

W. C. T. U. Column

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Mary Fay, October 9, at 3:30 p. m. Keep Away. My boy, keep away from temptation. It may conquer you ere you think: 'Tis a perilous thing to dally And toy with the demon, drink. Many stronger than you have tarried, They were safe and secure, they thought. Yet they yielded, one fatal moment, And wide-spread ruin was wrought So keep away from temptation. 'Tis your safest plan, my dear son Do not sully our life's fair record Ere your manhood's will be gone. For there's nothing but sorrow follows In the wake of a man's first drink. Do not take the first step, it may plunge you Down over perdition's brink. —Charlotte Archer-Raney.

"Race Suicide" as Viewed by a Woman.

Of late I have read various articles in regard to race suicide. In these, woman is charged with having lost the God-given desire to become a wife and mother. Various reasons are assigned for this, but I have not seen what I believe to be the greatest cause of this loss. Is it not because our nation has refused to protect the home that the American woman refuses to become a wife? She has wept, prayed and petitioned our state and national governments to throw around the home of this country, some protection from the greatest curse this world has ever known. But instead of granting her request "this land of the free and home of the brave" has gone into partnership with the home destroyer, so the only reply weeping, petitioning womanhood receives is: Go help make homes, be patient, bear children, and each year we will only lay about 100,000 of them in drunkards' graves, and we cannot tell just how many of them we will place in almshouses, county jails, penitentiaries and insane asylums.

It is not because woman loves a peevish dog more than a baby that she chooses the dog, but if she pays the tax and puts a collar on her dog she is protected by the law from the dog-slayer. But tell me, if you can, how a mother can protect her boy? She won't down to the gates of death to give him birth. She counts this as naught for the joy that a man child is born. She watches over him, sleeping and waking, warns him of the intoxicating cup, but it avails not. Ere the blast of youth has left his cheek, she sees him offered a sacrifice on the altar of his nation's greed. What wonder that woman buys a ranch, goes into sheep raising instead of raising boys? Wool growers are protected, and if the wolves should abound our government would pay so much per head for their destruction. But the destroyers of our sons is protected by law; his business is legalized. When the voters of the country make the raising of children a safe business, then will our daughters become wives and the joyful mothers of children, "and the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof." —Elizabeth A. Ivey, in Michigan Christian Advocate.

Bad Company.

Shun evil companions. There is nothing truer than that "Evil communications corrupt good manners." Many a young person's failure to become truly good and great is due to a choice of daily associates. Like the water frog that acquires the color of whatever object it adheres to for a short time, so it is with us; we generally resemble those with whom we associate. The following story is told of a bird that fell into bad company: The crow, one spring, began to pull a farmer's young corn, which he determined to prevent. He loaded his gun and prepared to give them a warm reception. The farmer had a cecile parrot, which, discovering the crows pulling up the corn, flew over and joined them. The farmer detected the crows, but did not see the parrot. He fired among them, and hastened to see what execution he had done. There lay three dead crows and his pet parrot with ruffled feathers and a broken leg. When the bird was taken home the children asked: "What did it, papa? What hurt our pretty Polly?" "Bad company! Bad company!" answered the parrot in a solemn voice. "Aye, that it was," said the farmer. "Polly was with those wicked crows, and when I fired she received a shot intended for them. Remember the parrot's fate, children. Beware of bad company." Polly never forgot her adventure in the cornfield, and it is said that if ever the farmer's children engaged in play with quarrelsome companions she always cried out "What did it, papa? What hurt our pretty Polly?" "Bad company! Bad company!"

A Million Every Month.

By manufacturing and selling a million records every month, the Columbia Phonograph Co. has achieved the end for which it has long been striving—the reduction in the price of its High Speed Moulded Cylindrical Wax records from 50 cents each to 25 cents. Simultaneously with this reduction in price a new record, greatly superior to any that has ever been offered for sale is being furnished—a black superhardened record both durable and brilliant and combining sweetness and smoothness with remarkable volume. These records will fit all talking machines using cylindrical records and the facilities for manufacturing them have been increased to an extent that will enable the Columbia Phonograph Co. to produce a practically limitless supply. The Columbia Phonograph Company, 125 Geary Street, San Francisco, headquarters for graphophones and talking machine supplies of every kind, will send you catalogues on application.

CANNOT CROSS THE PARK

Next Year the Stock Must Find Another Route.

Supt. Arant of the Crater Lake National Park, has been advised by the Interior Department to permit Al Mellase, of Fort Klamath, to drive 2000 sheep over the public park to the Fort Klamath winter feeding ground not later than October 14. In the same letter, the superintendent was again advised to warn cattlemen in that section that such permits will not be issued during the season 1904. The Interior Department is emphatic in stating that other means will have to be advised in future for driving cattle and from the several ranges that across this section of the reserved public domain.

Do You Want to Yawn?

Feel cold shiverings, aching in bones, lack of energy, headache, and general depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition known as malaria. Herbine cures it. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have used your great medicine, Herbine, for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, biliousness, and for a blood-purifying tonic, there is nothing as good. 50c at Slover Drug Co."

Concentrates.

Mining and Scientific Press. Ores containing free gold which is at all coarse, cannot be successfully treated by cyanidation, as the coarse particles of gold will not dissolve in the solution. Such ores should first be amalgamated, and subsequently the tailings may be cyanided, if they contain sufficient values to warrant it and it is found the material is amenable to the process.

The grade of mill plates is variable, ranging from 1 1/4 inches per foot to 2 1/2 inches or over. Heavily sulphuretted ore requires heavier grades than lighter quartz, comparatively free from sulphides or other substances of high specific gravity. The amount of water employed in the battery, also has an important influence on the amount of grade given the plates. A large volume of water with heavy grade is almost certain to result in scouring. Many millmen divide their plates into a series of steps. The height of drop should be about 1/2 inch, as a greater drop will cause scouring.

Without doubt, the "order of drop" of stamps in a battery has an important influence on the capacity of the battery, if not also on amalgamation. If the stamps are allowed to fall in the order 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, it would result in the pulp being all driven toward the end of the battery where No. 5 is located. It is the aim of the mill man to have an even distribution of pulp in the battery at all times, and this is accomplished to a great extent by the sequence of drop of the stamps. The two methods most in vogue are 1, 3, 5, 2, 4 and 1, 4, 2, 5, 3. Beside these 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 1, 5, 3, 2, 4 are also often used. In various regions the number of stamps per mortar varies all the way from a single stamp to eleven stamps, but long experience has demonstrated that the most satisfactory results are obtainable with five stamps per mortar where more than two stamps are employed.

of toughest steel becomes a dull edge if it is to do good work. Constant work dulls a man as it dulls an ax, makes him sluggish of body and dull of mind. He needs a tonic, something that will restore the keenness of mind and activity of body.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore the weak, worn-out, run-down men and women. It strengthens the weak stomach, purifies the blood, and effectively stimulates the liver. The whole body is built up with sound, solid flesh by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I was confined to my bed for four months from January 1st, 1899, and was unable to get up from my medicine January 15th, 1899." writes Mrs. B. H. ...

"Don't be fooled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as 'just as good' as 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the 'Discovery,' which is 'just as good' medicine can show. Illnesses are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets."

THE RECORD ASSESSMENT

This Year's Valuation of Oregon Property the Largest.

From what can be learned in unofficial advices, from the different counties of the state, it seems probable that the total value of the taxable property of the state as shown by the assessments recently completed, will be in the neighborhood of 175,000,000, says a special from Salem. This will be in round numbers $25,000,000 greater than last year.

From almost every county comes the report that valuations are being advanced and that new property is being added to the assessment rolls, so that the total increase for the entire state will be large.

The highest assessment ever made in Oregon was that of 1902, when the total valuation was over $165,000,000. The valuation had grown to that sum by steady advances from $84,000,000 in 1887. From 1900 onward the counties began to vie with each other in reducing the assessments in order to escape a portion of the burden of state taxes. The state taxes were apportioned among the counties in proportion to the assessed valuation and as each county controlled its own assessment, it could gain something by reduction. In 1900 this process of reduction had brought the total assessed valuation down to $117,000,000. In order to put a stop to this rivalry in reducing assessments the legislature of 1901, passed an act providing that state taxes should be apportioned among the counties at a fixed ratio. The beneficial results of this change was seen the first year, for the total assessment that year was $141,000,000, and in 1902 it had grown to over $148,000,000. If it shall reach $175,000,000 this year, as it now seems probable, the valuation will then be the highest in the history of the state.

Do Good—It Pays

A Chicago man has observed that "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it, for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by all druggists.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by all druggists.

THE DRAUGHT BLACK-DRAUGHT THE ORIGINAL LIVER MEDICINE. A yellow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowels troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney trouble, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Theford's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Theford's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Theford's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor. Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901. I have used Theford's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints. Rev. A. G. LEWIS.
