ARE GOOD SOLDIERS.

The Employment of Maccabebes by Army in Philippines.

Render Efficient Service, Proving Their Bravery and Endurance as Soldiers—Cavalry Battalion to Be Organized.

The war department has just made public the report of Lieut. Matthew A. Batson, of the Fourth cavalry, in regard to the organization and operations of the Maccabebe scouts, who formed a part of the armies of Gen. Lawton and Gen. Young in the exciting campaigns in pursuit of Aguinaldo in northern Luzon. For his remarkable success with this military band of natives Lieut. Batson has been appointed a major of volunteers and placed in command of a cavalry battalion of Filipinos, to be immediately organized, with the Macabebe scouts as a nucleus. Maj. Batson's report is long and covers all the details of active operations of the Maccabebes from the time of their organization, September 1, to November 19, when he was obliged to relinquish command by reason of a serious wound of the left foot, received in an engagement at Aringay river. There were five companies of these native scouts, numbering about 600 in all, and they were uniformed, armed, equipped and treated in every other respect like United States troops. Many of them had seen previous service as noncommissioned officers in the Spanish army, under Gen. Blanco. These men were assigned to similar duties in Batson's command. They were intelligent, brave and hardy, and proved excellent soldiers. In order to avoid the possibility of mistaking their fire for that of the insurgents they were armed with United States magazine carbines, and to facilitate their movements over the numerous small streams through the islands they were supplied with several bancas, small native canoes. Inasmuch as they were unfamiliar with the English language, the American officers were compelled to communicate with them through an interpreter named Fernandez, who proved of great assistance. In closing his report Maj. Batson pays a high tribute to all the officers and men of his command, and says: "I think that this expedition fully demonstrated the loyalty, bravery and endurance of the Maccabebes as soldiers, and I recommend that a regiment of cavalry be organized from the Maccabebe tribe."

TREATMENT BY MUSIC.

New York Hospitals Introduce an Innovation in the Care of Their Patients.

Medical treatment by sound vibrations is to be introduced within a few weeks in many of the hospitals of New York city as a regular method for the cure of patients. A staff of prominent physicians will direct the movement and skilled musicians will be employed to execute the work. Foremost among the scientific men who are interested in the undertaking are Dr. George W. Jacoby, the alienist; Dr. Frederick Peterson, a neurologist; Dr. Pierce Bailey and Dr. C. A. Hurter. They are perfecting the organization of a society to be known as the St. Cecilia society of America. As an auxiliary, several prominent society women will organize to obtain funds to further the movement.

Dr. Peterson said he was not in a position to announce the actual organization of the Medico-Musical society until the meeting of the committees. In regard to its work, however, he said:

"Sound vibrations in music certainly act in a marked way upon certain forms of disease. For example, cases of insomnia, no matter how severe, are invariably relieved.

"I regard music not as a curative, but as a remedial agent. Its scientific application will assist medicine—not take its place."

MARRIAGE IN A STREET CAR.

The Ceremony Begins in Ohio and Is Finished in Kentucky.

Marriages on railroad trains, steamboats and various other vehicles of traffic are somewhat common, but the distinction is left to Covington, Ky., for a marriage on a street car. Car No. 228 of the Belt line had neared the suspension bridge about five o'clock the other afternoon when the passengers were startled by a colored man, garbed in the regulation preacher costume, who rose in his seat and, addressing himself to a gaudily dressed colored couple, said:

"Rise to your feet; now join hands."

This part happened in Ohio, but just as the preacher was saying the words: "I now pronounce you man and wife," the car was over the low-water mark, and the ceremony which began in Ohio ended in Kentucky.

The happy groom was Reabe Horn and the bride was Eliza Wood, of Warsaw, Ky. Rev. B. P. Burch, of the Lockland Baptist church, Cincinnati, performed the ceremony. No license for the marriage was procured in either Covington or Newport. The preacher being an Ohio citizen and licensed only to marry in that state makes the marriage somewhat doubtful.

MASTERFUL MAN WINS WIFE.

Seizes His Bride in the Sleigh of Rival and Drives to the Parson.

"I do not feel that I love you as once I did. Another man has won me and on Thursday afternoon I am to marry Phineas Sawyer."

Thus wrote Winnie Rogers to her trusting sweetheart, Nathan Lermond, then in Boston. It was on a recent Wednesday afternoon that Lermond received this note at his office in Boston. He is a man of action, and as a result the intended bride of another man is to-day his wife. He is happy, but the other man lies at death's door, with small chances of life. Winnie Rogers' people are wealthy and move in the highest social circles at Houlton, Me. She is 19 years old.

Lermond boarded a train within half an hour after he received Winnie's letter and got to Houlton at noon. An hour later he had reached the Sawyer home, 12 miles away, where Winnie was boarding while teaching school, his horse hardly able to stand. He arrived just in time to intercept the bridal couple as they were leaving for the church.

"Winnie," said Lermond, "you cannot marry that man. You first promised me and you must marry me. Get into my sleigh at once, for I am the only man you will marry to-day."

Young Phineas Sawyer sat like a statue by the side of his would-be bride. He could not utter a word. Lermond's horse, exhausted by the terrific driving, fell down and Sawyer, laboring under excitement, jumped out of his vehicle.

Hardly had he left the seat before Lermond took his place, and, lashing the horses with mighty strokes, drove toward the town of Linens with the frightened Winnie. They came back in an hour, and Winnie said that she was now Mrs. Lermond. Young Sawyer began to act strangely, moaning and crying for Winnie. He then went down behind the barn and tried to drown himself in a shallow pool. He may live.

FIGHT ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Efforts Being Made in England, Germany and Norway to Combat This Dread Disease.

Dr. Claus Hansen, of Bergen, recently delivered a lecture before the storthing, at Christiania, on the causes of tuberculosis and the fight against it. He said that during the 30 years of his own experience consumption had increased in the Bergen district 80 per cent. In the year 1896 54.5 per cent. of all deaths between 15 and 30 years of age were caused by tuberculosis, and statistics show that about 7,000 of the inhabitants of Norway die every year of this disease. In England, he continued, they have succeeded during the last 50 years in reducing one-half the number of tuberculosis cases, and physicians attribute this to the increasing cleanliness in English home life and the erection of consumptive hospitals.

The foremost endeavors in fighting tuberculosis should be to agitate for greater cleanliness in general; particularly should efforts be directed against the habit of expectorating. Statistics of consumptive sanitariums in Germany show that 66 1-5 per cent. of the inmates were able to work the first year after the cure, 60 per cent. after two years, 45 per cent. after three and 35 per cent. after four years.

On an average, it is estimated that 50 per cent. of the patients in sanitariums have their ability to work lengthened by one year. The advantages of public sanitariums for consumptives are so great that the German invalid insurance companies erect these institutions simply for reasons of economy.

TO TEST NEW INK.

Is for Cancellation of Government Stamps and Great Things Are Claimed for It.

Government officials believe they have discovered a cancellation ink which will be of great value to them. It has yet to be tested, however, and it may not meet with the success which its makers claim for it. For many years the federal officers who have to do with revenue and other stamps have found the government was victimized by a class of swindlers who utilized canceled stamps, made clean by clever processes for removing ink. When it was found impossible by any device to remove the disfigurating ink, the swindlers used parts of the stamps which had not been touched by the ink of cancellation. Of course, in such patchwork a good many stamps were sometimes required, and only stamps of the higher denominations were used.

The new ink is said to be indelible and possesses such qualities as to change the color of the stamp to which it has been applied when any attempt is made to soak the stamp in water. The government officers have been anxious to secure some means of discouraging this species of fraud, but no ink has appeared sufficiently strong to prevent the erasure of the cancellation in some instances, and the using of uncancelled parts of stamps in others.

At times the frauds practiced on the government in this respect have been extensive, and it has been a difficult matter for the secret service men to locate the offenders.

Effect of a Shot.

An orange hit in the exact center by a rifle ball will vanish at once from sight, scattered into infinitesimal pieces.

Hops on Hand.

It is estimated, says the Colton (Wash.) News-Letter, that there are from 1,000 to 1,400 bales of hops of the '99 crop unsold in Yakima county.

HOME INFLUENCE.

Proper Training Has a Moral Value That Cannot Be Overestimated.

What a sweet and profound truth those familiar words express! Home is rightly the earthly center of our affections, as well as the great source of our earthly joys; around it cluster our fondest memories and our fairest hopes; and all that comes to us in this life of brightness or sweetness suggests the thought of home. God pity the homeless! Home and family may not be exact synonyms, but it is no easy matter to dissociate them in our thoughts; each implies the other. Home is certainly not home where the wise counsels of a kind father or the tender ministrations of a fond mother are wanting, for these are essential to the true conception of home. Again, home is where our loved ones are, and where should these be in a Christian land if not in sweet communion under the family roof-tree? Possible exceptions do not negative the rule, says Housewife.

Parents are the natural homemakers to their children, and the ideal home can only be found where there is perfect harmony between them. Mutual affection and respect between them will render unkindness on the part of either toward the other impossible. Unkindness makes any home dreary, while love is the genius of the home circle that lightens labor, distills joy and dispenses warmth and sunshine. Love hallows and effectuates the marriage vows.

Blessed are the children of loving, sensible parents, if there is love and filial piety in their own hearts! To such children and parents home will ever be the dearest spot on earth, the one nearest in brightness to Heaven, that eternal abiding place of the Christian, where loved ones shall dwell together in everlasting union when the trials of this life are ended. If our homes are what they should be, "Heaven lies about us in our infancy," in an almost literal sense; and holy influences emanate from the true home that keeps Heaven close to its inmates throughout life.

We must not forget to say that the mother is the greatest of all homemakers to the child, and no one else can fully supply her place. If she is disqualified, in any essential particular, for this responsible position of home-maker, her children and her husband are much to be pitied. If she is deficient in heart or mind, lacking in tenderness or judgment, her defects will be intensified in her offspring, as men and women are generally what their mothers make them. The mother creates the home atmosphere which determines the course of the child's life. If she is no true homemaker, she will not be permitted to taste the sweetest joy of motherhood, that of beholding the goodness of her own children. Of course we do not wish to ignore the father, for to the perfect home both parents are essential. The two lovingly unite in caring for the bodies and souls of the children.

The moral value of proper home influences cannot be overestimated; for all virtue starts in the home. Indeed, true morality is inconceivable apart from home associations. Love of God, love of man and love of country are alike impossible in a land that has no real homes. Certainly a man loves his country exactly in the proportion in which he loves his home. The homeless wanderer may be a hero, but he cannot be a patriot. So a man who never experiences the love of a father or of a brother can hardly appreciate the fatherhood of God or the brotherhood of man. A nation is strong only when its homes are happy and family ties held sacred. Love of truth and right is best fostered in the family circle, and ideas of moral purity and excellence take deeper root when inculcated there. A person is apt to have a living faith in God, because he has seen that faith exemplified by his parents. We do not expect good men and women to spring from vicious or neglected homes, while we can be almost certain that the children of good mothers will become useful and respectable members of society.

Home cannot well be made too pleasant or too beautiful. It is only right that it should be the most attractive spot on earth to its inmates, brightened and sweetened by parental, filial and fraternal love. The founding of such heavenlike homes is the mission of Christianity, as their influence is to elevate mankind for the glory of God. The Christian home is the true palladium of morality and religion and all that is noble in man.

Shirring Revived.

A great deal of shirring is done on the lighter gowns. Cashmeres and veilings this spring are often shirred about the waist to represent a corselet belt, the gowns cut in princess or redingote style, the shirring being done below as well as above the waist line. In organdies and lawns entire fronts are shirred, while shirred yokes of thin white stuffs are put into colored gowns. Net skirts are shirred in several rows at the top and the fullness falls loose and straight over the silk foundation.—Detroit Free Press.

Summer Resorts.

To the mountains our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain the human machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the seashore proves very seductive while it lasts, but many have decided that the annual outing should provide not only radical change of air and surroundings, but also such stimulation of flagging energies as will provide brawn and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountain climb and ramble, the balsam of the mountain pines, and the clear, unadulterated mountain air.

In this direction the Shasta Route now affords a wealth of attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, and where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf or play with equal facility.

Or if you look for healing waters, none better can be found, hot or cold, than the springs of Ashland, Colestin, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles.

Before visiting Europe, the people of the Northwest should see the glories of Yosemite valley, and the wondrous groves of Mariposa and Calaveras; the Parisians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts.

Send to Mr. C. H. Markham, General Passenger Agent, Portland, for new booklets on Castle Crag, Shasta Springs, McCloud river, Yosemite, and excursion rates thereto.

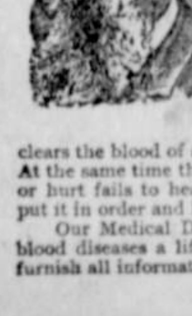
Sores and Ulcers
DRAIN THE SYSTEM, ENDANGER LIFE.

That old sore or ulcer, which has been a source of pain, worry and anxiety to you for five or ten years—maybe longer—doesn't heal because you are not using the proper treatment, but are trying to cure it with salves and washes. While these are soothing and relieve pain to some extent, no real, permanent good can come from their use, because the disease is in the blood and far beyond the reach of external applications.

A sore heals promptly when the blood is in good condition, but never if it is diseased. The tendency of these old sores and ulcers is to grow worse, spreading and eating deeper into the flesh. They are a constant drain upon the system, gradually but surely ruin the health and sap the very life. A person's capacity for work or pleasure is soon lost in the great desire and search for something to cure.

S. S. S. makes a rapid and permanent cure of old sores and ulcers, and is the only medicine that does, because no other can reach deep-seated blood troubles. Ordinary Sarsaparilla and potash mixtures are too weak and watery to overcome a deadly poison that has taken possession of the blood. Do not waste valuable time experimenting with them.



A Gunshot Wound. "Some years ago I was shot in the left leg, receiving what I considered only a slight wound. It developed into a running sore and gave me a great deal of pain. I was treated by many doctors, and took a number of blood remedies, but none did me any good. I had heard S. S. S. highly recommended and concluded to give it a trial. The result was truly gratifying. S. S. S. seemed to get right at the trouble, and forced the poison out of my blood; soon afterwards the sore healed up and was cured sound and well. I now have perfect use of the leg, which was swollen and very stiff for a long time. J. H. McBRAYER, Lawrenceburg, Ky."

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known; is made of roots and herbs of wonderful purifying properties, which no poison can resist. S. S. S. quickly and effectually clears the blood of all morbid, unhealthy humors, and the old, troublesome sore heals. At the same time the general health is invigorated and built up. When a little scratch or hurt fails to heal readily, you may be sure your blood is bad. S. S. S. will soon put it in order and keep it so.

Our Medical Department is in charge of experienced physicians, who have made blood diseases a life study. If you will write them about your case, they will gladly furnish all information or advice wanted, without any charge whatever.
