When David hit him with a Stone

Such a thing had never entered his head before! So you may be surprised that low priced Coffee isn't really low priced; generally it wholly lacks flavor and it takes a lot more of it to produce satisfactory strength.

One cent a cup by actual test is the cost of SEAL BRAND COFFEE. Did you ever try it?

Postmaster C. E. Harmon and Miss Elsie Green are visiting at Galice this week. Mr. Harmon is looking after the interests of Harmon-Green placer while Miss Green is visiting with her father, D. S. Green and will remain perhaps two weeks.

A Mighty Fisherman.

Pat Murphy of our city is a fisherman of tremendous ability. Others may catch bigger fish but for numbers he outclasses his fellows very emphatically. Every day for two weeks, Pat went to the river and each day he would return with a string of little trout reaching in to the hundreds. During this season of fishing, Pat says he has caught 2744 trout. Most of these he has given away to his friends. Last Friday he had a little string of 144 trout, most of them little fellows about six inches long, although there were a few of larger growth. Pat says he caught them in two hours and half. A fish a minute seems pretty fast fishing. Pat knows the river like a book and knows just exactly where and how to fish. He can judge the quality of a water hole by looking at it and when he spots a good one, he reaps a harvest. He uses salmon eggs for bait and gets almost every nibbler. Stories of his fishing sound so large that many would find them difficult to believe only that he submits the fish as evidence and they cannot be denied.

Southern Oregon Apples.

A fruit buyer for the London markets, who was in Medford last week, made an assertion which might seem ambiguous to many of us who are not familiar with conditions of fruit elsewhere. The assertion was in substance that the great Rogue River Valley, in Southern Oregon, United States of America, produced a Newtown Pippin apple that could not be equalled any place in the world. Gee, but the world is a big place but when an assertion like this comes from one who does nothing else year in and year out but buy fruit for one of the best markets in the world, one can do nothing less than put it down as a cold fact, especially when there can be no motive. Hurrah for Southern Oregon's yellow apples! She's a prize winner with the whole world as a competitor. There are thousands of acres of land in Southern Oregon which will produce these apples and upon which there is not now a fruit tree growing. That horticulture is a profitable pursuit in Southern Oregon is not questioned by people who have lived here for the past five years and have noted the immense amount of money made by the growers.—Medford Mail.

New Uniforms for O. N. G.

Last Spring Adjutant-General Gantenbein made a requisition on the Quartermaster-General of the United States for 1500 khaki uniforms for use of the Oregon National Guard. The requisition was disallowed for the reason that the new regular Army requirement needed all such uniforms as were available.

General Gantenbein persisted in the matter, and made another requisition this Fall, which met with more success. The requisition was granted, and the 1500 uniforms were shipped, and have now reached here.

The advantages of these khaki uniforms are their suitability for field service, and they can be washed at one-fourth the expense of laundering blue woolen uniforms. This, in case of a regiment, is a considerable item.

The new uniforms will not be issued at present, as there is no immediate necessity for them. But they will be issued to company commanders in ample time for field and camp duty next Summer.

The Chief of Ordnance of the Army has recommended that Krag-Jorgensen rifles be issued to the National Guard as soon as possible, and General Gantenbein considers the recommendation an important entering wedge toward the carrying out of the plan. The present gun used by the National Guard is the old Springfield 45, and all the guardsmen think it is high time they were brought up to date in the matter of weapons.

The pastor of Newman M. E. Church will begin a series of revival meetings Nov. 17, 1901, at 7:30 p. m. The first half hour of each meeting will be given to a song and praise service. Music will be under the direction of a chorus choir. All will be made welcome to these services.—J. W. McDougal.

Prof. Gaston delivered his humorous lecture "Yosemite" to a delighted audience at the opera house Tuesday evening. His lecture was full of vivid and beautiful descriptions of the wonders of the Yosemite. This was the third lecture of a very popular series, which included two entertainments yet to come; an electrical exhibition and a concert.

Oliver Plows are built for years of fruitful service. They give it. Plows and all extras sold by Cramer Bros.

Dr. Thos. Marshall, of Chicago, field secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church spent Sunday in this city on his tour of the coast and spoke at the Presbyterian church both morning and evening. Dr. Marshall is a speaker both entertaining and forcible and has foreign mission statistics without limit at his tongue's end. He showed that of every dollar given for foreign missions, 95 cents reached the actual working field. He spoke at some length on the good accomplished by foreign missions and said, "In the face of history and the cold facts of any one who says no good is accomplished by foreign missions is densely ignorant or desperately wicked. Take your choice."

Thanksgiving Masquerade.

On Thanksgiving night, Nov. 28, a grand mask ball will be given at the Opera house by the Foresters of America. It will be remembered that the Foresters gave the most successful masquerade of the season last year. They intend that this success shall be duplicated or surpassed on this occasion.

The orchestra will be the ever popular and pleasing "Six" and supper will be served in the Opera house at 50 cents per plate by J. W. Scoggin of the Bon Ton restaurant.

Three prizes will be awarded; one each for most elaborate costume and best sustained character and one to the best cake walker.

Dance tickets are $1; spectators 25 cents; lady maskers free.

The New Mule.

"Jiggers" O'Neill hired the new mule of Chas. Young to ride out to the Gold Chloride mine Thursday. He came back badly bruised (that is "Jiggers"). The new mule bucked him off seven times. The giant powder did not explode as "Jiggers" expected it would, but from the physical appearance of him it looks as if there had been some explosion in camp.—Gold Hill News.

November Raspberries.

A bunch of ripe, red raspberries from the farm of T. P. Lee has attracted the attention of many of our visitors this week. Raspberries in November are objects of intense curiosity to people lately from the east but are not so rare here as to cause much comment. They argue more eloquently in favor of southern Oregon climate than a volume of words.

Handsome Trout.

Frank McGregor, J. A. Jennings, and Al Guist went fishing Tuesday afternoon. They brought home a string of nine handsome trout with an aggregate weight of about 80 pounds. Several photos were taken of the "string."

The Ladies of the W. R. C. will give a Doll Show about the first week of December; you may expect something nice in Christmas dolls for the little ones.

Scenes of Beauty.

Our autumn scenery can not be surpassed. Some of our scenes, during these autumn days, are beautiful beyond description, especially along Rogus river. It is exquisite enjoyment merely to walk around and absorb nature's beauties. Happy are they who are fortunate enough to own cameras to record the surpassing beauty of our autumn scenery.

Don't wait until you become chronically constipated but take DeWitt's Little Early risers now and then. They will keep your liver and bowels in good order. Easy to take. Safe pills. Dr. W. F. Kreymer.

A Democratic Cat.

Mrs. J. S. Hughes, of this city, owns a snow white cat, says the Lebanon Express-Advance. A short time since the cat became the mother of four kittens, two of which were white and two were black. A couple of days after the kittens were born the mother was caught trying to drown her two black kittens in the canal. The kittens were rescued and cared for through the day, but after the folks had retired for the night the old cat again carried out the kittens and succeeded in drowning them. Mr. Hughes says she must be a democratic cat, and wants to keep down the blacks.
