The New School Laws

Prof. J. H. Ackerman, state superintendent has been flooded with letters inquiring about the new school laws and when they would be operative.
He announces that none of the bills relating to schools bore emergency clauses and hence will not go into effect until May 15th. He is now preparing a circular, that will contain all the laws, which will be ready for distribution to all school officers before that date.

$10 down, $5 per month will purchase a lot in almost any part of the city. See Joseph Moss, THE Real Estate AGENT.

OUR PERSONAL COLUMN

People as They Come and Go From Day to Day.

Mrs. A. S. Rosenbaum of Merila visited Grants Pass Thursday.
Miss Mary Parker has taken a position as assistant in the Grants Pass post office.

Robert Fickle of Selma, an old time prospector and miner, is in town this week for medical attendance.
Mrs. N. Nickerson of Williams is visiting in Grants Pass with her daughter, Mrs. John Lewman.

Miss Cora York of Kuhl has been visiting in Grants Pass this week with her sister, Mrs. J. Russell.
Mrs. J. C. Neil who lives near Ashland is visiting here this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sturge.

Mrs. P. Leverich of Woodville has been visiting friends in Grants Pass this week. She returned to Woodville Friday morning.
J. E. Hair, manager for the Williams Bros. Door & Lumber Company, was in Ashland, Friday on business for his company.

O. D. Sargent and his daughter, Miss Margaret were in Grants Pass Saturday from Selma, making purchases of spring goods and household supplies.
B. L. Tolin came to Grants Pass last Friday to purchase a load of supplies and Saturday he returned to his home near Dryden, where he is engaged in farming.

C. L. Mangum returned Thursday from Gold Hill, where he had been for a couple of days, looking over a mining proposition in the interests of some capitalists whom he represents.
Edward Hathaway, who has a farm near Dryden, was in Grants Pass Saturday for a load of supplies and to visit his daughter, Josephine, who is a pupil in the eighth grade in the Grants Pass school.

Mrs. A. G. Lincoln, who resides on the Rogue river road four miles below this city, arrived in Grants Pass Saturday, accompanied by her son, Frank, to spend a week with her mother, Mrs. N. J. Johnson.
G. L. Carr, a miner of Galice, spent a few days in Grants Pass this week. Mr. Carr, who is now working at the Anderson mine of Galice, is a partner of Ed F. Terry, in a promising placer proposition on Silver creek.

Hon. John L. Childs, superior judge for Del Norte county, arrived in Grants Pass Saturday evening by stage from his home at Crescent City, and left the same evening by train for Sacramento, where he goes on official business connected with his office.
Edward Chastain, who recently married Miss Lavella Sargent, will leave Selma this week with his bride for Crescent City, where they will take up their residence. Mr. Chastain having secured a good position in the Hobbs, Wall & Company sawmill at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tucker returned to their home near Trail, on Upper Rogue river last Saturday after spending several days in Grants Pass, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chiles. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker were former residents of this city and yet have considerable property here.
The Misses Hanseth, of Selma, who are among the most successful of the Josephine county teachers, will each begin a spring term of school the first of next month. Miss Annie will teach in the Dryden district and Miss Margaret will have charge of the Central school near Selma.

Wm. M. Colvig of Jacksonville, and one of the leading members of the Southern Oregon bar, was in Grants Pass, Monday and Tuesday as one of the attorneys for T. K. Anderson in a big damage suit that is on between Mr. Anderson and the Gallice Consolidated Mines Company.
S. F. Steele with his wife left Monday for Eureka, California, where they will spend the summer. They go by team and by the Crescent City road. The trip is made for the benefit of Mrs. Steele's health, which it is hoped will be improved by the low altitude and moist climate of the coast.

John D. Olwell, of Medford, was in Grants Pass Monday in the interest of a big financial deal he has in hand. Mr. Olwell is one of the leading men in the proposed Medford and Crater Lake railroad and he is also at the head of a company that is preparing to dam Bear creek near Ashland and put in an extensive irrigation system.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mashburn arrived Sunday from New York City to take up their residence in Grants Pass. Mr. Mashburn is manager for the new general merchandise store being opened in the Tufts block. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mashburn are educated, refined persons and they will be given a cordial welcome by the residents of Grants Pass.

The many friends of Mrs. Nancy Brown will be pleased to learn that she is steadily recovering from her long illness and is now able to sit up a short time each day and she is every prospect, that she will regain her health. Mrs. Brown underwent an operation a month ago and owing to her age, she being 74 years old, it was feared that she could not stand the ordeal, but so successful was the surgeon, Dr. DeArmond, that it proved the means of restoring her health.
A. B. Cossin, manager for the Gallice Consolidated Mines Company was in Grants Pass all the fore part of the week to be present at the taking of the testimony in a damage suit in which his company is interested. Mr. Cossin is a strong good roads advocate and is doing all he can that a large delegation from Gallice will attend the good roads convention in this city on the 20 and 21 of this month. The Gallice Company has spent large sums of money on road building and this good roads movement in Josephine county is meeting their hearty approval.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Brief Notes and Items of Interest and Importance.

G. E. McMannus is putting in a woven wire fence to replace a wooden fence about the residence property of R. L. Coe, thereby greatly improving its appearance.
The youngsters have discovered that the bark of the willow will slip and whistles are now the order of the days. When "willow whistles" can be made it is a sure thing that spring is well advanced.
J. L. Mitchell, supreme secretary of the Order of Washington will be in Grants Pass Friday, March 17, and wishes to meet every member of the order. The order meets each alternate Friday evening in the Woodman hall.
The six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brown while at play last Friday, fell and broke her arm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Douglas and it is healing so well that the little girl will soon have the use of her arm again.
The Grants Pass Music House has been removed from the Odd Fellows building to the New Courier building where it occupies the front room with A. E. Voorhies' photo supply house. The Courier business office also is located on this floor.
James Noah has sold his cottage on West Main street to H. A. Corliss and will leave next Monday with his family for La Grande, Ore., where he will take up his residence. Mr. Corliss has rented the house to Chas. Ellis, who has moved his family to this city from Jerome Prairie.
J. M. Ward will stay in town almost constantly from now on and will pay strict attention to tuning. He also has ordered a Hardman piano player, one of the latest improved styles and hopes to interest many in them. New location at Courier block, Front St.
A valuable work for those interested in irrigation can be promptly obtained free at the office of the experiment station, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. It is entitled Bulletin No. 145 and is a treatise on the uses of water, leveling ground and other matters pertaining to irrigation.
The Grants Pass school is preparing an exhibit for the Lewis & Clark fair. Nothing elaborate, is being attempted, require so much time as to as that would seriously interfere with the regular school work, it being the plan of City Superintendent Turner to simply have a showing made of the average, everyday work of the schools as carried on in all the grades and classes.
Mrs. J. P. Patterson arrived in Grants Pass Monday from Eugene to take charge of the music class, until recently taught by Miss Ethel Palmer. Mrs. Patterson will only be in Grants Pass until such time as Mrs. Ross Hollenbeck, also of Eugene, can come, when she will assume permanent charge of the class. Mrs. Hollenbeck being detained by the serious illness of her father.
T. W. Williams met with quite a troublesome accident on Tuesday of this week. While working with a hatchet, the tool slipped and cut the second and third fingers of his left hand quite severely. The third finger especially was badly cut as the hatchet severed a piece of flesh on the ball of the finger from the first joint to the tip. The bone, however, was not damaged so that the injury, though vexatious, will not be permanent.
The court house grounds have been considerably improved in appearance this week by the removal of the superannuated picket fence on the sides facing Sixth and O streets, the young cypress hedge planted on the inside of the fence having attained a growth which gives it sufficient decorative quality to atone for the absence of a fence. The top rail of the old fence is left as a protection to the hedge but the posts are cut short and a much neater effect is produced.
Grants Pass now has five barber-shops with a total of 13 chairs, a new shop having been opened at the corner of G and Fourth streets in a room of the building belonging to E. A. Williams. This new shop will be conducted by J. F. Bird, who until three months ago had charge of the Palace barber shop. Mr. Bird last fall bought a 40 acre wood ranch on Gilbert creek, but that not being to his liking he sold the place to J. O. Sandberg and will again take up his regular trade.
A thoroughly metropolitan establishment is the new store of Thomas & O'Neill, the housefurnishers. Thoroughly awake to the rapidly changing conditions in Southern Oregon they have put in the largest stock of furniture south of Portland. The new elevator, the only and first one in Grants Pass is of great assistance in the rapid handling of orders. Their prices seem very reasonable for we noticed a very neat iron bed full size for $2.50 also a new idea in bed cushions for $6.75. The fact that such a large establishment is located in Grants Pass, would seem to indicate that Southern Oregon is growing rapidly.
Clifford Costain, an employe at the factory of the California Pine Box & Lumber Co., is incapacitated from work as the result of an accident which happened on Tuesday of this week. He was running the machine which is known among the employes as the "little rip saw" and was working on short pieces of lumber. In running a board through, he released it too quickly, supposing that his helper had secured the other end. The saw caught the board and "kicked" it backward with tremendous force, striking Costain just above the eye and cutting and bruising his head in an alarming manner. Fortunately the injury proved to be superficial and is not serious.

The "Moonshiners' Daughter," which is to be presented at the opera house Wednesday, March 22, is a new and original melodrama in four acts. A thrilling story, containing a strong and novel climax is interestingly told. It is a play that appeals to all classes of theater-goers, and is one of the few genuine successes of the season. The theme of the piece deals principally with the rosy-red service, the danger and excitement attendant in hunting and capturing the moonshiners in their mountain retreats. There is a strong, healthy sentiment underlying the play from beginning to end. An attractive feature of the entertainment, is a number of big class specialties which are introduced.

Pattern & street hats, the leading millinery houses of New York, Chicago and St. Louis, will be shown at the opening of the Golden Rule store about April 1st.
