Greens City papers affirm that the report that portions of Del Norte and other northern California counties are to be included in the new reserve is a mistake, as the land office at Eureka has received no notice of withdrawal of lands from entry.

The Woman's Club News, the little daily issued by the Woman's club in the interest of the library, has been read with interest by the people of Grants Pass during the past week. It is a bright and interesting paper and crowded with effective arguments in support of the library. The ladies are to be congratulated on the success of their journalistic effort.

The first number of the Sentinel, Jacksonville's new paper, has reached us. It is published by Chas. Messer who was editor of the late Medford Success and in appearance is almost an exact fac-simile of that paper. It is full of news and is a good paper generally. The old town of Jacksonville has taken a new lease of life lately and is in the march of progress with the rest of Southern Oregon. The new publication has good prospects and deserves to succeed. Its name is historic, as the pioneer newspaper of Southern Oregon was the old Oregon Sentinel, published at Jacksonville many years ago.

Growth is a condition of life. A person who has life must grow. A city that has life must grow. Apply the scale to yourself and your town. Are you a better person and town this year than last? Now than ten years ago? If not, you are a dead branch and you will become less, brown and shriveled along your fresher and vigorous companions and towns. Keep the fresh sap of inspiration flowing through your veins, absorb new ideas and add to the strength of your fibers. Keep up with the growth of the great tree of which you are a part, and contribute your full share to its symmetry of development.—Woman's Club News.

Grants Pass has voted the library, by a small majority, it is true, yet enough to be decisive, and it is a cause for gratification that this result has been accomplished. In our opinion, it would have been a seriously disastrous measure to the town to have turned this project down. We have always favored the library and believed it will prove to be one of the greatest blessings and advantages that the town has ever enjoyed. There are others who believe differently as the vote very plainly shows, but we are convinced that the opposition is based mainly on misunderstanding and misapprehension and that the greater number of those who have opposed it will be converted in its favor when it is better known and understood. Its benefits will be for all, and all may enjoy them if they will.

By a piece of jugglery on the part of some one, Grants Pass was robbed of her reasonable rights in regard to the president's visit, and indignation is running high here in consequence. In the natural order of things the train should have stopped for water and taken on the helper here. The printed orders were to the effect that the helper should be taken on here, but at the last hour it was ordered to Woodville and the engineers were further instructed not to stop in Grants Pass on any account. Those orders were issued from the Ashland office but whether or not the dispatcher or there is responsible for the malicious discrimination against Grants Pass can not be known to a certainty, but he is under suspicion and if his cards do not burn there is no truth in the old superstition. Take out the element of malice and there remains absolutely no reason for the juggling of orders. The railroad company was extra and needless expense in sending the helper and crew 10 miles by the road to Woodville to run down hill again to Grants Pass. No time was gained by the maneuver, but on the contrary, several minutes were lost. It saved the president no trouble, for he came out on the platform and greeted the people as he went by. He did not retro till after the train was past Glendale and the plea that the change of orders was made for his comfort, is silly. Grants Pass gives another town in Southern Oregon, Ashland not excepted, and the knowledge of this fact adds to the bitterness with which the injustice is felt here. Let the parties responsible denote their selves.

SPRING AILMENTS.
There is an aching and tired feeling; the liver, bowels and kidneys become sluggish and inactive; the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite, no ambition for anything, and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is that during the winter, there has been an accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions a right exit, and by its tonic effect, fully restore the wasted tissues and give strength in place of weakness. See at Storor Drug Co.

Mr. Joseph Pomerville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so and is a well man to day. For sale at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT

Greets People From Rear Platform as Train Passes Through.

President Roosevelt and party passed through Grants Pass on Wednesday evening with their special train. The train passed through about nine o'clock and an immense crowd was waiting at the depot on the mere chance of getting a sight of him. An effort had been made to procure a stop of a few minutes. In the natural order of things the helper engine would have been taken on here, which would have given the president time for a word or two with our people, but for some unexplained reason, or perhaps without reason, the helper was ordered to Woodville and was taken on there. No stop was made here, but the train ran very slowly through town and the president appeared on the rear platform, smiling and waving his hand to the enthusiastic people. After the train passed, many of the people followed in the vain hope that it would stop at the water tank, but it did not. Two lands were on hand to make music of the occasion; our own home band and that of the Allen stock company who postponed their entertainment till after the train went through. It was a pleased and gratified crowd that left the depot for the feeling was that the president had done the best he could for us under the circumstances.

Mr. Roosevelt's face has become so familiar to us through his pictures that he looked like some old friend and his manner was full of friendliness and appreciation. The program for the musical evening, May 22, is as follows:
Piano Solo Miss Lucus
Solo Miss White
Piano Solo Clara Kremer
Quartets Parker sisters

Mr. Geer's Address.
Hon. T. T. Geer speaks at the opera house on Saturday evening to a rather small audience. Mr. Geer is a very interesting and logical speaker, though his subject, the tariff, however appropriate it may be to the occasion, is not one to promote enthusiasm.
His speech was well received by the democrats who are of the opinion that he had always been right with the democrats. He spoke brightly of the good work which hunger has done in the hearts of many to study nature for art's sake and come to the department with the intention to do honest work along these lines.

Art Exhibit.
The Art exhibit of the Woman's club is assuming large proportions. Exhibits are coming in and words of encouragement are being received every day, not only from our own district but from our sister club women of the neighboring towns.
The doll exhibit will be a very entertaining feature of the show. Mrs. Lucia Parker who has in charge will have a hospital where the sick will be cared for by competent trained nurses. Those who have dolls with fractured skulls, broken limbs and lesions in need of a physician's skill, bring them to the committee with their beds and gowns, if you have them, and be admitted for 5 cents on children's day. She will also have a Japanese tea garden, skating scene, Esquimaux village, bridal party, Indian wigwam and dolls of every nationality. The doll exhibit alone will occupy one of the largest rooms.
The rose and flower show will be one of the most beautiful departments of the exhibit. The committee on decoration in charge, are perfecting arrangements with florists all over the county and expect to have one of the finest displays ever placed before the people of Grants Pass. Mrs. W. C. Hale, chairman of committee on painting etc, has secured a number of fine oils and water colors from Portland and San Francisco, which will be on sale at the art rooms. All pictures and articles for sale will be so marked. A number of good paintings, etchings and copies, have been found in our own town which will be a pleasure to study. The young people are invited to bring their drawings, sketches and paintings, as we hope to have a large amateur exhibit from the public schools.
The needle work department of the Woman's club is growing, and those who have work to exhibit will consult the chairman, Mrs. Hatch, as that department will have exclusive charge. Glass cases will be provided by the department for the small valuable exhibits such as laces, handkerchiefs, fine needlework etc., which will be locked and looked after by attendants from that department.
Old pots, kettles, quilts of antique age, dishes and curios of every description will be in charge of Mrs. R. Booth and committee, and those who have anything in that line will please consult her.
A poster exhibit will be conducted by Miss Myrtle Ireland which will be very attractive and draw large crowds.
There will also be a mystery, a native of Oregon, as white as snow, with pink eyes. He probably weighs more than you do. The species is rare and almost extinct. DO NOT FAIL TO SEE HIM.

Art Department.
The Art Department will close class work for this year, Saturday, May 23 at Woodman Hall, 2:30 sharp. During the five months twelve papers have been read. John Van Dyke's text books have been advocated and plans formulated for more extensive work in the future. It is the hope of the department to be able to secure a good instruction both in oils and water color for the coming year.
The Art exhibit has taken up some of the time and it is hoped that lasting good may come and a desire be born in the hearts of many to study nature for art's sake and come to the department with the intention to do honest work along these lines.

that the glasses I was using were in some way responsible for the condition of my eyes, and in hope of bettering the condition of my eyes I consulted several of the supposed best opticians in the city and some physicians also, and had a half dozen pair of spectacles made especially for me but without obtaining any appreciable relief. About ten months ago I consulted you and obtained from you a pair of reading spectacles and also a pair for outdoor use and the effect was marvelous. Within less than a week the inflammation left my eyes entirely and since that time I have never experienced the slightest difficulty with my eyes. In fact I have hardly been conscious of their existence. Your glasses have in truth accomplished that which you promised for them namely that they would make "me see without trying to see." Very respectfully J. Wade McDonald.

The Oregonian speaks of the native Oregonians raising so few children. The truth is they haven't the ambition to support a family. What a change in this state in the last few years; as [we have a new influx of people from the states business of all kinds has improved.

We are receiving nice, quiet showers of cloud juice. As our crops were needing a little cloud juice it comes very acceptably. Crops of all kinds are doing well. People have been engaged in irrigation. The hay crop will be large. The wheat and oats have a good color and promise a good crop; a very little wheat is raised in this vicinity as it pays to raise hay; that means fat stock.
