Wesley Dollarhide, grandson of the late Jesse Dollarhide, of Ashland, was shot and killed on Tuesday last week at Klamath by Constable George Norris who attempted to arrest him. Dollarhide was crazed with liquor and had attacked the brother of the constable with a knife. Dollarhide's family are among the oldest and most highly respected pioneers of Jackson county.

The Grants Pass brick yards have both commenced operations for the season and are making brick as the weather permits. Brickmaking requires the driest of weather and is an uncertain and risky business when the weather is at all rainy, but the brick famine in Grants Pass and the buildings to be built as soon as brick can be procured render it necessary to get brick on the market at the earliest possible time and this is being done.

Banking and Trust Co.

The recently organized Grants Pass Banking and Trust Co. held a meeting on Monday, all the stockholders, some 25 in number, being in attendance. J. Frank Watson, president of the Merchants' National bank of Portland and also a stockholder in the Banking and Trust Co. was present at the meeting. A board of seven directors was elected, who elected officers as follows: President, J. Frank Watson; vice-president, Edus Pollock; cashier, L. L. Jewell.

The new bank will open its doors for business as soon as its fixtures arrive from the east and necessary details of location and equipment are arranged. The new institution will be conducted strictly on banking principles and the well known worth and high standing of its members make its inauguration highly auspicious.

As early as possible, a building will be erected for banking purposes on the site recently acquired by the company on Sixth street.

The first rehearsal of the cantata, "The Haymakers," was held by the Choral Union at their meeting on Monday evening. The music of this cantata is bright and sparkling throughout, very melodious and some portions are especially beautiful. With appropriate costumes, its presentation will be one of the most attractive events yet offered by the Choral Union. There will be three more rehearsals this spring which will familiarize the vocalists with the music and make possible the presentation of the cantata at an early date next fall. Every member of the union should make a special effort to be present at each of the remaining rehearsals that they may keep pace with the union in the progress of the cantata.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

E. D. Westland, formerly of Des Moines, Iowa, has opened a photo gallery and studio on Sixth street, opposite the court house.

Mr. Westland comes well recommended for excellence and artistic talent in photography. He has a very complete equipment and is prepared to do all kinds of work from stamp pictures up.

Suicide of Walter Simmons.

Walter Simmons, for many years a well known and respected resident of this county, committed suicide on Saturday by shooting himself with a pistol. The deed was committed in the west part of town near a former residence of Mr. Simmons. The funeral services were held on Monday under the conduct of the A. O. U. W. of which the deceased was a member. He had been in ill health for a number of years. Five years ago he experienced a paralytic stroke, from the effects of which he had never fully recovered and financial misfortune had added to his despondency.

Mr. Simmons was a native of Zanesville, Ohio, and was 64 years old. He came west when he was quite young and has spent most of his time in mining. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Mary Simmons of our city and a brother, Geo. Simmons of Waldo.

Furniture House Change.

J. R. Hale, one of our pioneer business men, who has been in the furniture business in Grants Pass since the town's infancy, sold his stock last week to M. W. Wilbur. Mr. Hale has extensive lumber interests in Douglas county to which he will devote his attention. Mr. Wilbur has also been prominent among our business men for a number of years, formerly in the saw mill business and more recently connected with the Provolt flour mill which is now being operated by his former partner, I. G. Moon. At present the store is under the conduct of W. A. Haskins.
