gray of Merline on Monday of this week. The nine year old boy was playing with his father's rifle when its contents were accidentally discharged striking his sister in the head killing her instantly. An old gentleman who was in an adjoining room heard the shooting and went in to see what the trouble was and found the results as above stated. He went immediately to a neighbor to inform the parents. While he was gone, the boy, realizing what he had done, ran away without taking hat, coat or shoes. He reached Merline about dark and told the section men that his father had whipped him. He spent the night at Merline and next morning the section men supposing he would go home left him, but the little fellow did not return home and at last report had not been seen.
