Rubber Boots Department.

Probably the most troublesome and expensive question the miner has to contend with is "what shall I wear for the winter season and how can I best serve my individual ends in dressing economically and producing the best services." We have studied this question carefully and pride ourselves upon having gone a long way in meeting these demands, and feel confident our large and complete stock of goods will make it profitable, as well as pleasant, to make selections from us. In every instance we have bought the best, while possibly for a low cost a cheaper article could have been substituted. However, when you consider the worse tests you must place upon these goods, you will see that the best is more too good. We are also over-traders, and will have it if quality prices and fair dealing will merit it.
