30 YEARS IN WASHINGTON

The New Book by Mrs. General John A. Logan.

This magnificently illustrated volume is published with the consent and aid of the United States Government, and this fact alone is evidence of its sterling merit and of the great care that has been bestowed upon it. It is said that all roads lead to Washington just as they did to ancient Rome. Certain it is that the eyes of millions who cannot behold the marvels and glories of our National Capital in person are constantly drawn to our nation's capital.

It is said that all roads lead to Washington just as they did to ancient Rome. Certain it is that the eyes of millions who cannot behold the marvels and glories of our National Capital in person are constantly drawn to our nation's capital.

Many distinguished men and women have long urged Mrs. Logan to give this volume to the world. She has received letters from thousands unknown to her, expressing the hope that it would be written. In her preface she says:

"My first introduction to life in the city of Washington was in 1858. General Logan being then a member of Congress, and for more than 20 years I have lived there almost continuously, an interested observer of passing events. As the wife of a senator, I may say that I enjoyed unusual privileges and opportunities to see and know the inner life and activities of the Capital City. I have had my share of the favor of the powers that were, and the honor of being included among the distinguished guests at both private and official entertainments; and I have known the pleasure of personal acquaintance with prominent statesmen, courtly diplomats, and beautiful, winning and gifted women, filling with grace and dignity the highest social positions that the people could assume."

"It has been my aim to show my readers, both by word and pictorial art, the wonders and the workings of the elaborate machinery of the Government in motion, by leading them through the great Departments, and explaining what the army of busy men and women workers do and how they do it; to show them the works of art, the wonderful collections of relics and curiosities from every part of the world, and the architectural glories and priceless treasures of the Capitol, to describe and explain its giant activities; to take them through the White House, from the state to the cellar, through every forbidden room, and to portray not only its daily life, past and present, but its brilliant social functions as well; to tell the story of every President, and of every woman who has ever reigned in the White House; to visit the Treasury, the Dead Letter office, and to solve the mystery and intricacies of every government industry; in short, to present every interesting phase of life and scenes in Washington."

"Its illustrations are a triumph of American art. It is worth the price of the book just to look at these 50 magnificent full-page plates, from photographs taken with government consent and aid exclusively for this volume. They portray wonderfully interesting scenes."
