> A young man who was at church with his parents was deeply impressed by the sermon of the minister; but on the way home the father criticised the discourse, and made several disparaging remarks about it. As the father was a member of the church, as well as a kind father in the family, the effect of his criticisms was that the serious thoughts of the son were dissipated, and the solemn lessons of the sermon entirely lost their power over the young man.

As another instance, a weman who often criticised her pastor in the family saw her children growing in different to the church and to relia ions things, and said to her pastor with tears: "Doctor, can't you help me to save my boys."

"Madam," he replied, "I have no influence with your boys. You have talked it all away." What a lesson to all to speak with
