In attending to orders for repairs either in machinery or castings, they would give special attention and would work nights if need be to get the work out on the shortest possible time. Good work and reasonable prices would be their rule. Following Mr. Hall, Jos. Moss, H. L. Gilkey, W. B. Sherman and H. C. Kinney each briefly ex- pressed their gratification at the start- ing of this new industry, of the ad- vantage it would be to Grants Pass. At the close of the spectuating, Ed Baerlocher, who is a director of the Company and is associated with Mr. Hall in the active work of the busi- ness, blew the whistle and turned on the steam to the engine and the ma- chine shop put in active operation and work was/begun on the first order, which was some rupair work (for the Owl Creek Mining Company. The machine shop is fitted with a lathe for turning iron that can bandle up to 15 feet in length, and to 55 inches in ercemfreence. The planer will make a cut of 11 feet at one setting, but a longet length of iron can be planed by noving it forward when one section is finished. Up to 30x36 square inches can be planed. Drill press, wood, turning lathe and other ma- chinery complete the machine shop.	For the past five months Messra. Forder & Gunnell have had a force of men at Oregon Belle, working in two shifts day and night with power drills, developing the mine. While this development work was being carried on, a large part of the cre- taken from the tannels was milled on a Huntington mill and these mill tosts have demonstrated that the ore is of high grade and as a large body of it has been opened up, the company felt fully justified in the erection of a mill which is to be one of the beat equipped and up-to-date in Southerm Oregon. The Oregon Belle is in the same ore belt and on the opposite side of the Jackson creek divide from the Opp mine, there is overy reason to ex- pect that it may prove to be as great a gold producer as its famous neigh- bor, which is now paying handsome dividends each month. PROGRESSION THE MOTTO Re-Organization of Grants Pass Real Estate Firm. Progression and enlargement of bus- iness facilities is the watch word of Grants Pass business men, and es- pecially is this true of the real estate firms, who are anticipating a year of gonernal prosperity of Southern Ore- gon and of a big rush here of home- seekers and investors, are getting thomselves into shape to be at the front of the procession of progress.	of Grants Pass should be so highly bonored, is the greatest of satisfaction to the many friends in this city of Mr. Miller, and they feel that in his larger field of diplomatic work, he will show the same energy, ability and integrity that characterized him when he was a citizen of Grants Pass and later when holding the most important consulship in the Orient and in the storm-center of Japan-Russian and the seat of a growing commerce that is rapidly be- coming an important factor in Ameri- can foreign trade. On the request of City Superinten- dent R. R. Turner, Consul-General Miller has consented to give a lectare in Grants Pass the last of March, on his experiences in China and Japan and of his observations in the war now on between Japan and Russia. The lecture will be illustrated by a set of fine stereopticon views and the proceeds of the evening will go to the public school library fund. Mr. Abif has for the past two years represented the Armour Company and he has proved himself a bustling trade getter and he has a sood standing with all the business men of Southern Oregon. Now that he is in a better position to meet the wants of his customers, he will be able to still further increase his trade and to build up a business that will be profitable to himself and that will add much to the commercial prestige of Grants Pass.
