THURSDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1901.

The fate of Arthur Venville, captured by the Filipinos, has been discovered. He was treacherously shot with arrows by two Filipinos and killed.

Andrew Carnegie has proposed to give $10,000,000 to endow a great university which is to be a national institution located at Washington.

W. J. Bryan may be made a candidate for governor of Nebraska next year. Personally, Bryan is popular and for the office of governor he would be a strong candidate.

An ordinance is in consideration by the city for the reorganization of the fire company. The chief and his assistant are to be appointed by the council and will receive salaries. The other officers are to be elected by the company as heretofore.

A report was circulated last week that the court of inquiry found Admiral Schley guilty on five counts. This report proved, as was the general expectation, to be a canard, without foundation. Admiral Schley himself being authority for the statement the court had reached no such decision.

The new Hay-Pauncefote canal treaty has been reported favorably by the committee on foreign relations in congress. No votes were cast against this report by any member of the committee, although some had adverse criticisms for the treaty. Senators Money and Bacon found many of the same objectionable points which the former treaty contained, the principal one being the neutrality clause. This treaty gives the United States absolute control of the canal but obliges her to keep it neutral.

Ashtand expects a warm contest in her pending city election. The saloon men are well organized and are intending to make a hard fight for license. Ashtand has had a practical test of prohibition and the result of the coming election is looked for with eagerness. We hear conflicting stories here of the workings of prohibition in Ashtand and the town's prosperity during the past year. The result of the election will be conclusive decision of the manner in which it is regarded at home.

President Roosevelt's message is one of the most able documents of that nature ever presented to an American congress. It is unusually long but it contains nothing unnecessary and nothing that could be well omitted. It is sound, solid, able and sensible throughout, common sense being a dominant quality. It deals with the many important subjects in a thoroughly practical manner. Our president is a man of high ideals but can not be truly called an idealist, as he is very sound and practical always.

Appearances are all to the effect that the Lewis and Clarke exposition to be held in Portland in 1905 will be a grand affair. Already $300,000 has been pledged and now the mark aimed at is $500,000. The amount is sufficient if properly handled to insure a fair that will be a credit to the Pacific coast. The exposition is not for Portland or even Oregon alone but for all the states carved out of the original Oregon territory. Washington and Idaho were fully included as were parts of Montana, Utah and Wyoming. The exposition will be of great value in making the Pacific coast better known in the United States. Vast numbers of people will come to the exposition and may see for themselves the many advantages and pleasant features of the western country and get a real idea of it which they could not get by a lifetime of reading. The smaller towns of the state will be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund, and assist in making the event a grand success.

In response to the strong popular sentiment in that direction, aroused by the assassination of President McKinley, bills bearing on anarchy and its suppression have been introduced in congress. Senator Hoar has introduced a bill providing a death penalty for killing or attempting to kill the president of the United States or the ruler of any foreign country and any one who advises or conspires to accomplish such crime, shall be liable to imprisonment not exceeding 50 years. Senator Burrows, of Michigan has introduced a bill providing for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists. Then Senator Hoar has presented a joint resolution authorizing the president to enter into negotiations with the civilized nations to decide on effective punishment of persons attempting the lives of chief magistrates. This is in line with President Roosevelt's suggestion that anarchy should be made an offense against the law of nations.

A Chinese exclusion law to continue the effect of the Geary law which expires in May of the coming year seems certain to be enacted at the present session of congress. Little opposition appears to the measure and it seems to be generally considered a necessary measure. Some legislators think that the law should cover Japanese and other Asiatics, but this is of doubtful benefit. It would be better to load down the bill or it might be stranded. Better let it sail through and draft another for the Japs if it should be necessary. The Japanese are a totally different proposition from the Chinese and should really not be bracketed in the same class although their unrestricted emigration might be perilous to the laboring interests.

Harness Innovation.
Boyd's patent shaft harness buckles constitute one of the most important of the late inventions as the appliance is destined to come into very general use and revolutionize the old idea of single driving harness to a very great extent.

Cornell & Moore, of Grants Pass, the Pacific coast agents, have lately made a trip in California, introducing the new appliance and establishing agencies. They visited the principal points throughout the state, going as far south as Los Angeles.

Mr. Moore is now in Fortville, Ind., where he has the position of general manager in the factory. The points of advantage in the new system over the old are many. The new appliance eliminates all jibs and jerks and rubbing of the harness, thoroughly equalizing the pulling strain at all times. One most important advantage lies in the fact that the harness can always be released from the vehicle in case of accident.

It is reported that Barron & White have been directed $50,000 for their mine on Napoleon creek, Jackson county, but have refused the offer.

Dr. Jennings the dentist, who manufactures the mineral magnet, now has several quartz mining claims that prospect well, that he would either sell or lease to reasonable terms. Office Opera House, Grants Pass.

Briggs Creek Placer.
Chambers and Carpenter, who have spent the summer at Silver creek working for Wells and Lays in the construction of the big tunnel, post a few logs in some of the work. They intend to put in the winter prospecting and opening up a new piece of placer ground which they own on the upper Briggs creek, and will satisfy themselves as to its working value. The ground lies on the left hand fork of Briggs creek above the Berming.

Silver Creek Tunnel.
The work of opening up the big basin of Silver creek by means of the tunnel at the falls, is being steadily prosecuted. The rock continues, for the most part very hard, making progress slow, though there are some softer portions met with from time to time. The solid rock rim is continuing past expectations. The project is a big one and the work is progressing in a fairly satisfactory manner.

The volume of water in Silver creek since the rains and now pouring over the falls has heightened the scenic grandeur of the place in a great degree. In the precipitous walled canyon where the works are situated, the roar of the falls is deafening and the possibility of rock slides at any moment gives the work a zest of excitement as the workmen clamber up and down the cliffs.

Elk Creek Quartz.
The Pearl Mining company of Elk Creek are making preparations to begin running their quartz mill in the near future. Elk creek is a tributary of Rogue river about 50 miles up that stream from Grants Pass and until late years was popularly supposed to be out of the "high". The quartz deposits which the district contains were supposed to be "barren" until some one of more than ordinary curiosity secured some assays on samples of the rock when it was found to contain gold in paying values.

Miller Placer.
Superintendent Anderson of the Miller hydraulic placer on Briggs creek has been spending the past week in town. This mine has been running for the past few weeks. It is well equipped with pipe and giant and is one of the several excellent properties of the Briggs creek district. The gold secured, as of the course order, though very large nuggets are rarely found. The gold is very heavy, solid and pure.

Myrtle Creek Mines.
The South Myrtle gold quartz mines are steadily pushing to the front. A report has just come in that a new strike of 50 feet of ore of high value has been uncovered in the Continental mine.

G. W. Johnson, of Portland, who recently bonded the Oatman & Robinson claims known as the Legal Tender group has put on a force of men and will push development work as rapidly as possible, with night and day shifts. They will also have an assay office at the mine—Roseburg Review.

Shelley Creek.
Sam White of Kirby is opening up a promising quartz ledge in the Shelley creek district. This district has a number of good quartz properties under process of development and is one which will undoubtedly come into prominence later on. The district lies just beyond the state line in Del Norte county, Cal.

Passenger Train Wreck.
The northbound California express No. 12, which left here at 2:30 Saturday morning was derailed at the treacherous 200 yards south of the Saloon station on its schedule time Saturday afternoon. The engine and the mail and baggage cars, smoker and one day coach left the rails. Fireman Fish received injuries from which he died soon after being taken to the hospital. Engineer William H. White was badly scalded, but he is expected to recover. None of the passengers or other members of the train crew received any injuries.

An open switch 20 yards south of the wreck caused the accident. The scene of the wreck is within the yard limits. The train was on time and was entering the station yard at a moderate rate of speed. The train consisted of eight coaches, including the special car of Superintendent Fields, who was promptly on the scene and personally directed operation in extricating the derailed and engine and clearing the tracks.

The engine, mail and baggage coaches, smoker and one day coach, took the switch track, the other cars remaining on the main track. The engine and the mail coach left the switch upon entering the treacherous and plunged into the creek about 12 feet below. Fireman Fish jumped and was caught beneath the cranks of the baggage car, which was then directly across the tracks. His body was badly mangled, and he lived only 15 minutes after reaching Florence hospital. Two day coaches left the rails, but remained on the cut track. The passengers were badly shaken up, but none was injured.

Engineer White remained at his post and he left his engine between the engine and tender. Two hours of hard labor was required to extricate him, and the limb for its entire length was severely scalded by steam that came in on the boiler. Although in great pain, not a murmur escape his lips, nor did he lose consciousness, and when finally released his first inquiry was for his friends.

Christmas with a Camera.
If you wish a camera you are in a position to give a large number of holiday gifts at comparatively small expense. Call on A. E. Voorhies and he will tell you how.

Fish Eggs.
The Elk creek hatchery, situated on upper Rogue river, is one of the most successful and best producing plants on the Pacific coast. About 5,000,000 eggs have been taken at the hatchery this year.

Council Proceedings.
The city council met Thursday evening, the Mayor presiding. All present except Councilman Paddock. Petition of B. O. McCulloch et al for lateral sewer from Fifth street at alley in block 14, east through blocks 15 and 16 to Seventh street; thence north to A street, was received and referred to committee on streets to view, assess benefits to property holders and report.

The committee on fire, water and health reported that the four extra hydrants ordered by the council had been placed and were in working order. An ordinance was introduced and passed under the emergency clause providing for constructing of the lateral sewer petitioned for by J. L. Myers et al, along the alley through blocks 23, 24 and 25 from Fifth to Second streets and assessing 12.50 benefits against each lot in those blocks.

Mr. Fryer introduced an ordinance reorganizing the Fire Department, which was read the first time. Complaints in regard to running stove pipes through roofs in place of chimneys having been made, the City Attorney was directed to draft an ordinance prohibiting the same.

The following bills were allowed: J. C. Randle, lights and labor at school-house on ward convention $2.

John Patrick, extra service as policeman, 75 cents.

Oregon Observer, printing election tickets $6.10.

Fabric Fire Hose Co., 450 feet new hose $450.

Judges and clerks of the City election, allowed for their services each $1, and W. S. Wood, J. O. Booth, L. A. Stroble and C. E. Smith for meals for election board, for each five persons $1.25.

A. E. Voorhies printing, etc., $13.00.

Leland Siftings.
We are having very fine weather, no heavy rains or winds. We can hear of big winds and heavy rains farther north, but in southern Oregon we are generally exempt from so much wet weather. We have had rain enough for farming and also for mining purposes. The miners are very busy and have all the foggy weather in the mornings but the afternoons are warm and sunny. We have had only slight frosts as yet. The weather at present is like spring.

I took a trip up to Kinrossville a short time ago and was surprised to see such changes. Where the country was all covered a short time ago with heavy timber, it is now all converted into railroad wood and the place looks entirely different. The wood cutters are coming in and get work at Cox's or Kinsey's camps.

Well "Dick", your idea of pumpkins is all right but here on Grants creek we cannot raise pumpkins or squashes if we don't get around and cut off the ends of the vines as they grow so fast they wear out the little pumpkins by dragging them over the ground, but our vegetable and fruits can not be excelled.

We will have a few windows in market if the right fellows come along they can get their choice.
