The lecture of Dr. Jenkins of Grants Pass before the G. A. R. on Tuesday night, was perhaps the finest address ever delivered to a Eugene audience, on memorial topics. The factor is almost an ideal orator. The audience were at times worked up to the highest point of patriotism and excitement. And when he singled out different members of the Eugene G. A. R. boys for his inimitable analysis—the fun was simply immense. The lecture was a great success.—Oregon State Journal.

To Our Trade.
We have just put in a full line of the celebrated Yale brand Coffee. These are the very choicest goods obtainable on the market, and are noted the world over for their fine flavor and rich aroma. Hall—Slagle.
The marriage of Mr. C. H. Hall and Miss Minnie Slagle last Thursday, was an interesting event enjoyed by many friends of the bride and groom and will be long remembered by those present. While Mr. August Meyer played a wedding march, the happy couple entered the parlor and stood under a beautiful floral bell, where the words were said which made them husband and wife, and where, after the ceremony, they received the congratulations of friends. Refreshments were then served, after which we listened to recitations by Miss Mattie Jess and Mr. Hamaker, all of which was greatly appreciated and enjoyed.
Those present were: John Slagle, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Hamaker, Mr. and Mrs. Loveland, Mrs. M. K. Younker, George Younker, August Meyer, Mr. Ducommun, Miss Mattie Jess, G. W. and John W. Meek and O. Pall. Many nice presents were received by the bride and groom.

It is very reliably reported that a very prominent lady of Grants Pass, while attending the Endeavor Convention in Portland last week, unintentionally made a place to her credit a good practical joke that is worth giving to her friends at home. The young lady, who knows quite well the streets of Portland informed her lady friends that she would escort them as guide when going to their meetings. But she, interested in conversation, failed to keep her bearings and of course became lost as it were. She thought to extricate herself from the difficulty by stepping into a corner store to ask the proprietor, "Where am I?" The genial goodnatured jew, if jew he were, kindly informed the lady and she, after thanking him, marched with her company of Grants Pass ladies around the block, and as they had traveled four blocks the guide thought she would better inquire again and so she did, but was made to blush exceedingly when she discovered that she had stepped into the same store and asked the same proprietor the same identical question. But we will not tell.

Good Advice

Come to the Sugar Pine Store for a complete celebration outfit. We can please you.

Come to the Fourth of July Celebration anyway if you have to let some other store please you.

Don't think you need to work a stroke that day, for you don't.

Remember, the American Eagle should scream louder than ever before this year and your voice is needed to help celebrate.

Come to Grants Pass the Fourth and give up one day to enjoying the fact that you live on Uncle Sam's ranch.
