The selection of Harry Lewis as nominee for sheriff, placed in the field an active, enterprising, popular young man, who is widely known for thoroughness and reliability in any employment in which he may be engaged. Wherever he is known, and there are not few portions of the county where he is not, he is favorably known and the voters have well placed confidence that if the affairs of the sheriff's office are placed in his keeping, they will be administered creditably, carefully and to the best satisfaction of the public.

The interest of this election centers in the office of representative and W. H. Hampton is making a winning run. The reason of the weakness of the regular candidate is that he stands as the representative and exponent of extreme centralized partyism. The day of the dyed-in-the-wool, "voter-straight" partisan is past and the fact should be recognized. The personal animosity between Mr. Hampton during the past week and the many garbled and misleading statements advanced prove only the straits to which those opposing him are forced. When the mud-cart drives up, the people know that matters are becoming serious.

The nomination of E. A. Booth as joint senator for Josephine, Douglas and Lane counties is a good selection. Mr. Booth has extensive business interests in all three counties and is well known throughout all southern Oregon. He is a successful and able man, progressive and forceful, and a worker. Probably there is no other man in this district fitted to give it better or more able representation than is Mr. Booth. The interests of the district demand that we have to represent us in the senate men who are identified with the important industries of the section, who understand its needs and the best methods of furthering the interests of the people. The identification of Mr. Booth with the industries and business interests of this county is a sufficient guarantee that his efforts in the legislature will be wholly for the furtherance of the county's interests.

The administration of the office of county treasurer in the past two years has been of such a character as to command the most complete satisfaction of the people of this county. J. T. Taylor, who has made so creditable a record, and who now comes before the people as a candidate for re-election on June 4, is a man of absolutely unquestionable integrity and reliability and if honor is the reward of merit, he should unquestionably be re-elected in the treasurer's chair. He is, outside of his qualifications for that particular office, a citizen of sterling worth and a man who always upholds right and clean principles. He is a man of business ability and in the discharge of his duties has never been less than faithful and conscientious to the smallest detail. He has fully deserved all the confidence which is accorded him by the people of this county, and for a man to take care of the county funds during the next two years, no better selection could possibly be made.

There are many commendable things to be said for C. B. Watson, district attorney, who is now candidate for re-election. He is the most economical man in the county, who never holds that office in this district. He does not bring a case for the mere sake of having it in the courts, but uses his judgment in the matter and presents only those cases in which the evidence justifies a reasonable possibility of conviction. He conducts his prosecutions with ability, which his long term of legal experience, much of it in criminal cases, has made second to that of no lawyer in the district. One feature of his practice deserves especial mention, and that is his courteous treatment of witnesses on the stand. He never adopts bulldozing or insulting tactics in examinations as is the exasperating and reprehensible habit of too many attorneys, and never forgets to be a gentleman in or out of court. If this quality were made more of a consideration for legal preference, a clearer atmosphere would pervade our courtrooms.

As the election draws nearer, the comparative strength of the different candidates begins to be more distinct and apparent, and a probable forecast of a part of the election may be made with some degree of accuracy. Among all the candidates of all the parties now in the field, Roy Bartlett is one of the very strongest and most popular and it is safe to predict that his support in the coming election will be by no means confined to the republican vote which he will receive almost in entirety, but members of all parties will unite in his support. Candidates who wish to eliminate his success may study his example. His strength lies in the fact that he has not waited till two weeks before election to begin his campaign. He has presented it with vigor throughout his whole term of office and his method is one which is worthy of the consideration of politicians. He is faithful, thorough and excellent work in the clerk's office, that he has well merited and deserved the approval which is now so apparent. He has taken the sure and substantial way to popularity by effectually proving his competence and worth and such a record as his is irrefragable to all assails. He stands on the soundest political footing, the record of an efficient and thoroughly satisfactory officer.

Post Office Building.

Total Registration.	Gold Hill Cleanings.
Following is the complete registration for the various precincts as compared to the vote in 1898:	The local McKinley club has about 90 members and the Bryan club 160.
North Grants Pass, 305	Several new and substantial residences are in process of construction at this place.
South Grants Pass, 269	Joe. Hammersley, the rising young attorney of Gold Hill, has been confined to his bed for some days.
West Grants Pass, 258	The new depot at Gold Hill is nearly completed. It is 40x125 feet in size. The old depot will be utilized as a freight warehouse.
Meritt, 144	Gold Hill is a center of political interest at present. The "candidate" is an ever present quantity. Four resident candidates and a few transients keep the political cauldron agitated.
Lucky Queen, 15	Chas. Young has secured control of the Gold Hill hotel. It is his purpose to refurnish the building throughout in first-class style and to personally supervise its management hereafter. Mr. Young never does anything by halves and his association with the enterprise is a guarantee that will be all sufficient to the traveling public.
Wells creek, 112	Geo. M. Williams, superintendent of the Gold Dredge Josephine near Waldo, came in on Friday, bringing with him gold which the proceeds of a run with the big machine. The returns are very satisfactory and the ground is amply fulfilling all expectations.
Leland, 128	Marion Veatch was in town Thursday and Friday of last week when his mining property at Galice where he has had a very successful season. Mr. Veatch is working a proposition which is peculiar in its nature, though very profitable. A good many years ago a portion of the immense high channel now operated by Alexander & Bent was opened up by way of a steep gulch into Galice creek. When the flood of water from the mine above was poured down the gulch, it soon caused a series of landslides, hundreds of tons of dirt and rock sliding in from all sides. Parts of the channel itself, gravel, bedrock, and in some cases, the sluice boxes with their accumulations of gold, broke away and mixed themselves in a heterogeneous mass along the bottom of the gulch. When the ground immediately contiguous to the head of the gulch was worked out, this portion of the channel was abandoned and lay idle for many years. A few years ago Mr. Veatch opened this gulch at its junction with Galice creek, filling it up with a good equipment of ditch and pipe and plant. He has a good water right from the right hand bank of Galice creek. The gold comes from three distinct sources: The tailings from the old workings, which contained many unpurified pieces of gold-bearing cement, now considerably decomposed, the unworked, broken down gravel from the high channels, and the gold which the gulch naturally carries. The working is somewhat difficult on account of the character of the ground. Logs and huge detached slabs of bedrock are found imbedded in the diggings, but the gold is there in quantity and the ground pays well.
Galice, 58	Woodville Chips.
State creek, 144	"Pap" Phillips, the local hotel man, is enjoying a fair patronage at his hostelry. Mr. Witt, an aged citizen of this vicinity, passed away very suddenly last week.
Murphy, 89	Word has been received of the death of Mrs. C. Whiteman, a former pioneer resident of this locality.
Williams, 126	W. V. Jones, formerly postmaster and always the merchant of Woodville, is passing over the counters of his new store a choice line of goods, at figures that attract the trade.
Althouse, 84	T. H. Bedford, who was recently called to California by the fatal illness of his aged father, has been appointed administrator of the elder Mr. Bedford's estate. He will remain in California for some time.
Kerby, 171	The Latest Yarn.
Waldo, 95	A Pittsburg drummer "tells his new yarn." I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily and a few doses of the Balsam always makes me a well man. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidently what I do when I take cold. At drug stores, 25c and 50c.
Walden, 71	A Minister's Mistake.
Mt. Reuben, 39	A city minister was recently handed a notice to be read from his pulpit. Accompanying it was a clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the matter. The clergyman started to read the extract and found that it began: "Take Kemp's Balsam, the best Cough Cure."
Oak Flat, 24	To Cure La Grippe in Two Days.
Total, 2075	Take LAXATIVE DRUGGIST TABLETS. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on every box.

Mr. Colby Speaks.
In the last issue of the Observer the statement was made that I am drawing a pension of $24 per month for total disability. I wish to say in answer to that misleading and clearly malicious statement, that I am drawing a pension, but not for total disability. The total disability pension is $30 per month. My pension is for disability from manual labor and I receive it for injuries sustained in the war. I lay for six months and 21 days in the rebel prison at Danville, and if any one does not know what that means, they may find out by reading the history of that place. I drew no pension until I became disabled from manual labor, and one reason I wish to be elected to the sheriff's office is because there is no manual labor attached to it. It would be a honor for a man to be shot out from a position of this kind because he draws a pension and has been a defender of his country. General Black was commissioner of pensions and drew $100 a month pension and $5000 a year salary. Corporal Tanner drew $72 per month pension and $2000 a year as commander of pension. Judge Long draws $72 per month pension and $2000 a year salary as judge. It would seem that I have a right to run for an office that pays $1000 a year salary and requires no manual labor. I wish the people of Josephine county to do me justice in this matter. My comrades of the war and my many friends among the old volunteer soldiers know the hardships I have been through, which have entitled me to a pension. J. H. COLBY.

Memorial Sunday Services.
There will be union memorial services held in Newman M. E. church at 11 o'clock a. m. on next Sunday, May 27, 1900. Preaching by Rev. S. F. Jenkins, to which all denominations and the public in general are most cordially invited. Members of the U. A. R. and W. R. C. will meet at headquarters 10:30 o'clock sharp, and march in a body to the church. COMMITTEE G. A. B.

Dining Notes.

A. H. Miller, formerly owner of the Eureka mine on Soldiers creek, has gone to Alaska to try his fortunes there.

J. F. Wiscarver, of Mr. Mansfield, arrived here Thursday evening and went out Friday to look after his property in the Sucker creek district.

Schriepf Bros. of Williams creek were in town last week, with a hand-some cleanup from their mine in that section.

A valuable deposit of cinnabar was found last week on Pickett creek by John Farmer. Samples of the ore show here are of remarkable richness.

B. O. McCulloch spent some time last week at the Jewett mine, where systematic development work is going on. Mr. Healey of San Francisco is manager.

Sexton & Niday, who are operating the property known as the old Wines placer on Jump-off-Joe, brought in a good cleanup from that placer last week.

G. H. Major, who has been in Waldo lately, representing the English Canadian, company, operating the dredge Josephine, left for Portland last Wednesday.

J. G. Davidson, real estate and mining man of Portland, arrived here last Wednesday and went out to the Williams district. He was accompanied by Mrs. Davidson.

J. A. Talsma made a visit last week to the Elder copper property near Waldo, which is now being developed. A large quantity of the ore is being sacked and will be hauled to this place and shipped to San Francisco.

C. W. Thompson, superintendent of the Victor Jr. mine, was in town last week. The mine is running steadily night and day, employing a force of some 50 men. The camp has grown to the proportions of a town.

Geo. M. Williams, superintendent of the Gold Dredge Josephine near Waldo, came in on Friday, bringing with him gold which the proceeds of a run with the big machine. The returns are very satisfactory and the ground is amply fulfilling all expectations.

Marion Veatch was in town Thursday and Friday of last week when his mining property at Galice where he has had a very successful season. Walden Notes.

The Hampton placer mine under the direct personal supervision of Wm. H. Hampton, is yielding a good profit to its owners.

A. Osborne, a local celebrity, is canvassing the community in the interest of the Knights of Maccabees. Mr. Osborne is in many of the qualities of a successful solicitor.

Wilson & Vitor, enterprising merchants of this place, have a lucrative trade in general merchandise, in conjunction with which they are operating a neat, tidy hotel—too small for the trade.

The Lewis placer mine near here, that employs a large force of men, is an unquestioned success. Successful miners are, as a rule, reticent in regard to their business, but enough can be gleaned from surface croppings to assure one of the stability of the proposition.

Your correspondent visited the Greenback mining camp. This camp was established two years ago, since which time a ten stamp mill has been erected with all modern improvements, several miles of wagon road, comfortable quarters for help, and in fact everything essential to a successful, up-to-date mining proposition. The mine and mill never close, employing a force of 50 men, who have never missed a shift when they came to work and never a regular pay day. The Greenback is truly the first well established mill site on the great highway to quartz mining in southern Oregon. Mr. C. W. Thompson, the able superintendent, is the embodiment of hospitality. A post office has been established at the Greenback camp to be known as Alta. C. W. Thompson has received commission as postmaster. Some 15 families are located here. Mr. Geo. Hyde's family being the latest arrival. Public school opened May 15 with Miss Wrisley of Jackson county in charge. A store carrying a supply of goods suited to the local wants is another recent addition.

Williams Items.

(Received too late for last issue.)

The pleasant weather is greatly appreciated by the farmers.

Mr. Suman returned to Grants Pass Saturday.

Dr. Moore has been called several times to see Mrs. Shoemaker, and now resides her out of danger.

Children's Day will be duly observed at the M. E. church south, Sunday, May 29, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Robert Siles is now convalescent after a severe attack of pneumonia.

Thos. Cramer spent a few days on Williams creek last week.

Mr. Colby of your city spent Monday in our valley, testing his political interests in the coming campaign.

David O. Hayes and Nine Reynolds were seen on our streets Thursday.

M. A. Siles came up from Wolf Creek Sunday to spend the day at home with his parents.

We are sorry to learn that John Stevens is unimproving in health.

Presiding Elder Shangle will preach at the Kennedy chapel Sunday, May 20, at 11 o'clock. Those who attend will be rewarded by hearing something good.

Messrs. Gede, Frank and Minis Howell came from Evans creek last week and spent a few days with their parents.

THE SCISSORS.

Emperor William has appointed himself Field Marshal. Promotion comes slowly, as a rule, in the German army as elsewhere, but modest merit, if it can only attract the attention of authority, is always sure to be recognized and rewarded.—S. F. Bulletin.

A rival to the Standard Oil company has loomed into sight in the Wyoming oil fields. But it would be safe to predict that it will be swallowed like all the other rivals that have preceded before it gets to be full grown.—Fillmore Herald.

The Canadian Government has just taken a census of Yukon territory, and as the count shows a population of only 16,000, it is evident that a good many more of the boomers have managed to escape than was supposed.—S. F. Call.

Is this Plague Enough?

If you have a nagging cough, and are losing flesh, go to a drug store, and get a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Care. Take two thirds of it, and then if you are not better, return the bottle to the druggist, and he will return your money. Isn't that fair? No one could ask more. 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle. W. F. Kremer, Druggist.

Piano for sale on monthly installments. For particulars address F. O. box 406, Grants Pass, Ore. If you want a good piano attend to this week.

Worse than War.

Handreds are killed in war, but hundreds of thousands are killed by consumption. There would be no deaths at all caused by this terrible disease, if people could be made to understand that Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure is a sure remedy. It takes 7 to 10 early stages, 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle. Druggists will refund the money if a cure is not effected.

THE FRENCH IN MOROCCO.

Recent Events Show That It Is Their Design to Obtain Supreme Influence.

While most Englishmen are concentrating their attention upon events in South Africa there are signs that the northwest corner of the mighty continent will be the scene of a struggle for supremacy. The French had seized Ain Sefra, when when down to the present the Turkeys a further trial of strength was to be had. The French had a large force of the cases of the Tonat district, its wild inhabitants pay no tribute to the sultan, nor does his writ run in the territory, but while he has some claim to the country France has none, says the Chicago Chronicle.

France is steadily encroaching upon Morocco, working all ways at once. From Oujda and Tlemcen, in Algeria, the rail runs to Ain Sefra, and these France could pour an army into Fez, which is within comparatively easy reach.

The sheikhs of the holy city of Wazzan, who claim descent from the prophet and have a very great following in Morocco, are under French protection. Without an order from the French consul it is very difficult for an Englishman to visit Wazzan. France has extended her protection among the most turbulent of the Moroccan fighting tribes. She recruits her Moroccan army from among them, and in return for military service on the frontier gives protection to them and to their families. The Rif Arabs, who are notoriously valiant and careful, have some 20 per cent. of their fighting men under the care of France in return for an average term of one year's service. In connection with this French military mission to the sultan's court. Within the last 18 months France has given another unmistakable proof of her intention to extend her influence in the ill-governed country of Muley Abdul Aziz. Through her representatives and, some say, at her expense a Russian embassy has been established at Tangier, but so far as the embassy can discover there is but one Russian subject in Tangier.

A crisis is inevitable in Morocco. The government is going from bad to worse; corruption is ineradicable; private enterprise, justice is bought and sold; weak tribes are destroyed without mercy, strong ones are bribed as in old times bribed the Danes; you can say nothing worse to a man than "My Allah send the sultan to you!"—i. e., may you be robbed of all you have and cast into prison, there to rot. The sultan is not yet a man, and he has a small intellect endowed with the strong man, Abu Hanou, may be stricken down at any moment. Rebellion, famine and misery untold and unimagined stalk hand in hand through a land that yields in its point of agricultural and mineral possibilities to no part of Africa.

The end may come to-morrow, it can be no more than a few years distant. France is prepared, and though she is not prepared by any other power would cause such a war as may not be contemplated without horror. It must not be imagined that all the French preparations, involving an immense expenditure of time and labor, have been undertaken for nothing.

"GLENCOE MODDER."

The South African News That Has Been Destroyed on a Stinky English Infest.

One of the effects of the present war in South Africa is to be found in the registers of births in the several districts of England, some very peculiar names, moving out of the Transvaal, amongst them being destroyed by patriotic but inconsiderate parents on their children. In a populous town in Lancashire, for instance, there is a little boy belonging to the common name of "Mafeking," given him in honor of his uncle, who formed one of the garrison of that town under Col. Buller. The name "Volunteer" has been given to children as evidence of the patriotic interest which has been taken in the departure of the "citizen soldiers" to the front.

The names of several of the leading engagements which have up to the present been fought figure prominently in these registers, such as "Glencoe," a very popular name for a boy just now; "Elandsdrange" (the full name of "Elandsdrange" having apparently proved too much of a mouthful), and "Jelmond," the last a favorite name for girls, while one boy living near London will have out in a few years' time to become the hard fate which added him with the name of "Glencoe Modder." With what must be looked upon as a daring anticipation of events, a girl in North London has just been registered as "Roberta Pretoria." Speaking of Pretoria reminds me that several children already bear that name, though so far as one has had the courage to name his offspring "Bloemfontein," "Kimberley," however, has been utilized several times.

Automobiles on the Township.

The haulage of boats by automobile along the canal between Brussels and Charleroi has demonstrated, after a long trial, that the new method of towing is three times quicker than horse traction. The automobile derives its energy from a railway compound of six lines, three of high tension (6,500 volts) and three of low tension, on which the trolleys run. The electricity is furnished by three dynamos, each of 125 horse power.—Chicago Chronicle.
