Council Proceedings.

Council met in regular session last Thursday evening. Councilmen Fay and Rummage being reported absent. The following bills were presented and allowed: Co. H., O. N. G., hall rent, $3.00; Dr. F. W. Van Dyke, medical attendance, $80; Mrs. H. Thornton, board of prisoners during year, $9.50; Oregon Mining Journal, printing, $17.30; S. P. D. & L. Co., lumber, $5.06; John Patrick, street superintendent, $43.00; Geo. P. Futch, postage and stationery, $11; F. Futch, mule, $14.25; Geo. Green, $2.50.
The special committee on sewer extension reported on the proposed change from the route as originally located, to run straight through on Fifth street to C. The committee submitted the opinion that, as a portion of the pipe had already been laid on the alley leading from Fifth to Sixth street, it would not be now advisable to make the change, as it would necessitate either the loss of the pipe or entail the expense and risk damage in taking it up, and that the estimated additional expense in taking it to the schoolhouse would be $800. A long discussion followed in which the two routes were presented in all aspects, with the result that Fifth street was generally conceded to be the proper street for the sewer main, and a motion was passed to that effect.

An ordinance closing the alley in block 29 of the Railroad addition was read for the first time. An ordinance closing the alley in block 14, also in the Railroad addition, was read the third time and submitted to the council. Councilman Feteh expressed the opinion that it would be a better plan to vacate it for nine years, as some one might buy the property and wish it opened. This contingency seeming unlikely to the majority of the council, the original ordinance was passed unanimously. The block in question is the one occupied by the S. P. D. & L. and Williams Bros. factories.
An ordinance providing for a $6000 bond issue to meet the expenses constructing the sewer system was read the third time. It provides for the issue of 12 bonds of the amount of $500 each, drawing interest at 5 per cent from May 1, 1900, and payable at the office of the city treasurer on May 1, 1910. The ordinance was passed unanimously.
The annual report of the street superintendent was read, accepted and placed on file.

It was suggested that it would be a good plan for the street superintendent to take a team or cart and clean up the refuse of certain alleys at intervals of one or two weeks. Referred to street committee.
G. I. Brown requested to be relieved as engineer for the sewer. He agreed to set the grade stakes on Fifth street on the new route, and his request was granted.
Council adjourned till the next regular meeting, May 17.

Summer Resorts.
To the mountains our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain the human machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the seashore proves very seductive while it lasts, but many have deplored that the annual outflow should provide not only radical change of air and surroundings, but also such stimulation of flagging energies as will provide brain and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountain climb and ramble, the balsam of the mountain pines, and the clear, unadulterated mountain air.
In this direction the Shasta Route now affords a wealth of attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, and where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf or play with equal facility.
Or if you look for healing waters, none can be found, hot or cold, than at the springs of Ashland, Colasta, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles.
Before visiting Europe, the people of the Northwest should see the glories of Yosemite valley, and the wondrous groves of Mariposa and Calaveras; the Parkians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts.
Send to Mr. C. H. Marcham, General Passenger Agent, Portland, for new booklets on Coast, Shasta Springs, McCleod River, Yosemite, and excursion rates thereto.

Leland Sitings.
We have a few cases of the grippe, but none of them serious.
Moffat & Reed have struck a big ledge which is showing up well.
C. D. Burnett was up to our burg last week laying in supplies. He has a promising ledge.
The railroad company has commenced work on the new spur to tap a large body of timber in the vicinity of Tunnel 9.
Some of the wood cutters have quit work and have gone hunting after the precious metal. Mr. Cox wants more men to cut wood.
Our hotel is well patronized. Leland will have a backstreet in the near future. The people as a rule are healthy especially the ladies.
Sol Abraham has sold his body of timber to a Wisconsin man, Mr. Kinney, who will cut the timber all into railroad wood. Times will be lively here this summer.
A large amount of freight is going to Mt. Keuben. Leland sends out a large amount of goods to the mines. It is in a good location for miners to order goods from.

There is a good deal of quartz prospecting being done in this vicinity, so we think some good ledges will be found in the near future. The placer miners are busily cleaning up. They have had a good, long run.
We are having nice weather with frequent showers, good for vegetation of all kinds. There are very good prospects for a large crop of grain and hay. Garden vegetables are somewhat backward.

Look at your Face.
And see if it is reflecting health or disease. Karl's Clover Root Tea beautifies the face and complexion, and assures perfect health. All druggists, 25c, and 50c. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory.

The Scissors.

A dispatch from the seat of war says that "rain interferes with Lord Roberts' plans." A few other things—big, bulky things, with whiskers—probably do also.—S. F. Bulletin.

Washington Letter.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, April 30.
Little more important legislation, outside of the regular appropriation bills, need be expected from this session of congress. This has been indicated on the floor of the senate, where the power of the minority is not a tradition, but an insurmountable fact. This is presidential year and the minority scent politics in every measure of importance. In other presidential years, the majority has fought for measures, not to pass them but to emphasize political issues; but this year, the majority seems to regard fighting unnecessary for its purpose and to be anxious to hurry the necessary business through and adjourn. This is the situation today. A single speech on either side may upset all calculations and precipitate a political fight, which may lengthen the session beyond the early June days in which adjournment is now confidently expected.

The house will this week take up and pass the Nicaragua canal bill, and Senator Morgan is confident that it will pass the senate, but others are not so confident. It is an open secret in Washington that the administration would, for several reasons prefer that the senate let the bill unacted upon at the present session, although it will not go to the extent of openly antagonizing a measure that is so popular, but there are tricks in all trades, and it will be an easy matter for experienced parliamentarians to so manipulate the business of the senate that the canal bill will not get to a vote in the senate, at the present session, without seeming to be seeking to delay that measure.

It is denied by officials of the department of state that any intimation has been received of objection on the part of Russia or of any other European government, to pressure being exerted by the government to compel the sultan of Turkey to pay the claims for American missionary property destroyed by Turks.
There has been much gossip because of the nomination of the president and confirmation by the senate of Rev. John J. Grimond, of Minnesota, a Catholic priest, to be United States consul at Santos, Brazil. About the only reason for the gossip appears to be that no other Catholic priest has ever been given a place in our consular or diplomatic service. An official connected with the department of state, said of that phase of the matter, "A United States Consul's only duties are commercial, and if Father Grimond is the first Catholic priest to be given the position, it is probably only because he is the first one who has applied with support enough to attract the favorable notice of the appointing powers, as the selection of ministers of other denominations to be consuls has been quite common, and no other reason exists to my knowledge for discriminating against the Catholic clergy. In this particular case, it is probable that American merchants doing business with Brazil, asked for the appointment, believing that it would be good policy to have their commercial interests represented by a Catholic in a country where the influential elements are Catholic." It is the Catholics who are doing the most talking about this appointment, and some of them are predicting that the church authorities will interfere and prevent Father Grimond accepting the position.
The vote of 52 against and 3 for the motion of Senator Pettus, of Alabama, to send a resolution declaring Senator Scott, of West Virginia, entitled to his seat, back to the committee on elections, with instructions to investigate further, makes it certain that the senate as a body, composed, fully accepts the doctrine that the senate has no legal right to go behind the election of a senator by a state legislature. The three dissenters were Senators Morgan and Pettus, of Alabama, and Turner, of Washington.
Under the rules of the senate, it is impossible to force a vote upon any measure opposed by a determined minority. Senator Jones, of Ark. the leader of the democrats, has publicly stated the army reorganization bill, which provides for making General Miles a lieutenant-general, and General Corbin a major-general, for increasing the artillery branch of the regular army, and for doubling the number of cadets at the West Point military academy, will not be allowed to pass at this session of the senate. The administration has been pressing this bill for some time, and it was to quiet some of the opposition there to that the promotion of General Miles, who is not a favorite of the administration, was included there in.

Considerable interest has been displayed in congressional circles in an official statement of General Wood, showing that 60,000 men in Cuba have registered themselves as citizens of Spain, temporarily, residing on the island, in accordance with the clause of the Paris treaty, giving all foreign born residents of Cuba, one year to decide whether they would retain their allegiance to their mother country, or become citizens of Cuba. It is somewhat surprising to most persons that so many should have chosen to remain subjects of Spain, which will shut them out of any participation in the government of Cuba when our military government is withdrawn.

Good and Bad of Tea.
Among the cups that cheer but do not inebriate" tea and coffee stand prominent.
Like most things in this world, especially like most stimulants, tea has its good and its bad side. When taken in moderation, and by one with whom it does not disagree, tea is a stimulant and restorative, relieving mental and bodily fatigue, promoting intellectual activity, and causing a most agreeable sense of well-being or even exhilaration.
When one feels cold, the heat and the alkaloid caffeine—or theine—in a cup of tea act as stimulants to the heart, increasing the rapidity of the circulation and promoting the warmth of the body. On the other hand, hot tea is asserted to be cooling in hot weather by reason of the profuse perspiration which it induces.
The evil effects of overindulgence in tea are greater than the good effects just mentioned. Taken in excessive quantity, or even in moderate quantity by one with whom it does not agree, tea causes marked dyspeptic and nervous disturbances. Tea drunkards suffer from catarrh of the stomach, flatulence, inactivity of the bowels, or sometimes the reverse—palliation of the heart, nervous quiver, muscular twitchings and weakness.

Some people, who can usually drink tea without any evil consequences, find that they cannot do so if they happen to be worried or in mental distress; at such times the beverage, instead of cheering, aggravates the worry and adds to the misery of indigestion. Some of the dyspeptic troubles produced by tea are doubtless due to the tannin which is contained in it in varying amounts, according to the kind and quality, and which is extracted from the leaves especially by long steeping or by boiling.—Youth's Companion.

A Good Thing
Our Great-Grandmother's garrets contained the same herbs of all healing found in Karl's Clover Root Tea. They gave our ancestors strength, kept their blood pure, and will do the same for you if you say so. Price 25c and 50c.

The University of California is looking to Oregon for fossils. Of course it wants the kind that nature produces. The other kind has been so thoroughly eliminated that the human fossil has practically become extinct.—Eugene Register.
Queen Victoria has given the name of Patrick to her newest great-grandchild. That is to please Ireland. She wants to be friendly with the United States, therefore we have the right to expect that the next of the royal candidates will bear the name of Samuel.—Tillamook Headlight.

General Longstreet is to be pensioned as a veteran of the Mexican war, in which conflict he served as a United States major. The little subsequent episode which gave the gallant old fighter the title of major-general somehow doesn't seem to figure in the bill now before congress. Our country is great enough to forget as well as to remember.—Oregon Statesman.

It was said the capture of Crooze would dismay the Boers, that the taking of Bloemfontein would dishearten them, and that the death of Joubert would demoralize them; but it appears Lord Roberts is finding them more lively and aggressive than ever, and it is probable that if they suffer a few more losses they will get their dander up and whip everything British in sight.—S. F. Call.
Secretary Root's declaration that we may some day have to fight to uphold the Monroe doctrine has caused more talk than it should have done. As a matter of fact, the thing was understood in that way by old Monroe himself and it was for that reason he established the doctrine and stood by it.—S. F. Call.
McClure's magazine for May gives an intimate, vivid presentation of General Lawton as a man and a soldier, with special reference to his Philippine campaigns, in an article by his close associate in the Philippines, Professor Dean C. Worcester. The article is illustrated with a series of portraits of Lawton, showing him at different ages from 17 to 56, and with other pictures. An article by Professor Simon Newcomb tells all about the time and course of the total eclipse of the sun which is to occur on May 28th, and also what astronomers have previously learned about such eclipses and what they hope to learn by this one. An article by Ray Stannard Baker retells the story of "The New Prosperity"—a prosperity that within two years brought farmers, merchants, manufacturers, and workmen of almost every kind such an accession of income as they had never experienced before, and greatly raised the country's rating in the financial calendar of the world. Dr. Watson ("Ian Maclaren") writes of the relations of Jesus to the Samaritans and Pharisees, and of the social feud between these two classes. The paper is fully illustrated by C. K. Linson, four of the illustrations being in color.

Tortured a Witness.
Intense suffering was endured by witness T. D. Martin, of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence: "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for four years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for Coughs, Colds, and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. It will stop the absolutely curable Consumption. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at W. F. Kremer's Drug Store."

Any one who is contemplating attending the Normal at Ashland will do well to correspond with the COURIER.

There is a rush this week to register and possibly nearly the whole number of voters may yet get their names on the book before it closes next Tuesday. The voter will facilitate the work in a great degree if he will acquaint himself with the description of his residence; if in town, with lot and block numbers, if in the country, with section, township and range.
