A Filipino plot to massacre the American garrison at Moncado, Luzon, was frustrated by the revelation of the scheme by the wife of one of the conspirators. Prompt arrests were made and incriminating papers seized.

The labor unions will create a huge sinking fund in anticipation of legal battles during their prospective strike with capital. The good of the country demands some solution of this great problem besides that of everlasting conflict.

The Ottoman empire, once the most powerful in the world, has sunk so low that any of the powers may tweak its national nose with impunity. All that is necessary to make Turkey accede to a command is to send a warship. A bluff is sufficient and almost invariably necessary. The cost of collecting indemnity from Turkey depends now on the price of coal. The wrangle between France and Turkey over a question of indemnity has resulted in the seizure by France of the port of Smyrna. The matter is the outcome of a series of promises made and broken by the Sultan, until the patience of France was exhausted.

A new canal treaty is to be made and Lord Pauncefote has formally announced to Secretary Hay his readiness to begin work on it. The canal affair has been so jugged that the people of the United States have temporarily lost interest in it and are skeptical in regard to the canal's ever being constructed. The need for the canal is so constant and pressing that the matter can not long remain in the back ground, but must necessarily keep near the front in the public interest. The Clayton-Bulwer treaty was a sad error as it gave Great Britain a voice in the matter which is embarrassing to present operations, but the treaty was made and we cannot honorably ignore it.

The question of advertising the resources and advantages of our section is one that should not be allowed to remain in the back ground. Neither should such advertising be confined to any one particular scheme or method and the proposed mining exhibit is one way in which to effectually advertise. Far more people can be reached by literature than by an exhibit, but the exhibit will impress those who do see it in such a manner that they can never forget it. It would be something for travelers to tell their friends about, as something they had themselves seen. Its advertising, though not so extensive, would be of the superlative quality. The proper way is to have both exhibit and literature. A creditable exhibit need not be expensive. The railroad company has offered the ground rent free, on the corner of the park near the depot. The building need not be large and can be neat without being unduly expensive. The specimens can be secured to a great extent without other cost than that of collecting them. We can produce a mineral exhibit that would be a credit to any mining section in the entire west.

The Boers are holding up their end of the contest in south Africa in a manner that surprises the world and lately they have developed unexpected and surprising strength. Three times within the past two months, commandos numbering from 1000 to 1500 men have attacked garrisons or detachments with great vigor and spirit and fought stubbornly. Twice they were repulsed after severe fighting, but the last time they won quite a signal victory over a British detachment. Great Britain, it is reported, is preparing to make a supreme effort to end the war and will send to the front every man in the United Kingdom available for the purpose. If she should fail in this effort, she will lose prestige immensely in the sight of the nations. The Boer war has proved a stupendously expensive affair in both men and money far beyond any expectations. It was the firm belief in England that the war was only a small matter and would be all over in a few months at the most, but after two years conflict, the Boers are still fighting with vigor though they have changed their tactics and deal in sudden surprises and quick retreats, rather than open fight, being outnumbered to an extent that would make open warfare suicidal. South Africa has proved a morgue for the reputations of British generals. Even Kitchener, the hero of the Sudan, who made his reputation fighting the "fuzzy-wuzzies" of the desert has found a different proposition to face in the stubborn Dutchman of the veldt and his reputation has suffered in consequence.

Early Closing Will Suspend
At a meeting of a number of business men held on Tuesday evening in the parlors of the First National Bank after a full discussion of the early closing movement, which, after four months trial has been found very satisfactory, it was decided that, owing to the heavy fall and holiday trade, after November 15th until the close of the year, the stores remain open after 6:30 p. m. to close about 8 p. m., except Saturday.

It was unanimously agreed that with the first of the new year the 6:30 closing would again be in force. Those who represented were Calvin Welch, W. E. Dean, Hair Riddle, Hardware Co., Smith Bros, Claus Schmidt, Kinney & Truax, R. O. McCroskey, R. L. Coe & Co. T. B. Cornell, H. Thomas, H. C. Bobzinn, Grants Pass Grocery Co., H. T. Kessler and Cramer Bros.

MONDAY'S ELECTION.

Eastern States Cast a Light Vote, Republican Gain Shown.

On Monday, elections were held in many of the states. The returns as yet are not fully complete but the results are generally ascertained. Most of the returns show republican gains.

In New York the reports have been coming in slowly. Seth Low, the anti-Tammany candidate for mayor is elected by a plurality of perhaps 50,000 over Shepard, the Tammany candidate. At an early hour in the evening, the election of Low was conceded by Croker Tammany's magnate. Croker has renounced further connection with American politics and expect to return soon to England. In Massachusetts, Crane, republican is elected governor for the third time. Boston goes democratic by perhaps 10,000. A light vote was cast all over the east.

In Ohio, republicans win by about 60,000. For. Nash being re-elected. In Pike and Adams counties the democrats elect their legislative ticket for the first time in eight years.

In Maryland, the result is doubtful but the state is probably democratic by a small majority.

In Kentucky, the democrats will have a majority in both houses.

Iowa and Pennsylvania are strongly republican.

Virginia is democratic by about 30,000.

New Jersey is entirely republican. Murphy is elected governor by 8000.

Connecticut and Rhode Island are republican by good majorities.

In Kansas, Blakely, republican, is elected governor by 8000.

Nebraska is close, with chances in favor of the republicans.

In Salt Lake City, the republicans elect the entire city ticket.

Eugene Woolen Mill.
The bonus of $8000 for the Wagon Woolen Mill has been raised among citizens of Eugene, and project will come ahead. Mr. Wagon will come to Eugene at once and make arrangements for erection of the mill. It will give employment to a large number of persons, and is expected to prove of great benefit to the town.

In San Francisco, Schmitt, labor union, is elected mayor, Wells, second, Tobin, a slow third.

LATER RETURNS.
Croker denies that he will resign the chairmanship of Tammany. Low's majority for mayor of New York is 30,000. Van Wyck, democratic candidate for justice of supreme court, is defeated by 29,000.

New Jersey elects Murphy, republican candidate for governor, by 15,000.

Cummins, republican, is elected governor of Iowa.

Selwig, republican, is elected to supreme court in Nebraska by 7000.

Baltimore, Md., elects an entire republican ticket except sheriff.

Alice Roosevelt.
President Roosevelt returned to the White House bringing with him his daughter, Miss Alice Roosevelt. Miss Roosevelt's baggage, which consisted of three small, square oak chests, with iron-bound covers which would have credit to an old sea-dog of a naval officer, was quite indelicate of the complete freedom from conventional restraint of this thoroughly independent family. Not since the days of Nellie Grant has there been a debutante in the Presidential households, but now Miss Alice Roosevelt has come to fill that social role and her advent is something of a sensation with the young people of the Capital elite. She is not a strikingly handsome girl, but Leland Sitings.

Our weather is lovely with bright, sunny days.

Our school is progressing nicely under the conduct of Miss Smith.

The cars on the Kinney short line are steadily taking away wood.

G. W. Chapin was in Leland one day last week selling prunes. His prunes are fine and sell on their merits.

The "Night Hawk" is all right. He is more established in his writing. He does not have such rambling ideas.

Elder Jordan was the guest of G. W. Chapin one day last week. He preaches in our school house on November 3rd.

We were to publish some marriages but the business has been postponed until all parties are ready as some haven't made up their trousers.

The late rain has wet the ground so farmers are improving their time sowing their grain. From the outlook cattle will do well this winter as the grass is growing nicely.

A good many new-comers have come into our midst. Some have come to secure situations in the mines; others in different work camps, as there is plenty of work for the industrious.

We are all well in this vicinity. Grandpa Acres is up and around again. His coming to Grave Creek and drinking the pure water and inhaling the healthy, balmy air has greatly benefited him.

We did not hear from "Dick" last week. Perhaps he has gone a sparking. If so, "Dick," we can excuse you from writing. As you are improving in your articles we want you to continue writing for the Courier.

Mr. Espey and sons are hauling a large amount of lumber to the Greenback mine. That mine is building up fast. They have a good easy grade to their mine so teams can haul good loads.

Times are quiet at Tunnel 9. John Joff is building a new house as he thinks he will need more room in the near future. John has bought a piece of land to set out in cherries as that fruit always brings a good price.

Wm. Cox has struck a ledge that, from the formation, he believes is a good one. It is looking all right. It resembles the famous Greenback ledge and has the same quality of rock. We expect in a short time to write up other strikes. As long as the weather holds good the prospectors will stay in the hills until the heavy rains come.

The display of apples in our stores here is very fine; no better can be found, and as fine vegetables as can be raised in any country. Bon.

Hugo Items.
Sunday school every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Hugo school house.

On the evening of November 2nd a dancing party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Brown at their residence at Tunnel 9. A large attendance from the surrounding country was present and a most enjoyable evening was passed.

A literary society was organized at Hugo school house on the evening of November 2, Mr. W. W. Wilson, president. The question to be debated next Saturday evening is, "Resolved that the press is more beneficial to mankind than the pulpit."

Say "Bob" come out with me to Merlin the evening of the 16th. There is something sentimental about getting a box by a pretty girl. Come to think about it, you want to be careful "Bob" how criticize my items. Do you intimate that the Courier is not a first-class paper or that I am not capable of writing for one?

Who is writing from Placer? He has no name. Some one should write from all these towns and then we would get acquainted and by and by could visit Dick.

Notes from Greenback Mine.
Frank Stewart was seen on our streets this week.

H. M. Gray has commenced work on his new house.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Demaree have moved into their new house.

John Van Burger, Sr. and wife left this week for Coos county, to make their future home.

There is to be a social dance and supper next Friday evening in Placer, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Demaree furnishing music.

Fred Roper has proved himself to be quite a carpenter; he has built himself a house and he and Mrs. Roper are enjoying their new home.

We are having pleasant weather, but it is very bad under foot; the soil here, when wet is so sticky we can use it for fly paper instead of the Tanglefoot you buy.

Prof. Hampton has several men at work on his mining ditch, cleaning it out and reinforcing the weak places. The Prof. expects a very profitable run this season, and is making all necessary arrangements in due time.

Harry Heaton, the timber man in this county, met with quite an accident but not serious, in coming up a shaft 250 feet deep on a rope ladder. When about 15 feet from the bottom one of the rungs broke and he fell backward ten feet on a shaft, then fell head first in the rest of the way, cutting his head in several places and bruising him otherwise. It was a miracle that he was not killed, but he continued work right along.

Enjoyable Winter Trip.
A winter trip to Southern California and Arizona via the famous Shasta Route is one never to be forgotten. Renewed acquaintance with this section will ever develop fresh points of interest and added sources of enjoyment under its sunny skies, in the variety of interests and added industries, in its prolific vegetation and among its numberless varieties of mountain, shore, valley and plain.

Two trains leave Portland daily morning and evening for California. These trains are equipped with the most improved pattern of standard and tourist sleeping cars, and the low rates place the trip in reach of all.

"The Meadows" Coal.
The recent discovery of coal in the Meadows district in Jackson county has greatly excited the residents of that section, and the feeling has spread to adjacent sections until about the whole population seems to have the coal fever.

There is, however, little doubt of the value of the discovery. The seam found on a cinnabar claim being worked by Reed & Fletcher has widened to 24 inches of what seems to ordinary observers to be coal of excellent quality, but of course, only analysis can determine its true value as a fuel. On several of the adjacent claims there exist precisely similar conditions and indications as on the discovery claim, and the holders are correspondingly jubilant. The railroad people who have had coal prospectors in that region for some time past, have, it is said, purchased several ranches there, with a view to securing lands for coal development.

Light Sentence.
Miss Eina Dungan of Gold Hill was tried on Friday before the United States court in Portland for using the mails for fraudulent purposes. She pleaded guilty, and a merely nominal penalty was imposed; a fine of $1 and one day's imprisonment.

Miss Dungan's method was to answer matrimonial advertisements and when money was sent her to further the matrimonial scheme, she would keep it.

Judge Bellinger said: "The law is made to protect society, but men who advertise in newspapers for wives and are induced to send wedding presents, are beyond the power of law to protect."

Miss Dungan made the following statement: "It was not my intention to commit a crime in the use of the mails. I was ignorant that I was doing that. I just did it to pass away the time, and the letters were amusing. I did not do it for the money, but when they sent me presents I did not think it necessary to send them back."

Library Notice.
Hereafter all library books must positively be returned to the librarian, exchanging of books not allowed. By order of the President.

Vaccination at Klamath Falls.
There are no new cases of the mild form of small-pox or a resemblance to the Manila itch, in Klamath Falls and those that had it are recovering. It proved a harvest for the physicians. The examples of the foolishness of complaint as exemplified by such saints as Rockefeller, Morgan, Harriman, etc., has seeped through the caste and superstitions of the disciples of Esculapius and besides dilating upon the necessity of vaccination they touched the victim to the tune of $2 for a scar. The people "kicked" and several declared they were being "jobbed," but as the doctors had the Rockefeller situation well in hand they smilingly suggested that the "Medicine Men" at the reservation were not very far off and they might try them. During the scare many reluctantly took the dose prepared by the M. D.'s, but a number suffered the pangs and tortures of anxiety rather than pay tribute to a trust they had never paid tribute to before.—Valley Record.
