Southern Oregon's car of progress is laboring in the slough of indifference.

President Roosevelt has reminded congress that some consideration of treaties is necessary at this session. He wants the treaty with Colombia in regard to the isthmian canal and the Cuban reciprocity treaty acted upon and will call an extra session if they are neglected.

District attorney A. E. Reames is prominently mentioned as a very likely candidate for congressman on the democratic ticket. It is doubtful if the democrats could put forward a stronger man, Mr. Reames is a law of the late Congressman Tongue.

BRIDGE NOT TEMPORARY

So Says R. D. Cole, Who Helped Build It.

Editor Courier:

As an erroneous impression seems to have gone abroad concerning the Rogne river bridge, I would like to correct it, by your kind permission. It was stated in the Oregonian that a 'temporary''structure had been built, server goes one better by publishing the statement that long timbers had been borrowed from the S. P. By, and which would be replaced by a permabeen borrowed from the S. P. By and the "citizens" were building a temporary bridge which would do for the pressut, and the timbers were to be returned to the railroad after a while, when the real thing is built, and the last issue of the Courier also said "temporary."
