Society of the Presbyterian church held their monthly business and social meeting Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Coe. There was a large attendance and all spent an enjoyable evening. The reports of the delegates to the state convention were given in a very entertaining manner and were received with much interest. One of the most striking features of McClure's Magazine for June is a thrilling naval story of the Japanese-Chinese war by Adachi Kinonosuke, who is almost the only existing Japanese writer whose literary reputation has been established by his work in the English language. How the "Hiei" ran the gauntlet of the Chinese Squadron, how the valiant Yamaja fulfilled his dedication by his dying father to the service of the Emperor of Japan, all this is graphically and thrillingly told. The pictures are full of action and unusually effective. In addition to this, there are several other good short stories. There is also a true historical story by the Rev. C. T. Braly—the story of the greatest fight in the history of American patriots, Read's great fight in the "General Armstrong" against the British. One of the most exciting runaways which has occurred in the town happened on Monday. The team of large horses belonging to Willard Estes broke away from their fastenings and ran away down Sixth street. On the wagon were a set of dump boards, a bale of hay and a boy. When the team and wagon crossed the railroad track, they were going at a tremendous rate and the boy's head was thrown into the air as from a catapult. Boy, bale and boards obscured the sky and the spectators anticipated a fatal result. The young man escaped, however, with some severe bruises. The team continued down Sixth street at a desperate speed, crossed the bridge and were captured a short distance farther on. It happened that the bridge was clear.

Still Talking Shoes.
 Hot weather is coming on, and nine people out of ten have more or less trouble with their feet in hot weather. Their shoes are either too loose or too tight, keeping them in perfect misery from the time they get up in the morning until they go to bed at night. Now the strange thing about this is that this misery is all unnecessary, and in seventy-five cases out of one hundred it is the fault of the shoe and not the foot. If people would use the same degree of common sense in purchasing a shoe that they do in other matters of less importance there would be a great deal less trouble and misery in this world. When you want a pair of shoes do not be in too much of a hurry. Take time to have them fitted to your foot. Always buy your shoes of the largest and most reliable house in your town, and if hard to fit see that the oldest and most reliable salesman waits upon you and takes time to fit them properly, and in nearly every case you will find your feet never bother you. The best-known shoe in the United States is Pingree & Smith, sold only by R. L. Coe & Co.

Notice to Road Supervisors.
 To the road supervisors of the several road districts in Josephine County Oregon, gentlemen:—Necessity demands, that each and every one of you carefully examine the bridges and continuously observe in your districts, and see that on all legal public roads in such, that they are at all times in good and safe condition for use of the travel, and if any appear to need want little repairs please fix them; and if any are in dangerous conditions, then post notice at each approach thereof, and report immediately to the county court, so that immediate steps may be taken to repair such; so that the bridges may at all times be kept as near as possible in good and safe condition for the public travel. Very courteously yours,
 ABE AXTELL,
 County Judge.

Coming Events

Election.
 Monday was the day when hopes and fears culminated and late hour gasping in the balance. It was a lively finish to a lively though comparatively rational campaign. The town presented a very animated appearance with its groups of politicians and statesmen and the amount of political and governmental lore given to the breeze should suffice to operate this county government for the next ten years. The saloons dutifully closed their front doors in compliance with the law, yet there are some, we are informed, who managed to thread the devious ways that lead to the rear entrance. One old man completely overcome, "swaying under the influence," fell into the gutter, presenting a not altogether delectable sight, on our principal streets in broad daylight. His case was an exception, however, and the great mass of politicians and people persisted in seemingly behavior. Some heavy betting was done on the election, the losers thereby taking a lesson on the propriety of allowing sentiment to predominate over judgment. Times were lively in the evening when the returns began to come in and some of the candidates staid up all night to know their fate. It was soon apparent that the county had gone largely republican and further returns corroborated this fact. The republican ticket was elected, with the exception of the treasurer and the surveyor and possibly the commissioner. The latter contest is very close, the unofficial and partially uncertain estimate giving the election to Woodcock by about 2 majority. Bartlett's majority is very close to 400 and Lister, Booth and Savage could each have spared the other man a few hundred votes. Colvig and Crow had little margin. The indications at present point strongly to the election of Reames for district attorney. He received a large majority in Jackson county, Watson receiving small majorities in Josephine, Klamath and Lake. Booth has a comfortable plurality for joint senator and Tongue will have probably from 1000 to 2000 majority over Daly, Moody, in the Second district, will receive about 8000 majority. The republican state officers are elected and the legislature will be strongly republican.

Mt. Reuben Puzzled.
 The republicans of Mt. Reuben precinct, in their primary convention, nominated W. A. Klum for justice of the peace and myself for road supervisor. When they came to vote, they found that Klum was on the ticket for road supervisor and Karg was nowhere in sight. There seemed to be nothing to do but to elect the justice for road master. I wired to Grants Pass to find out how it came about, but all I could learn was that the official list read the same way as the ticket. I came up to Grants Pass Tuesday and I tried to find out how the justice could be elected supervisor, but could learn nothing of it. What I would like to find out is what became of the records of that convention. G. KARG.

Worse than War.
 Hundreds are killed in war, but hundreds of thousands are killed by consumption. There would be no deaths at all caused by this terrible disease, if people could be made to understand that Shiloh's Cough and Consumption cure is a sure remedy if taken in the early stages. 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle. Druggists will refund the money if a cure is not affected.
