GREEN-APPLE WISDOM.
The accumulated wisdom of ten generations can't keep a boy from eating green apples. You can talk to him till you are tired, but it will do no good. He simply can't learn from anything but hard pit-of-the-stomach experience. He must have his own belly-ache before he will believe what you tell him. Now, men are just boys grown up. It isn't green apples any longer, but it's the same old comedy with new properties. It's the question, perhaps, of a Mower. It's the old chimera of getting value without cost. It's the Mower which "is just as good as the Osborne." And the lesson is only learned after the loss of many dollars you might have earned. Why not use the green-apple common sense that you learned as a boy?

Washing Letter.
WASHINGTON, May 5th, 1902.

There are no happier men in the national capital this week than delegates Dennis T. Flynn, Bernard S. Rodey and Marcus A. Smith, whose untiring efforts have accomplished what promises to be a signal victory for the omnibus territorial bill, which will be called up in the house of representatives tomorrow. Speaking of the campaign which he believes will result in staidhood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state, Mr. Flynn, "the future senator for Oklahoma," as his friends call him, said yesterday: "It has been a hard fight because of the numerous misconceptions in regard to my territory which existed in the house. I have labored early and late, in season and out, and now I believe a large majority of the members have some appreciation of the gigantic strides which Oklahoma has made. With a total indebtedness of $400,000, she has 2500 schoolhouses and the largest educational fund of any state in the Union. She has a larger assessed valuation than Wyoming. By a rule of the house the last census must be taken as a basis for congressional representation, and even on that basis we will have two representatives, something no other territory has had at the time of its admission; and if the actual population were taken, we would have three." In reply to a question, Mr. Flynn said that, had the party leaders been keenly alive to their opportunities, they might have admitted Oklahoma on strict party lines, but they were not and he was obliged to effect a coalition with the friends of New Mexico and Arizona in order to get the bill before the house. Recently he had been urged to abandon the advocates of staidhood for the other territories and push his own separately, but he had refused to go back on his friends and they would "sink or swim together." Mr. Flynn is most hopeful of favorable action by the senate.

Mr. Rodey is enthusiastic as to the prospects of staidhood for New Mexico. "It has been a long fight," said he. "For fifty years we have been pleading for staidhood. We have seen other territories with not half our claims admitted into the sisterhood of states, and they have prospered, as we will. Every false statement which has been made in regard to my territory, which has come to my notice, I have corrected, and I have written hundreds of letters to the press. Think of it! New Mexico furnished more soldiers to the Union army than any other state. Two-thirds of the president's regiment came from New Mexico. All our generous revenues have gone into the federal treasury, and without such assurance has been given to Porto Rico—that an equal amount would be expended within our borders. But victory is now in sight, and a territory which is equal in area to New York, New Jersey and all of New England, which built 800 miles of railroad last year, will soon become one of the fairest and most prosperous states in the Union."

Mr. Smith, being a member of the minority, had, perhaps, less influence in bringing about the success of the bill than the other delegates, nevertheless he has succeeded in marshaling the solid democratic vote in its support, notwithstanding the fact that the passage of the omnibus bill will add four republican and but two democratic votes to the senate. "It is not a party question," said Mr. Smith. "It is a case of simple justice, and one to which both parties are committed by their national platforms. Ninety-three republican and all the democratic votes are pledged to support the bill, and we believe success is insured."

All last week the democratic senators spent in condemning the policy of the administration in the Philippines, with the exception of Friday, when Senator Pritchard of North Carolina expounded the republican view. Today at 2 o'clock Senator Lodge will deliver the first broadside, and Senators Spooner and Beveridge are preparing speeches to be delivered this week. It is the hope of the republicans that a vote on the bill can be secured next Monday, although there are many who declare that the leaders are overoptimistic. Nothing particularly new has been brought out since

Washing Letter.
WASHINGTON, May 5th, 1902.

The senate adopted Senator Culberson's resolution calling on the secretary of war for a statement of the expense which the Philippines have been to the United States since their acquisition, and it is most likely that the figures will prove a revelation to the taxpayers.

The investigation of the committee on relations with Cuba has not developed anything sensational in regard to the possession by the sugar trust of Cuban sugar. In fact, the president, the treasurer and "raw sugar buyer" of the trust have all been examined and have stated, under oath, that the trust had no Cuban sugar. It would appear from their statements that reciprocity with Cuba would affect them little, one way or the other, and they positively deny having lobbied to procure Cuban reciprocity. The indications are that the adoption of the Teller resolution will strengthen the cause of the administration in urging congress to adopt a reciprocity law.

The House of Representatives has been displaying unusual activity during the past week. The omnibus public building bill, the agricultural and the District of Columbia appropriation bills have been passed, and the bill providing for diplomatic relations with Cuba will be sent to the senate in a few days. But two more appropriation bills remain, the naval bill and the general deficiency bill. The total sum of the general appropriation bills so far passed or reported amounts to $558,851,208.

The past week has witnessed the departure from the cabinet and from Washington of Secretary Long and his successor as secretary of the navy by former Representative, Moody of Massachusetts. The informal announcement comes from the white house that Henry Clay Evans is to be appointed consul-general in London in the place of the late William McKinley Osborne. As I have before stated, Mr. Eugene F. Ware succeeds Mr. Evans as commissioner of pensions.

A Strong Attraction.
Wiedeman's Big Show, an attraction that has played the California and Sound Circuit for the last year will open a week's engagement at the opera house on Monday, May 19 presenting as an opening bill, the four act sensational comedy, "Down in Egypt," a story of southern Illinois. This company carries 25 people and a great band and orchestra and special scenery and effects for all of their productions. Between acts five strong Vaudeville features are introduced making a continuous performance and avoiding the long waits. Prominent among the specialties is Nellie Wiedeman, the electric dancer with a wonderful color revelation, Petite Zella Marie, the child artist, Lyndon and Wrens, the Australian-American travesty stars in the laughable sketch, "The New Woman" introducing the latest songs and eccentric dancing, and Lawrence and Idalene, the society sketch artists. The solo orchestra is a feature that will please lovers of high class music. Ladies will be admitted free on Monday night, i. e. every lady accompanied by an escort, (lady or gentleman) holding one paid reserved seat ticket purchased before 9 o'clock Monday evening will receive one free admission. The prices are 10, 25 and 30 cents.

City of Medford Loses.
Judge Bellingher has declared that the city of Medford had no power to tax the franchise of the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Company. The suit was brought by the latter to enjoin the city of Medford from removing the poles and wires of the complainant from the streets of that city, under an ordinance imposing a license upon the company of $100 per year, and requiring an agreement not to charge customers in Medford more than $1.50 per month for its services.

The question involved was the power of the city under its charter. The court said that when the city gave the company a franchise, it might have charged for the franchise, but it did not. The court held that in the charter of the city the power of license as a means of regulating all business, implies a power to charge a fee therefor sufficient to defray the expenses of issuing the license and to compensate the city for any expense incurred in maintaining such regulation. When over it is manifest that the fee for the license is substantially in excess of what it should be, it will be considered a tax and the order imposing it void.

The provision of the ordinance in regard to charging no more than $1.50 per month for telephone service was not insisted upon by defendant. Its invalidity was conceded, and it was therefore not necessary to consider it. The demurrer to the bill of complaint was overruled.

An old farmer was in a merchant's office and asked if he would buy some fresh butter. The merchant told him that he would inquire if his wife needed any. So he stepped up to the telephone, called her up and talked a few seconds through the telephone. Then, turning to the country man, who was standing with his hands in his pockets, his eyes stretched, and his face very red, he told him that his wife did not need any butter. The indignant country man burst out: "Look here, mister, if you didn't want any butter, why didn't you say so? I ain't such a fool as to think that you've got your wife shut up in that little box!" And he went away leaving the merchant speechless.

Leland Sitings.

Times are lively and substantial at Kinneyville. Business is progressing on a solid basis.

John Hall is working his ledge on upper Grave Creek, and it is showing up very satisfactorily.

Our stores are doing a rushing business, and their delivery wagons are kept busy delivering goods.

Leland is thinking of getting a traction engine to carry passengers from the depot to Hotel Virtue and to other parts of our city.

Frank Niday made our town a business call one day last week. He says Hugo is too far from Leland to make a town, as Leland gets the trade from Hugo.

Linn Browning was in our burg one day last week. He reports times lively at Placer. A good deal of prospecting is being done in that section. The Columbia mine has plenty of water yet. The cool weather is favorable for mining.

S. B. Pettigill has been on the sick list, but is better at present writing. Uncle Burton is jumping around like a young man, although away up in the 70s. Being of Yankee stock, he carries his age well and is full of life and energy.

Mrs. Henry of Hugo made our town a visit one day last week. She reports quiet times at Hugo. She says they have the best field of barley in our county. It was sown early last fall and is ten feet high or less. She is selling very useful articles, but being so sedate and a light talker, the goods sell on their merits.

Speaking of different characters, we have a man here who is a woodcutter and, judging from his statements as to what he has been occupied in during his life, he is about 300 years old and is still hale and hearty. He is now employed in cutting wood for his health. If any one can beat that, then we will look around and see if we can find any old women. We have some that are very old. The climate here is so invigorating that it is conducive to longevity.

We are having mixed weather—sunshine and clouds, with very light showers. Vegetation never looked better at this time of year. I took a trip up Grave Creek recently. The scenery was grand—the fruit trees all in bloom, the alfalfa growing so luxuriantly, the stock in the valleys cropping the rich grass, and the air so bracing, that it made one think this world was a paradise. It is so late in the spring that we think all danger of frost is past, so we can calculate on a big crop of fruit.

We saw some parties from the Copper State mine recently. They showed us some rich rock that came from the mine. The rock had pieces of gold mixed through the quartz. A few years ago there was a class of men calling themselves miners who would travel over the hills digging little holes the size of hen's nests and say there was nothing in the country, but other miners would come in and give the ground a close examination and also go down on the quartz and would uncover a good ledge. The deeper they dug, the richer and better becomes the ledge.

The health of the people in this vicinity is good and the cool mountain air is bracing to one's nerves.

Bohemia Railroad.
Work has been commenced on the railroad grading of the Bohemia by the Pacific Coast Construction Company, represented by Campbell & Alexander, of Cottage Grove, Sunday evening about 9:30, four car loads of horses, tools, etc., arrived from Portland and were at once unloaded. Monday the company pitched camp near the Mosby creek bridge about four miles from town and Tuesday morning work was commenced. Gangs are working each way and are making rapid progress. The bridge gang is already at work and the rights-of-way clearing gang under foreman Masterson have several miles cleared.

The contract calls for 22 miles of finished track; the first 10 miles to be ready for rolling stock by July 31. One thousand tons of rails are now on the way and are expected to arrive this week.—Cottage Grove Leader.

Tourist Excursions to the East.
The travelling public will be interested to learn of the system of personally conducted excursion cars operated over the Rio Grande System, popularly known as "The Scenic Line of the World." They are the regular Pullman tourist or "ordinary" sleepers, provided with comfortable berths, bedding and linen of the Pullman standard. They have separate lavatories, are all well lighted and heated, and, in fact, are a most successful substitute for the more expensive "standard" sleepers. The difference arising from the character of upholstery furnished. A colored porter is in attendance with every car and besides him an excursion conductor, whose sole duty is to look after the pleasure and comfort of passengers in his charge.

These cars are run through to Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis and Chicago, making close connections for Boston, New York and all eastern points.

This feature of travel has become so popular that there is now established a regular service of nice cars each week, offering a variety of routes, and schedules so arranged that stop-overs may be made, if desired, at Salt Lake City, Denver, or any point between.

No extra charge is made beyond regular tourist rates.

To those interested will be glad to quote the lowest fares and furnish full information about the scenic beauties of the Rio Grande Route and its superior accommodations.

Wattle There is Time.
There is many a heart that is aching to-night,
For the want of a kind word spoken,
And many a soul that is perishing,
For the need of a friendly token.

O, speak the kind words that are needed to save
Some life from an ocean of sorrow;
Be quick, or the chance of a rescue may pass
And your help be useless to-morrow.

Don't grudge them the smile that will brighten their life,
Or the clasp of your hand when needed;
Or the time may come you will sorrow in vain
For the chance you so lightly headed.

Then speak the kind words while yet there is time,
And help some one's burdens grow lighter;
It may save some poor soul from the depths of despair,
And make your own life all the brighter.

There is many a heart that is aching to-night,
For the want of some loving token,
And many a life that is wrecked for the need
Of the words that are never spoken.
—Rural World.

Every one of us has a message from God to men. We are in this world for a purpose, with a mission, with something definite to do for God and man. It makes very little difference whether people hear about us or not, whether we are praised, loved and honored or despised, hated and rejected, so that we get our word spoken into the air and set going in men's hearts and lives.
—Sel.

A Pathetic Affair.
A pitiful story comes from the Philippines, relative to the death of a youthful soldier. The particulars looked out through a letter written by a fellow-soldier who was ordered to assist in the punishment which resulted in a tragedy.

The soldier, who was twenty-two years of age, obtained spirituous liquors and became intoxicated. While in this condition he began to abuse his lieutenant. The latter, mighty man of valor that he was, not charitable enough to consider the poor youth's frenzied condition, ordered his bound and gagged and thrown on the ground, and insisted that ice water be thrown into his face every few moments.

For a while the young man struggled, and then suddenly became quiet. A comrade examined him presently, only to find him dead.

A youthful life cut off in a distant land, and hearts far away bleeding for his untimely death and refusing to be comforted! What a comment on the civilization that lighens the traffic in
