BOOKS AT ROTERMUND'S

New Line of Handsome and Popular Works Just Installed.

Lovers of books and those who keep up with the pace in literature may find a pleasurable opportunity for satisfying their wants in this line, at the store of H. A. Rotermund. An extensive and carefully selected line of books has recently been added at this popular establishment and readers who visit the store will find their fancy suited, both as to quality and price.

All the more popular publications in late fiction have been secured. It would be a very discriminating reader indeed who would be unable to satisfy his critical taste in the wide range of theme and style that is here presented for his selection. "John Henry", "Down the Line", "Peggy O'Neil", "Under the Rose", "Lovey Mary", "Barbara", "Blennerhassett", "The Valtures", and many others, late publications, in their very titles suggest the pleasant variety presented for the readers' approval.

In the line of gift books, there are many beautiful styles, poems within and without, in tasteful binding and beauty of finish that charms the eye immediately. The Luxembourg and other handsome editions of standards and classical works are on display and many artistic details of printing and binding add to the pleasurable quality of the books in this department.

There are juvenile books for all stages of youth, from "The House That Jack Built" up the scale indefinitely. The line of paper backs and the cheaper cloth editions is unusually desirable and well selected. The 20 cent line of cloth bound books is an attractively neat edition and all the different lines are noticeable for their unusual excellence.

For 10 acres of orchard, one mile from postoffice—easy terms. Must sell at once at the above bargain price. Joseph Moss, City.

A GOOD SHOWER OF RAIN

Vegetables and all Later Crops Are Greatly Benefited.

On Wednesday afternoon and evening Southern Oregon was given quite a drenching rain shower, the heaviest that has fallen since the first of April. Several times during the night it rained heavily and the ground in the morning appeared well soaked. This rain is of course too late to help the grain crop but all later vegetables will derive a good deal of benefit thereby. Corn, potatoes, watermelons, squashes and like products have received a stimulus for growth that will make a noticeable difference in the quantity that will be marketed in this district.

He passed Roseburg and tried to work Oakland but failing there, started northward on foot and was captured at Rice Hill by Sheriff Parrott Saturday evening.
