Farwell Reception.

On Thursday evening a large number of the friends of Miss Belle Robinson attended a farwell reception given in her honor, at the parlors of the Presbyterian church. A short, though very pleasant musical program was given; Miss Laura Parker rendered a piano solo with fine skill and expression. Mrs. Gault gave a vocal solo which was received very appreciatively. The unusual sweetness of her voice gives her songs a most charming quality. Miss Winnie Flanagan gave a piano solo with skill and excellence that seems remarkable in one so young and she was very enthusiastically applauded. Miss Robinson consented to play, and her solo was enjoyed with an appreciation intensified by the thought that this was probably the last time her playing would be enjoyed by a Grants Pass audience for a long time at least. T. P. Cramer, on behalf of the friends of Miss Robinson, presented her with a token of their regard. In well chosen words, he spoke of her years of faithful work here and the warm friendship which is given her by so many in this city and voiced the sorrow of all at her departure. Miss Robinson replied with an earnest talk that went straight to the hearts of her hearers, and spoke of her regret at leaving her friends in Grants Pass and her pleasant anticipation of the time when she should come again to visit them.

After the conclusion of the program, refreshments of coffee and cake were served and the evening was spent pleasantly, though a strong undercurrent of sadness was very evident, as the thought of Miss Robinson's leaving was uppermost in the minds of all the assembled friends.

Miss Robinson took her departure on Friday evening for Portland, where she goes to make her home with her brother. Many of her friends were at the depot to bid her farewell.

Jackson a Murderer.

The colored man who attempted to rob the store of J. M. Chiles in this city a few weeks ago, and who gave his name as Jackson when arrested, has been discovered to be "Yellow," the fifth member of the gang of foot pads who murdered policeman Eugene C. Robinson on the night of January 21st in San Francisco.

Sheriff Lister sent a photo of Jackson to Detective Seymour of San Francisco, who states in return that it has been recognized by the captured members of the gang as "Yellow." Policeman Chas. R. Taylor arrived in Grants Pass Wednesday night and took the negro to San Francisco for trial. The capture of the minkatto leaves only one member of the gang at liberty. Allan Goncher, son of Senator Goncher of San Francisco, has not been captured. "St. Louis Franz" and another one of the gang implicated in the crime were recently taken through Grants Pass to San Francisco to be tried.

Sheriff Lister, made an examination of the negro Wednesday morning and informed him of his being identified as one of the murderers of Robinson. A scar, much resembling a recently healed bullet wound was found on his left leg below the knee. He probably received this wound from Policeman Taylor who fired into the gang shortly after the crime and succeeded in bringing down William Henderson, one of the six.

School Notes.

Mr. Charles H. Jones, of Salem, editor of the Oregon Teacher's Monthly, paid the school a visit Friday in the interests of his paper.

For the first time in weeks there were no high school pupils absent on account of sickness last week. There has been more trouble than usual on this account this winter.

Manager Claude Williams and Captain Carl Marvin this week selected the school baseball team and expect to have it in good working order for the game with the clerks, next Tuesday.

The high school has been requested to furnish part of the two evening's program in the teachers' institute, next month. A high school chorus has been decided upon as part of what is to be furnished.

The members of the eleventh grade were greatly relieved to hear last week that the school board had decided that there was no need of commencement exercises this year. The reasons for the decision are that there is a possibility that another grade will be added next year and they do not wish to make the class go through the torture for three successive years.

Mr. Wm. R. Lord, of Boston, Mass., visited the school Tuesday, in the work of securing protection for the birds. He gave an address in the afternoon to the larger pupils and was listened to with attention. The plea for the protection of birds from indiscriminate slaughter was most interesting and instructive. It was based on humanitarian and economic reasons and on the beauty of the birds and the pleasure of associating with them. After school Mr. Lord spoke at the teachers' meeting, to secure the co-operation of the teachers and scholars in this work.

The Athenian literary society of the high school gave an exceedingly interesting program last Friday afternoon. The special features were the trio by Miss Ethel Hendon, Gussie Parker and Lillian Rourke and the instrumental solos by Miss Edna Howard. Each number was most enthusiastically applauded. The subject for debate was: "Resolved, that congress should pass laws prohibiting the formation of trusts." Howard Mitchell and Lillian Rourke spoke on the affirmative side, and Kirkman Robinson and Ethel Hendon, the negative. Both the young men digressed from the subject and adorned their speeches with humorous hits and illustrations. The young ladies spoke right to the point and put up the most of the arguments. The judges decision was in favor of the negative. The vote on the resolution by the society was a tie. There were a number of visitors present. The next meeting of the society will be held three weeks from last Friday and a special program will be prepared, as that meeting will be the last.

The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over 1/4 as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15 cts. and 25 cts. per package. Try it. Ask for Grain-O.

Boston's Blue Laws.

Boston will be tight in the clutches of the old blue laws on Sunday, says a dispatch from that city. No meats, fruits or confections of any kind will be allowed to be sold. No Sunday shopping will be allowed in hotels, and no bakery can remain open after 10 o'clock in the morning.

The Police Board has sent out the strictest orders to the various police captains instructing them to arrest all violators of the law. The motive behind the enforcement is believed to be an effort to force the legislature to repeal the ancient laws.

The Old Channel Mines.

Although late in the season the Old Channel mines, of Galice, continue to operate full blast night and day with an ample water supply, and sufficient snow in the mountains to keep the water up for some time yet. At the present time they have water for two giants aside from a heavy flow that is used in washing out Rich Gulch canyon just below the diggings where operations are being carried on. In this canyon there was an accumulation of wash gravel and tailings to a depth of 35 feet or more which had been dammed up by the former owners of the mine. Manager Harvey put in a system of sluices below the gravel and has washed the whole canyon clean to the bedrock. A rich cleanup will be realized from this gravel as much of it was slide and wash from the channel above.

From the Rich Gulch a vast amount of dirt has been removed by the two giants that have been kept constantly thundering upon the great bank since the water first came. This bank is over 200 feet in height and is worked from a distance of 400 feet. The great streams, cut deep into the base and the dirt comes off in great slabs of 10,000 tons or more. The bank pays evenly and well from the grass roots to the bedrock. The red clay capping on top contains four gold and this is saved by an excellent system of undercurrents.

New Galice Mining Project.

The St. Helens & Galice Mining Co., of Portland, with A. B. Conine as secretary, who owns considerable mining ground along Galice creek, embracing the Conine & Alderson mine, are negotiating for the purchase of the creek and work them as a single property and on a large scale. They intend to erect a large double flume in the bed of the creek and wash down and work out all of the bench gravels of the creek bed. Such a proposition would undoubtedly result in good returns as the gravel of Galice is rich in the gold that has been accumulating for ages past from the old channel or ancient river bed that runs parallel with and above the bed of the creek.

The Cantata.

Last Wednesday evening the Choral Union gave the second presentation of the cantata, "The Haymakers." In this cantata the Choral Union has done some of the very best work of its existence. The music of the cantata, especially that of the choruses, is far superior in quality of melody to that of other cantatas given, and is also far more difficult, though the scenery with which it was rendered made the difficulty an unknown quantity to all save the participants. The theme was perhaps inferior to that of the other cantatas, though it is of so entirely different a character that any comparison is out of place. "The Haymakers" is a comedy and there is little gravity in it. Its excellence lies in the brightness and beauty of its music and the liveliness of its scenes. The players were arrayed in appropriate costume of the farm, and in motion, gesture and appropriate pantomime throughout the play, sustained the idea of a lively band of haymakers, redeeming the cantata from a stiff and unnatural quality that most otherwise have resulted.

Another Mortality.

About two months ago, it was reported that John Moriarty was killed on the railroad near Tracy, Cal., and it was supposed here that a former resident of this city was the man killed. Recently, word was received by the family of J. Colby from the Moriarty's, which gives the assurance that the man killed was not the John Moriarty who is known here.

Being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, I found quick relief, and for the last ten days have felt better than for two years." ## Man of Stature.

One of the passengers on Tuesday's overland was a modern giant, a man seven feet, 10 inches in height. He is a French-Canadian and was discovered in the British Columbia woods, where he was peacefully pursuing his occupation as wood chopper. He now goes to San Francisco, where he will be placed on exhibition as one of the several wonders of the world.

An Oregon-Nebraska Romance.

It was Cupid who caused the mischief a couple of years ago, when Fred Childs of Shelton, this county, met Miss Ada Jarrett in Josephine county Oregon. Childs was a young farmer looking over the Oregon county and when he returned to his home he found that his heart had been left in Oregon and it was discovered that Cupid had also shot it full of little holes. It was a case where true love ran smoothly. The affection of the Nebraska youth was reciprocated by the Oregon maiden and distance did but make the heart grow fonder. The result was an engagement. Then the young man set to work to prepare a home on a farm of his own near Shelton. This spring it was completed—the cage was waiting. To save her affianced a long trip to Oregon and return, Miss Jarrett agreed to make the trip to Nebraska to meet and marry her lover. The two met in Kerney Friday forenoon when U. P. No. 6 arrived from the west. They were there. Afterward came the license and the clergyman and Fred Childs and Ada Jarrett were made man and wife at 3 o'clock by Rev. C. A. Mastin and left for their home at 5:30 with their own team and carriage. The fish wishes them much joy and extends most cordial congratulations.—Kearney (Nebr.) Hub.
