ANNUAL LOG ROLLING
A GRAND SUCCESS

Woodmen of America and Royal Neighbors Hold Big Rally at Gold Hill.

The annual log rolling, as it is called, of the Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors camps of Southern Oregon, that was held at Gold Hill, last Friday and Saturday, was a success in every particular. The camps at Roseburg, Glendale, Island, Grants Pass, Woodville, Gold Hill, Medford, Jacksonville, Astland, Sams Valley and Eagle Point were represented by big delegations. The Grants Pass delegation numbered fully 200 and the other towns were as well represented.
The forenoon of each day was devoted to addresses, and musical and other features, while the afternoons were devoted to sports. The literary exercises were held in a large tent and the games on the baseball grounds. The address of welcome Friday morning was given by Hon. J. L. Hammerley, of Gold Hill, and the response was by President E. F. Mulkey, of the Ashland Normal. A comprehensive address on Woodcraft and beneficiary orders was then given by Hon. M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, state lecturer. Saturday afternoon Hon. J. W. Simmons, state deputy head consul, gave an able address as did also Rev. W. T. Goulder, of Grants Pass.
Friday evening a camp of Royal Neighbors, which is the women's auxiliary to the Modern Woodmen, was instituted at Gold Hill with 32 members. The work of instituting the members and of installing the officers of the new camp was conducted by a team of 15 members from the Grants Pass camp under the captaincy of Mrs. P. Gravin. The team won many compliments by the perfect manner in which they executed the work of the order.
The selection of the town in which to hold the next log rolling was held by a vote of the members, but Grants Pass won on a cold bluff. Ashland, Medford, Jacksonville and Roseburg wanted the next meeting and it was left to Grants Pass to try conclusions with Grants Pass first. The right though of the Grants Pass team gave the Ashland team "cold feet," and they would not pull. When Capt. Lund's "babies" skipped for section and it became known that the "baby hunting" of the team weighed 192 pounds and the "big boy" 355 pounds, and that the ten men weighed 3496 pounds it took the "pull" out of all the teams present. All the members of the team are in line of strength, one of them A. Aubrey, being credited with being the strongest fisherman on Rogue river. Not getting to try their strength at Gold Hill, Capt. Lund has announced that the Grants Pass team will pull against any team in Oregon.
The following account prepared by O. O. Lund, consul of the Grants Pass Modern Woodmen of America camp, gives features of the log rolling that will be of interest to members of the order as well as to the general public:
The Modern Woodmen of America log rolling which occurred at Gold Hill last Friday and Saturday was certainly the greatest event that camps have known since the pioneer days and Gold Hill need not feel ashamed of the way she treated the 3500 Woodmen and their friends who flocked into the famous gold camp from all the Woodmen camps of Southern Oregon. She did herself proud.
One of the big, big things that occurred was a barbecue. It was one of the good, old-fashioned kind, the kind that sends everybody away satisfied and with plenty left. The meat was deliciously barbecued and was fit for a king. The writer has partaken of barbecued meat at "log rollings" all the way from Wisconsin to Oregon and never tasted any better than that at Gold Hill. A noticeable feature of the two days' log rolling was the absence of skin games and confidence men. There was absolutely no gambling of any nature.
The program for the two days was varied and of a nature to suit most everyone's taste, both of the inner and outer man, and either by the brain or stomach route. There was speaking and low-ball games, and log rolling contests that did not happen, because of the excessive slowness at the Grants Pass camp. But we will mention that later. State Lecturer Miller of the Modern Woodmen, Prof. Mulkey of the Ashland Normal and school W. B. Stronquist of Portland and Rev. Goulder of Grants Pass all made excellent addresses.
There was a match game of ball between the Jacksonville and Roseburg teams in which Jacksonville proved an easy winner. There was also a game between Medford and Grants Pass teams. Grants Pass, through a lack of imperfect and professional players, lost by a score of 10 to 16. As the thermometer stood the 10 in the shade of the grand stand and 120 on the benches, the game was indeed a hot one.
The writer, as captain and coach of the tug-of-war team from Grants Pass, went down with a bunch of "luggers" that were calculated to pull the drawback out of a boxer. The 10 up the scales at just 540 pounds. The looks of them was enough for the Ashland team that had been matched against them, and although the event was scheduled and the grandstand filled with people who paid their money to see the event, Ashland lacked down and would not take hold of the rope. Nothing would induce them to tug against the Grants Pass team, and a promise to appear on the second day was not kept. Ashland was simply afraid and dishonorably showed the white feather. Here is a test of the Grants Pass tug-of-war team for it makes an open challenge to any team

In the state of Oregon to tug for money, chalk or marbles, regardless of color, size or creed. The members of the team are: Link Ellis, W. G. Meier, E. C. Kline, M. C. Kline, John Swanson, M. F. Burns, L. Hasty, Bob Higgins, James Millen, A. Aubrey, L. McCully. Link Ellis weighs 355 pounds, and to be in trim for any future event will practice during odd hours at tugging with a mule.
It was unanimously voted that the next log rolling is to be in Grants Pass. The event will occur on the 2d and 3d of July and if the same loyalty and co-operation is shown here as was shown by Gold Hill citizens, next year's log rolling will be the biggest gathering Southern Oregon has ever known. The executive committee, composed of three delegates from each Southern Oregon camp, will meet one month from now to perfect plans for the next year's association. Right now is the time to think about helping things along. It will bring thousands to this city and will be an opportunity for Grants Pass to show the grand old state.
G. O. LUND.

Contributors to Miners Association Fund.

For the information of certain persons the Courier has been requested to publish the list of contributors to the maintenance fund for the Grants Pass Miners Association. The sum appropriate each name is the amount that the person gives quarterly on the signed contract that was made at the beginning of this year for providing a fund for the fine exhibit and reference library that the association maintains in their city. It will be observed that the names of certain individuals, who are loud in boasting through the papers of what they are doing for the Grants Pass Miners Association, are conspicuously absent: Thomas & O'Neil, $5, R. Provolt Items.

Ed Stites of Williams, was at Provolt Sunday.
John Bailey and family of Williams, was at Provolt Sunday.
Mrs. C. E. Smith, of Grants Pass, was visiting relatives here Monday and Tuesday.
Mrs. W. M. Fields of Savage Creek, is on a little buzz visiting her many friends and relatives here this week.
L. W. Smith, the Provolt post master and merchant, was at Grants Pass Monday on business, returning Tuesday.
Miss Minnie Woodbridge of Missouri Flat accompanied by her brother, Jinks, spent Monday here on business.
Mrs. J. O'Brien and daughter, Miss Anna, of Applegate, were at Provolt Sunday visiting with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Baldwin.
J. S. Roberts has also bonded his farm at Missouri Flat for $5000. Other bonds are being made which can not be mentioned at present.
Ulysses Provolt was at Grants Pass Tuesday for medicine for Orley Provolt, who has been in poor health for some time. She is feeling some improved at present.
The air is filled at present with dark, heavy thunder clouds, which have been raising for the past few days, with threats of rain. A rain would be appreciated by all.

The Provolt correspondent was at Williams Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Rose Chapman, an aged pioneer, who died July 20, and was laid to rest in the Williams Creek cemetery Friday, July 21. Mrs. Chapman leaves two sons and one daughter to mourn the loss of a loving mother.
A party of young folks left Monday for Crescent City, where they will spend a two weeks vacation. Fishing and catching clams along the coast. They also will take a ride on the ocean, which will be a rare experience. They are the first for some of them. The party consists of H. Rehkopf and wife and Miss Minnie Woodbridge and others.
Willie Farris of Applegate, was a visitor at Provolt Wednesday and Thursday. He tells of hot weather and of small hay crops in his vicinity. He also states that the immense quantity of hop lice that covered the hops have most all gone and the vines are vigorously growing again. The hop lice are vanishing from all the yards throughout the valley and the vines are free of them and a pleasant smile is on the face of the hop growers.

Charlie Fields, of Applegate, has bonded his farm to the Oroville Dredging Company for the consideration of $5000, of which $1000 is to be paid January 1st and the balance at the end of one year. No prospecting will be done until all payments are made. This farm is one of the most favorable propositions for mining yet bonded. Six years ago Mr. Fields, while digging a well picked up pieces of gold which contained from 10 to 15 cents.
C. E. Smith of Hotel Lavon of Grants Pass was at Provolt the first of this week looking after mining property in the Farris gulch district and also on the dividing ridge between Applegate and Williams. He was also at Williams Wednesday to look at the machinery left on the ground at the Rising Star quartz mine of that place, and while there he looked over the stamp mill on the farm of Mr. Treacher, owned by St. Johns & Cox. He found everything satisfactory.
J. S. Arlin, one of Williams most respected young farmers and stock raiser, was at Provolt Wednesday. He tells of large grain crops in his vicinity and harvesting in full headway. The hay crops of Upper Williams creek valley are much larger this season than usual, says Mr. Provolt, of that place. He also gives the hay prices of his vicinity at $6.50 in the field, and $8 to $9 in barn. That will be the standard price there this season, says the hay man, so states a Williams Creek farmer.

Michigan City Notes.

There will be a social dance at the Michigan mine, Saturday evening, July 29th.
The weather still stays warm and looks as though we are going to have a thunder shower.
Clarence Snyder, who is staying at Jas. Bumgardner's, visited his home at Jerome Prairie, Sunday.
W. B. York, the cattle raiser and hay grower, took the last of his cattle to the range on Grayback mountain, Sunday.
Jas. Bumgardner and wife started for Shovel creek on the Klamath river Monday and expect to be gone about a month.
Basil Burrow, who owns a hop yard at New Hope, visited the Michigan mine Sunday. He says his hops look fine and he expects a good crop.
Miss Pearl Davidson, who has been staying at Williams Creek for the last month, visited her brother and his family at the Michigan mine Friday.
Samuel Cook, an enterprising farmer of Applegate, took a band of cattle to Grants Pass one day last week. He says there is more profit in selling them than there is feeding them $10 bay.

The ball game at the Michigan (City) grounds Sunday was a grand success. The M. C. team played a poked team from Murphy and thereabout and won, the tally standing 7 to 1. Wood Jeter umpired the game and gave good satisfaction. They have no game for next Sunday so far.

CHOLERA INFANTUM. Child Not Expected to Live From One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.
