N. P. Dodge, while driving with Mrs. Dodge Tuesday afternoon, had a fainting spell and for a time his case looked serious. He was taken into Thomas' store and made as comfortable as possible until he could be taken home. Congestion of the brain was the cause of his trouble. Mr. Dodge is now very much better and will probably be out again in a few days.

The C. E. Society of the Presbyterian church held their monthly business and social meeting on Tuesday at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Hays. After adjourning to the social part of the evening, a novel entertainment was given by the social committee, consisting of a system of fortune telling, which, if verified, will place some of the victims in rather awkward predicaments. It is said to be hoped by some, however, that the fortunes will not come true. A very pleasant evening was spent and was greatly enjoyed by the members and their friends who were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Howland made a trip this week to Pleasant creek and brought back with them a vegetable production of that district which is very worthy of mention. It was a turpentine of the cucumber variety, measuring 19 inches in length exclusive of the root, which is five inches long. The turpentine was raised by Joseph Burkhardt and is a good example, both of the productiveness of Pleasant creek soil and of Mr. Burkhardt's skill as a gardener. He has a model garden of which he is justly proud.

C. H. Sampson brought in from his ranch north of town last Friday, the first Oregon peaches delivered here this season. Mr. Sampson's judgment was considerably criticized by the knowing ones when he began clearing and improving this place, but it was not many years before Sampson's ranch began to command attention for the excellent quality of its fruit as well as its productiveness. It stretches across a canyon, each end resting on a side hill, but the grounds nowhere steep and a large part of it is comparatively level. The productiveness of the place proves the fertility of our hill land, but one of its principal advantages lies in the fact that it is sheltered by a mountain on the east and this gives the place a freedom from injury by frost and makes peaches and other susceptible fruits as sure a crop as apples.

Change in the Magazine World.

The Popular Science Monthly, which was established in 1872 by the Appletons and which has at present the largest circulation of any scientific journal in the world, is now being edited by Professor James McKeen Cattell of Columbia University, and published by McClure, Phillips & Co. Professor Cattell is well known as a psychologist and as the editor of "Science."

The July number contains among other articles, a paper by Simon Newcomb, the astronomer, entitled "Chapters on the Stars," a new paper by Dr. Haffkine, the discoverer of the preventive against the plague, on "Preventive Inoculation;" an article on the recent solar eclipse by Sears P. Langley of the Smithsonian Institution, and articles on New Sources of Roentgen Rays, on the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, "Malaria and the Malarial Parasite," by Dr. Patrick Manson, and on Washington as Explorer and Surveyor." This content gives promise that the magazine will be well cared for by its new management.

Almost a Tragedy.

Another sensation occurred Saturday evening at the corner saloon. A young man having partaken too freely of intoxicants, seemed to have conceived the idea of knocking the head of August Fetech from his shoulders, and in pursuance of this resolve, threw a rock at Fetech in the back room of his saloon. There was nothing playful about the action. The missile was amply sufficient to have killed Fetech if it had struck him, as it was thrown with vigor and to all appearances, with destructive intent. He was placed under bonds and his trial was held on Monday morning in the city court. Sobriety had brought a realizing sense of the seriousness of the charge against him, and he was greatly worried over his rash act. As his sentence and promises for future good behavior seemed very sincere, he was discharged on paying a fine of $10. The incident is one illustration of the results of saloons and liquor. It should cause the boys about town who are careless drinkers and patrons of saloons to think twice about such things. That the missile failed by an inch or such a matter of striking Fetech's head and spent its force on the wall, was not the fault of the liquor that inspired the act. The liquor failed by a very small margin of being a sensational tragedy. The motive if any, for the act is not stated.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hagar of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two Little's I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Dr. Kremer, druggist.

Medicine Fair.

A travelling self-styled doctor struck the town last week and for two evenings gave free entertainments from a platform in front of Thomas' corner, accompanied by lectures on the human frame and unqualified denunciation of civilized physicians, whom he designated as murderers and cut throats. He claimed to be a Turk, and might easily have been something of the kind. He was not backward in chanting praises of his own prowess as a physician, in convincing proof of which, he seemed to swallow an egg, reproducing it externally from the region of his vest pocket and also wrung half dollars from the nose of one of his youthful assistants. After impressing his audience in this manner, he would deliver his lecture and invite the willing to visit him the next day at the hotel. He evaded the license for a day or two, had an altercation with the marshal on the second night and seemed to demand that officials' constant presence in order that the boys might not annoy him. He was finally made to realize that he was subjected to the license law and when that fact dawned on him, he folded his tent like the Arab that he claimed to be and transported his personality to other climes.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

More Railroad Possibilities.

We hear that surveyors are out viewing a route from this coast to Ogden, for the purpose of extending the Burlington and Rock Island Railroad to the Pacific. The company is desirous of securing this extension so as to reach Cheto Bay in Curry county, Southern Oregon, near the California boundary line, and may probably pass through Northern California via the Madeline Plains from Northern Nevada, as it is desirous to reach the extensive timber regions of Northern California and Southern Oregon. This road would connect with the McCloud river road in Squaw Valley, this county, and continue on to Grants Pass in Josephine county, Ore., thence to Cheto bay in Curry county, with connections from Del Norte county and along the Klamath river in Siskiyou county. Both Del Norte and Siskiyou counties along the coast range of mountains, possess rich fields of valuable timber and minerals, that would bring a vast revenue for capitalists by having railroad communication, and the counties of Southern Oregon, at or near the coast line, are also equally valuable in the same products. The Del Norte timber is principally redwood, while all east of the coast range is superior fir, sugar pine and many other kinds of pine, also considerable hard wood. Besides the wealth of the mountains there are numerous fertile valleys for farm productions, and large streams available for power in operating mills, factories, etc., with the greatest success.—Yreka Journal.

Leland School Report.

A very pleasant twelve weeks of school closed at Leland on Friday, June 29. The school was unusually large this spring, forty-nine names in all having been placed on the roll. The total number of days attendance was 1476, making an average daily attendance of 25. Very good work was done by most of the pupils who attended throughout the term, the seventh and eighth grades counting quite thoroughly half their year's work according to the course of study. In lower classes the work was not so satisfactory, because of a continual dropping out and the coming in of new pupils, greatly hindering advancement.

After the name of Daniel Peterson alone appears neither absence nor tardy marks. Iva Peterson, Edith Leabo, Roy John and David Peterson were not tardy and were absent less than five days. Others who stood high in attendance, class work and deportment were Margaret Ogger, Ruby and Ails Light, Loren Reynolds, Willie Preston, Joseph and Thomas Rowley.

Though at present somewhat lacking in external improvements, the school is in very good condition, and has the opportunity of becoming one of the best district schools of Josephine County.

EDITH MITCHELL, Teacher.
