P. man and Roseburger, is now employed as a switchman in The Dalles freight yard, and Fred Wall, also another ex-S. P. man and fellow townsman, has a freight run (conductor) between The Dalles and Coquille.—Review.

Major J. L. May was here from Ashland Saturday evening, having been detailed from brigade headquarters to conduct the examinations of the newly elected officers of Company H and also to hold a court martial on some of its members.

The Tillamook Headlight has the following account of the marriage of Mrs. M. E. Myers of Newberg and W. D. Stillwell of Tillamook. Mrs. Myers is the mother of Mrs. A. E. Cornell of our city. Married, on Saturday evening, at the residence of Mr. Geo. Grayson, Capt. W. D. Stillwell and Mrs. M. E. Myers of Yamhill county, both of whom are well known throughout the state as early settlers in Oregon. The bride is 37 years of age and it was the groom's twenty-seventh birthday on Saturday. They were neighbors in the early days of Oregon in Yamhill county, but later Mr. Stillwell moved to Tillamook. Mr. Stillwell represented Tillamook in the state legislature in 1891, and participated in the Indian war and was appointed by the governor to go to Washington with a deputation from Oregon in behalf of the Indian war veterans. While Mrs. Myers was visiting her daughter Mrs. Grayson, in this city, Capt. Stillwell and Mrs. Myers renewed their former acquaintance, which resulted in their marriage on Saturday.

Fingers Cut Off.

The little two-year-old son of John Nelson, living near Beagle postoffice, met with a very severe accident on Monday of last week. He was playing with his eight-year-old brother, who with an axe was cutting off a stump which was in the way of a playhouse they proposed making. During the chopping process the little fellow unconsciously put his right hand on the stump and the ax in the hands of the older brother came down upon it and severed entirely the first and fourth fingers and very nearly severed the two middle ones. Dr. E. B. Pickett, of Medford, attended the injuries.

Whisky Destroyed.

The northwest mounted police have destroyed whisky valued at $3500.

The stock was at Cariboo Crossing, at the foot of Lake Bennett, and across the border from British Columbia into Yukon territory. Duncan Anderson had a stock of liquor at Bennett, B. C., and secretly moved it down the lake by scow to Cariboo Crossing. He sank the scow to the bottom of the lake and built a house with false walls hiding the stock of liquors in the apartments. The mounted police tore down the walls and emptied the liquor into the Yukon. The story came out in court, and when it was heard by the Yukon commissioner last week, Anderson was fined $100.

New $10 Note.

The government has issued a new $10 note. The most striking feature of its face is the vignette of a buffalo, which occupies the center, and is slightly larger than the Indians on the new $5 note recently issued. On one side of the buffalo is a smaller vignette of Lewis and Clark, and on the opposite side a vignette of Clark. The portraits of Lewis and Clark give Oregon the right to claim that the note is commemorative of the expedition of 1805, and this claim is certainly well founded. It has been the desire of the treasury department to have each denomination of government notes bear some distinguishing mark on its face, which will be prominent above all else. As the Indian does on the new $5 note, it was thought the buffalo would readily identify the new tens, besides being a purely American figure.

Riddle-Isaacs.

Claude A. Riddle, of this city and Miss Mayme Isaacs, of Medford were united in matrimony on Sunday afternoon at the residence in Medford of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Isaacs, Rev. S. H. Jones, of Jacksonville, officiating in the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few intimate friends and the members of the family being present. Mr. and Mrs. Riddle returned to Grants Pass on the evening train and are now occupying rooms in the Howard residence where they are housekeeping. Many friends in both towns give their best wishes for the well being and happiness of these young people in life's voyage.

Mrs. McClelland, test medium and healer, has decided to locate for some time in Grants Pass and is now at the Crawford residence on Fifth and I streets. Mrs. McClelland is a very pleasant lady to meet and in her profession she furnishes the best of references and gives unflinching satisfaction.

Attorney A. N. Solis disappeared from Jacksonville last week with out leaving any particulars as to his personal affairs and conduct. His office is being moved out and there is every evidence that he does not intend to return. Mr. Solis has been very much in debt and his affairs have become somewhat tangled up so that it is presumed he became tired of pondering over them and concluded to jump the job and seek a new locality in which to grow up with the country.—Valley Record.

Bates Bros. have purchased 110 acres of land east of Medford and will plant the entire tract to fruit. The land is situated near J. A. Whitman's orchard, on the west, and is said to be soil well adapted to fruit culture. They have already ordered enough trees to set out 100 acres and as soon as they arrive the work of planting will begin. They will put out fifty acres to Jonathan Pippins and the remaining fifty to Jonathan apples and pears. The price paid for the land was $2000 and the purchase was made from T. F. Young.—Mail.

Grand Concert.

On Saturday Dec. 14th at the opera house, the Schumann Grand Concert Company will give what is expected to be the finest concert of the season. The company is composed of Miss Edith Adams, violinist, Mrs. Robt. Goldbeck, pianist, Miss Lillian Beard, contralto and Mr. W. E. McPherson, basso.

Miss Adams is considered the star and as this is the first time that a soloist on that magnificent instrument, the 'cello, has appeared before a Grants Pass audience her playing will attract all lovers of music. Mrs. Goldbeck, wife of the well known composer, studied the piano in the United States, England and Germany and has been enthusiastically received by critical audiences in the various countries she has visited. Miss Lillian Beard, contralto, has in many cities been accorded equal honors with Miss Adams and through her exceptionally fine and sympathetic voice, coupled with a singularly agreeable stage presence, she has won her way to the hearts of her listeners. Mrs. Beard has been a member of the Castle Square Opera Company and special inducements were necessary to secure her services in the Schumann Grand Concert Company.

Mr. McPherson has been successfully touring with concert companies in the United States during the past five years. His rich broad bass voice has delighted audiences in all parts of the country and his presence in the company has greatly strengthened that powerful aggregation of stars. Seats for this concert are now on sale at M. Clemens' Drug Store. Admission tickets 50c, reserved seats 75c.

For 1903 Exposition.

Now the opportunity is open to outside cities and people to subscribe for stock and have an especial interest in the 1906 fair. Its going to be $500,000, gentlemen; Portland doesn't ask you for anything, but it is too liberal not to give you the opportunity to subscribe it, if you wish to. We have already raised about $340,000, and are not near through yet. Let's all pull together, and make all parts of Oregon known.—Telegram.

"A Stranger in a Strange Land" will be played at the Opera house on Friday evening. The company is one of dramatic excellence with plenty of opportunity in the play for its exhibition.
