

Many a Cook is Up a Stump

TO GET SOMETHING GOOD FOR DINNER

Well, that seems easy—Here is our recipe: Go to the

WHITE HOUSE GROCERY

Call for some Fresh Split Peas, a small dose of Noodles, some Maccaroni or Vermacelli in bulk (cheaper than in packages), to this add a pound or so of Sago or Tapioca—don't mix, but store it in the pantry and use when the fire and the inclination are right. To the above you might add Rex Extract of Beef, 50c jar for 40c and obtain one of those fine Bouillon Spoons—no family ought to be without it.

Oh, my! We almost forgot to call your attention to our Clam Chowder and Mincea Sea Clams, Baked Beans, Dry Beans, White Beans, Red Beans, Lima Beans, and even Seed Beans; Soup Peas 5c per pound.

Why, we could almost swamp the average cook if they would only give up half a chance.

Better prepare your gardens early. Onion sets and all kinds of garden seeds on display at our store.

Remember the place,

The White House Grocery.

THERE IS PROFIT FOR YOU

in the prices we are making on Airtight Heaters. In order to reduce our stock before Spring we are making a on all our Heating Stoves. They are new goods and we have a good assortment.

15 PER CENT DISCOUNT

Cramer Bros.

Odd Fellows Block.

HERCULES POWDER, FUSE AND CAPS.

"White" is King

We have accepted the agency for the Best Sewing Machine on Earth. Is your old machine giving perfect satisfaction? Why not exchange it for a WHITE? Call and see the modern White at our store, or drop us a card and our representative will call at your home with a machine and give you an exhibition of its wonderful working qualities. Our terms are very reasonable.

HAIR-RIDDLE HARDWARE Co.

Grants Pass, Oregon.

The Great McEwen

Scottish Hypnotist and Magician.

OPERA HOUSE FOR THE ENTIRE WEEK COMMENCING

Monday, February 1, 1904

Tickets on sale at Horning & Depuy's Monday and week.

doors open at 7:30; curtain 8:00; Change of program nightly.

PRICES

General admission 20c, Reserved Seats 30, Children 10c.

For hardness, says the Del Norte record, the report of the five best work in the San Francisco papers, the case. The scene was transferred to Grants Pass. John McAmara was seriously injured and the balance of the guests of the Del Norte almost froze to death on the streets, in the scant attire they were able to escape in, from the raging red. Madge Yates lost her saloon and several other dreadful things happened. We can forgive all but the fact that we are charged with being territory of Oregon. The learned editors who throw boogies at a simplicity of the country folks could take a course of study on the geographical position of the cow states in California.

Two Days A Lady Wants a Tailor Made Suit at a Reduced Price. BOX 25 The Red Star Store.

OUR PERSONAL COLUMN

People as They Come and Go From Day to Day

J. O. Booth went to Portland Saturday.

H. L. Truax visited Portland last week.

J. H. Bashor spent the fore part of last week in Jackson county.

T. K. Anderson came up from Galice Monday, returning home Tuesday.

Bert Carvel of Greenback was in town Friday on a brief business visit.

J. E. Patrick, wife and baby went to San Francisco Friday for a few weeks vacation.

Geo. G. Feikert, who is quite ill, went to his mother's home in Ashland last Thursday.

G. M. Clement, S. P. fireman, has been transferred to Dunsmuir and left for that place Friday.

Mrs. A. E. Voorhies and son returned Monday night from a visit at Portland and Salem.

George Green, the veteran quartermaster of Galice, has been spending several days in Grants Pass this week.

T. F. Tobey, superintendent of the Oregon Children's Home society visited Grants Pass last week, in the interest of that society.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pool came to Grants Pass last Thursday on account of the illness of Mr. Pool's mother. Roy returned to Ashland Friday.

James Wertz spent a few days in town this week from Gold Hill where he is assisting his father, M. A. Wertz in moving the machinery for the big dredge on Footh creek.

Messrs. Sutherland and South, of the Greenback mine, returned on Thursday from the Applegate district where they had been spending some time in the investigation of mining properties.

A. H. Gunnell left Tuesday night for New York to make annual report to the home office of the New York & Western Mines Co. Mr. Gunnell will go by the southern route and will visit New Orleans, St. Louis and other points before returning.

Miss Belva Moore left Saturday for her home in Chicago, after spending a few months here in the employ of the Golden Drift Mining Co. as assistant book keeper. She will visit in California for a few days and will be joined by John D. Cavell, Mrs. Amant's father, who left for his Chicago home Monday.

Impaired Digestion Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion. 50 cents a bottle at Slover Drug Co.

Ed Harriott, the Williams stage driver, had a narrow escape on Thursday from serious injury by a vicious horse. The animal is one which is driven in his team, and he entered the stall ignoring, for the moment the animal's peculiarities. The horse began kicking at Harriott in the narrow stall. He was struck on the arm, the blow bruising the member severely and all but breaking the bone. A particularly vicious kick caught the leg of his trousers, tearing the garment in a ruinous manner. Harriott finally escaped by crawling under the manger and a little later untied the animal and gave it a few lessons on the advisability of more orderly deportment.

W. I. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

W. L. Sweetland's dogs in the rear of his meat market which adjoins the post office were found that morning in an apparently excited condition, with their noses close to the corner toward the rear of the post office, and it is thought the attempt must have been made shortly before opening in the shop. There is a clew to the burglars. The crowbar with which the door was forced is the property of John Nalowski and was taken by the burglars from among his tools.

OWNS HIS WATER PLANT

O. O. Lund Making a Handsome Place on Iowa Street.

O. O. Lund, who last year purchased the Cochran place on Iowa street, is making it one of the handsomest among the homes near town. The situation is a beautiful one, the slope of the ground being very symmetrical, and the building site is one of the handsomest of the vicinity. Since acquiring this property, Mr. Lund has remodeled the house and made a number of additions to the buildings. He has cleared the ground of the stumps which marred the appearance of the place and has dug up the poorer trees of the long neglected orchard and trimmed and pruned the remainder into a far better appearance and prospect of profitable crops. He is now preparing to enclose his place with a neat wire fence.

He will plant an avenue of rose bushes between the house and the front gate and ground about the residence will be seeded for a lawn. The most noteworthy of the improvements which Mr. Lund has instituted on his place is the water system. He has a water plant that will furnish an ample supply of water for domestic use and for the small amount of irrigation that the ground needs to make it produce in abundance. The water is pumped from the well into a tank, the power being furnished by a two horse power gasoline engine. The tank has a capacity of 100 barrels and is of sufficient height to cover the greater portion of the place. It is filled by a double action force pump which throws a continuous stream. Pipes lead from the tank in different directions and about 900 feet of pipe will be used.

This water system is one that could be used with good effect on a great many of the places of this valley. If more of the residents would take the pains to beautify their homes that Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

Mr. Lund is doing, the good effect could not be computed. Nature has done her part toward making this the most beautiful country in the world and her efforts should be supplemented by those of the residents. This ought to be made a country of beautiful homes.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Brief Notes and Items of Interest and Importance.

Dr. Flanagan, Physician and Dentist.

Go to Coron for Plumbing.

Bargains in ribbons and Lace at Wade's.

I am in the timber business.—W. B. Sherman. My location fee is $125.

A splendid line of Royal Charter Oak Ranges at Coron's.

Leave orders for fir, oak and pine wood at Ike Davis' second hand store.

Men's Furnishing Goods to be closed out regardless of cost at Wade's.

C. C. Daniels, real estate and rental agent, Cor. Eighth and M streets.

A Bow and Arrow given away free with every pair of child's shoes at R. O. McCroskey's. See them in the window.

If you intend filing on a timber claim, you had better do it before the end of this term of congress.—W. B. Sherman, Rooms 10 and 12, Masonic Temple.

Having received one of the latest improved New Century Engraving machines we are prepared to do all kinds of engraving; goods bought from us engraved free. Curtis & Co., Odd Fellows' Building, Grants Pass, Oregon.

My location fee is $125.—W. B. Sherman.

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens from $2.50 up at Cramer Bros.

I can now show parties three quarters in one section of very heavily timbered government lands.—W. B. Sherman.

Mrs. Harrison, Associate of the Royal College of Preceptors and late Member of Trinity College, London, is prepared to receive a limited number of pupils for lessons on the piano. Residence, the Stewart house, 23d St.

Come and see me about some relinquishments which I can show you suitable for first class timber claims or homesteads.—W. B. Sherman.

The meetings in the Newman M. E. church are increasing in interest from night to night. The sermons preached by Rev. Sanford Snyder are forceful, eloquent and practical. All will be made welcome to these services.

A combination of the best dental work that skill and experience can produce, with moderate prices at Dr. Jennings' dental office. At the sign of the big tooth, Opera house block, Grants Pass.

The annual apportionment of the five per cent land sales fund has been made. The total fund is $90,135.24 and is divided among the several counties according to the acreage of each. Josephine county has 1,099,520 acres and receives the sum of $1,625.81. Jackson county receives $2,642.17; Douglas, $4,825.87; Klamath, $5,787.79; Lake $7,885.83.

Chas. H. McCartney, the "missing man" whose clothes and their effects were found near Ashland about a year ago, has been heard from. He is at Dawson City, well and rich. It is now supposed that the bundle of clothes had been stolen from him, ransacked for gold and then hidden. Their discovery produced quite a sensation and the affair remained a mystery until lately.

Henry Hocking, while playing ball with other boys at the Wilderville school house last Friday, fell and broke his collar bone and is temporarily laid up.

T. J. Catterlin and G. W. Johnson arrived from Portland Monday and went to visit the mines on Williams creek the next day.

Some excellent farms, both large and small on the Rogue, Applegate, and Illinois rivers in Josephine County, Oregon. Also all kinds of town property in Grants Pass, for sale on easy terms by Atty. H. B. Hendricks, Office on Sixth street near postoffice.

The annual business meeting of Bethany Presbyterian church was held on Thursday evening in the church parlors with a good attendance. Prior to the meeting a delicious supper was served in the parlor by the ladies of the church. The reports from the several departments of the church showed that a good record has been made for the year. The church's financial condition shows a very marked improvement and gratifying progress in other ways is manifest.

For Sale Cheap. Lodging house and restaurant, doing a good business. For price, etc., inquire of Mrs. A. Mallory.

J. M. Trefron, dealer in fruits and vegetables, poultry and eggs, fresh fish and Eastern oysters. Front St.

Needles, repairs and supplies for all makes of sewing machines at