Nearly every train coming from the East will enter California from one end and return by the opposite direction, thus affording the passengers a chance to see the greatest stretch of country possible. California covers a latitude equal to that from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, with perhaps a greater variety of temperature, scenery, products and greater wonders than can be seen on the rest of the American continent. Traversing California from the extreme south to the north, the pilgrims will have an opportunity to see the ric's mining regions which have supplied the world s stock of the precious metal which has greased the wheels of commerce for the past half century. They will see miles of orchards, vineyards, orange groves, the largest hopyards in the world, wheat fields larger than some counties in the States, lofty mountains, and many of the natural wonders of California.

The fare for the round trip is to be made the lowest in the history of transcontinental travel. That may be one inducement for people to make the trip though not the only one. During the Conclave, before and after the people of California, all the people of the whole Pacific slope, will entertain the visitors at an endless round of festivities. Tourists will have an opportunity to avail themselves of the numerous excursions and side trips at a nominal cost, see California at its very best, and enjoy the generous hospitality of the real westerners. The event is to be made the most memor able of any gathering on the Pacific
