HONORS FOR MISS SMITH.
The friends of Miss Mabel Smith of this city are pleased, though not surprised, to hear that she is to represent the sophomores of the University of Oregon in the coming oratorical contest at Eugene. The Oregonian says: "The sophomores of the University of Oregon will be represented in the local oratorical contest to be held in Eugene in February by a young woman, the class having chosen Miss Mabel I. Smith for this service. Young women have stood well in these contests in this state during recent years, and no doubt this young woman will add oratorical luster to the name of Smith, and be a credit to the class she represents in the coming contest."

THE COMPANION'S CHRISTMAS PACKET.
Can you think of a gift more certain to be acceptable than a year's subscription to the Youth's Companion? Is there anyone, young or old, who, having once had the paper in his hands and looked through it, did not wish to possess it for his very own? It is a gift which, far from losing its freshness as Christmas rooves into the past, grows more delightful, more necessary to one's enjoyment week by week.

If you wish to make a Christmas present of The Youth's Companion, send the publishers the name and address of the person to whom you wish to give The Companion, with $1.75, the annual subscription price. They will send to the address named The Companion's Christmas Packet, already for Christmas morning, containing the Christmas number, The Companion's Calendar for 1903, lithographed in twelve colors and gold, and subscription certificate for the fifty-two issues of 1903.

Full Illustrated Announcement of the new volume for 1903 will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address free.

COYOTES CHASE COWS.

The nocturnal yell of that mischievous and aggressive brute, the coyote, is no strange sound to the people of Grants Pass, who are frequently entertained with that wild and weird melody, but the corporal appearance of one of these beasts inside the city limits is unusual, to say the least. On Tuesday morning two large coyotes were seen chasing the cows in what is known as the "Straggle pasture," in the northeastern portion of town. The coyotes would run one on each side of a cow and, yelping and snapping, stimulate the terrified bovine to those horse speed, sending her at a terrific rate down the slope towards home. The coyotes ran easily with long leaps alongside the cows, but were evidently having a glorious season of fun and hilarity. On the approach of a man with a gun, there were two fleeting streaks of gray in the chapparal and their place was vacant.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

The Southern Oregon Medical association held its semi-annual meeting in this city on Tuesday. Heretofore the association has held annual meetings only, meeting in May. Hereafter, meetings are to be held semi-annually, in May and November. A very pleasant and profitable meeting is reported by the attending physicians and a banquet was given at Hotel Josephine in the evening.
Two lady physicians were in attendance: Dr. Maud Kremer and Dr. Prettyman.
The following physicians were present: Dr. Woods Hutchinson, Portland; Dr. Brauer, Ashland; Dr. Officer, Eagle Point; Dr. Hargrave, Phoenix; Dr. Pichel, Medford; Dr. Bowersox, Glendale; Dr. Twitchell, Roseburg; Drs. Van Dyke, Moore, Kremer, Flanagan, Smith, Findley, Maud Kremer and Prettyman, Grants Pass.

WOLF CREEK MINES.

The Wolf Creek Mining & Development Company has a large force at work on its quartz and placer properties. Besides four claims this corporation has 189 acres of valuable placer ground and splendid water rights on Wolf Creek. Much improvement and development work is prosecuted on these claims, new ditches are being dug and flumes built, while three ledges are being faced off preparatory to the driving of a main working tunnel.

Scribner & Henderson, who are the owners of a phenomenally rich porphyry vein on Wolf creek, lately put in an arrastre for the more rapid working of their ore. Much of their rock is profitable to work by the slow method of panning.
The ore is decomposed quartz and porphyry, soft and easily worked. About 15 tons per day may be run through the arrastre.

HUNTING FOR HOOLIGAN.
A good audience attended the "Hunting for Hooligan" show last Wednesday night. The play was of the character of comedy and was also presented in a villainously bad manner. It was finished and the curtain dropped just before the disgusted audience had made an entire escape.

STRIKE IN WILLIAMS DISTRICT.
A very rich strike is reported in the Williams mining district at the quartz mine which is now under development by Longfellow & Co. A vein four feet in width, has been uncovered in which the rock is immensely rich with free gold visible in profusion.

Mr. Himes is one of the best known men in the state of Oregon and has friends and acquaintances in every nook and corner of the state. He is absolutely untiring in his efforts for the society and is doing a work for our state which will be better appreciated in years to come than it is at the present time.

Lowe's Madison Square Theatrical Co. closed a successful week's engagement Saturday night at the Opera House, which was crowded. The last was one of the best in the repertoire and elicited hearty applause throughout. The company made a most favorable impression here and, if they return, will meet with a good reception. The leading lady, Miss Mildred Eddy, deserves special praise for her superb interpretation of the different roles during the week. She became a pronounced favorite with the audience, her histrionic ability being of a highly professional character. In all her difficult roles she is true to life.—Oregon City Herald.

Grants Pass Opera House, Wednesday, Nov. 13.

LAND AND LIVESTOCK COMPANY.
Articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office of Lane county last week, by the Oregon Land & Livestock Company. The principal office of the company is Eugene, and the capital stock is $1,000,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The incorporators are R. A. Booth, John F. Kelly and George H. Kelly.

The incorporators are all officers of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, and the new incorporation is practically a son of that company. Some time ago the Booth-Kelly Company secured the vast land grant of the Oregon Central Military Wagon Road Company. A portion of that land is west of the summit of the Cascade mountains and is valuable for its timber, and will be held to supply the mill of the company.

East of the summit of the Cascades, however, is a vast acreage in the grant on which there is no valuable timber. In order to utilize this property, the Land & Livestock Company was formed and the articles of incorporation cover every branch of the livestock business. It is the intention of the company to lease or purchase other lands adjacent and stock the property with herds and flocks and put it into a state of productivity.

YON YONSON.
The annual Swedish invasion is near at hand. The captain in charge this year is Mr. Nels Erickson, who, in the guise of "Yon Yonson" will endeavor to make all the female hearts in the audience capitulate to his charm of manner and rich humor. It is quite true that Yon Yonson has been seen here before, but this by no means makes Yon Yonson an old story. In fact, every thing in the production this year is absolutely new, from the actor who impersonates the title role, to the wood used in the log jam. The new Yon Yonson is Mr. Nels Erickson, originally a Swedish actor, who came to this country a short time ago and having made a hit in vaudeville on Broadway was immediately engaged to play the part of Yon Yonson this year. It has been stated that Mr. Nels Erickson brings to the character of Yon Yonson the charm which J. K. Emmett possessed in Fritz, and W. J. Scanlan gave to Myles Aaron.

At the Opera House, Monday, November 24.

A COCKATOO CIRCUS.
Prof. Montague and his wonderful troupe of Australian Cockatoos are in town and will open Thursday next at the building just vacated by the Grants Pass Banking & Trust Co. The Cockatoos are noted as being most marvelous in their performances and have had most favorable comment all along the line. Special attention will be given for the comfort of ladies and children, seats being provided for all. The opportunity of seeing this unique, refined exhibition of intelligence displayed by these birds will no doubt be taken advantage of by all who appreciate the perfection of training, combined with patience and humanity.

RAIN.
During the last part of the week our section was visited by a drenching rain which continued with unusual persistence for several days. The increased flow in the larger creeks enabled some of the placer mines to begin panning. As it was the first really heavy rain of the season, however, the greater part of the water went to saturate the ground and has increased the flow of the streams very little. The next rain will start the giants to work all over the county. The rain has been warm and not unpleasant; such as delights the heart of the true woodfowl.

EXPLOSION IN MAN'S EYES.
J. A. Crans, of Ashland, who has been spending the summer at his ranch at Fort Klamo, was brought home on Saturday, after a two days' hard mountain trip, the victim of a gas accident that may deprive him of his sight. He was using a new Winchester rifle, 40-90 caliber, and, after firing one shot, he opened the chamber to drop in another cartridge. The shell, for some reason, did not fit, and in an attempt to force it in it exploded and flew into Mr. Crans' eyes, wounding them most painfully. He was sent to the hospital at Portland.

NIGHT SCHOOL.
The night school, under the management of Prof. F. E. Young, was opened on Monday evening of this week. The school will be held on three evenings of each week; Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The studies are those necessary to a thorough business education and the night school gives opportunity for education in that line to those whose employment would preclude attendance at the sessions of a day school.

TO THE PUBLIC.
B. G. Mageon, representing Allen & Gilbert Co. of Portland and San Francisco, has opened a music store in the I. O. O. F. Bldg., with a full line of pianos, organs, sheet music and small musical goods. The prices will be same as in the city. Call and examine for yourself. Old instruments taken in exchange.

THURSDAY NIGHT, NOV. 13.

That rollicking success, Weber & Field's Fiddle Dee Dee will come to the Opera house for one night—Thursday, Nov. 13th. This clever burlesque will undoubtedly attract much attention from the lovers of mirth, melody and horse play, as there is much variety in Fiddle Dee Dee. The most conservative person will find something to his fancy, for it abounds with comedy, of the type that keeps you going from the rise to the fall of the curtain, while the music is very catchy and there is plenty of it.

There are a number of specialties which will be introduced in the piece and one of the most attractive being a cornet solo by Miss Irene Franklin who is easily the best lady cornetist in this country. There are three German comedians, a Hebrew and 40 beautiful girls whose work will please you beyond a doubt.

In the pretty dances that will be presented, are the Swiss dance, the Roxy Poy ballet, the pretty Molly Shaanon chorus and "Come Back my Honey Boy to me," sung by Miss Jessie Moore and the entire chorus. This popular burlesque ran for one whole year in New York, six months at the Pan-American Exposition and 111 performances at Fisher's Theatre, San Francisco, from where it comes here direct, making a Pacific coast tour.

TEACHERS LOCAL INSTITUTE.
Superintendent Lincoln Savage will hold a teachers local institute at Merlin on Saturday, Nov. 22. An interesting program has been arranged. In the evening an entertainment and box supper will be given at McConnell's hall, the proceeds to be applied for the purchase of an organ for the school.

THIRTY YEARS OLD.

The Christmas (December) Number of The Delinctor is also the thirtieth anniversary number. To be justice to this number, which for beauty and utility touches the highest mark, it would be necessary to print the entire list of contents. It is sufficient to state that in it the best modern writers and artists are generously represented. The book contains over 330 pages, with 34 full-page illustrations, of which 29 are in two or more colors. The magnitude of this December number, for which 728 tons of paper and six tons of ink have been used, may be understood from the fact that 91 presses running 14 hours a day, have been required to print it; the binding alone of the edition of 915,000 copies representing over 20,000,000 sections which had to be gathered individually by human hands.
