FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1906.

The Courier's subscription books and mailing list are open at all times to advertisers, who may desire verification that this paper has a larger circulation, both in Grants Pass and in Josephine County than any other newspaper published in this city.

The county court at its session this week made the Rogue River Courier the official paper for Josephine county for the year 1906.

CITY COUNCIL HAS LIVELY MEETING

Cuts Engineer's and Attorney's Salary Down—Effort to Raise Saloon License to $1000

Council met Thursday evening with all present.

Peter Gravelin, elected councilman from the Third ward, to succeed Will Smith, who declined re-election, was sworn in and took his seat.

The matter of support to indigent persons was brought up and it was decided, that as the charter prohibited the city from appropriating money for such purpose, no more such bills would be paid and that hereafter the city poor be turned over to Josephine county to care for.

It was ordered that hereafter all bills against the city be filed with the recorder not later than the Tuesday preceding the Thursday of the meeting of the council.

The new fire limit ordinance was passed, which permits only brick or stone buildings and cement or granite sidewalks in that part of the city embraced between C and J streets and Fifth and Seventh streets, the two half blocks on Sixth street between J and K streets, and the north half of the blocks on G street from Fifth to Third streets, and all the depot grounds between Third and Seventh streets.

Bond of Col. W. Johnson, city treasurer approved.

Councilman Chase introduced two ordinances that stirred up a lively commotion and which met the wisest of men to speculating whether the publisher of the Observer had launched a reform or a political boom. His first ordinance, which he got passed by a bare majority under a suspension of rules, reduced the salary now paid to City Attorney A. C. Hough from $60 to $10 per month, and the salary of City Engineer H. I. Reynolds from $40 per month to $1 per year. His second ordinance provided that saloons shall pay a yearly license of $1000 for selling spirits and $500 for malt liquors, and that all licenses, of $100 per year, be cancelled February 1, 1906, and the unearned portion be returned to the saloon keepers.

Councilman Chase got this ordinance passed to second reading, but his motion to put it on its final passage was voted down, his being the only vote in support of it. Councilman Fetsch's motion to table the ordinance met the same fate. Mayor Good and Councilmen Hair and Hall and the other business men on the council opposed such radical action and thought it best to defer the matter until the sentiment of the city could be ascertained.

The ordinance has stirred up a lively discussion about town the saloon men taking it as a prohibition measure, or that it is in the interest of a few saloon men able to pay $1000, and of lessening the number of saloons to the advantage of the drug store "blind pigs." Many of the conservative business men of the city hold that the saloons might stand a small raise to their license, provided that the drug stores selling liquor be made to also pay a license. The prohibitionists look upon the new license ordinance as a long step toward closing out the saloons in Grants Pass. The ordinance will be up for further consideration at the next council meeting on Jan. 18.

CONDOR COMPANY BUYS
LOCAL ELECTRIC PLANT

G. P. N. W. L. & P. Co. Sell Their Electric Business But Retain Their Water Plant.

The contest, which began a year ago for the control of the electric light and power supply for Grants Pass, terminated last Saturday when Dr. C. R. Ray, manager of the Condor Water Power Company, bought for his company the electric plant and street lighting franchise belonging to the Grants Pass New Water, Light & Power Company. The price paid was not made public but was probably about $30,000.

The Grants Pass company retain their pumping and ice plants and their franchise for supplying the city with water. R. W. Clarke will continue to act as manager for the company with his office, as heretofore, on West E street. Carl Gentner, who has heretofore been city electrician and superintendent of the light, pump and ice plants, will continue in the employ of the company and will have charge of the two latter plants. The company is now installing a new pump that will have a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons of water each 24 hours. With the old pump now in, the company will be able to pump to the reservoir over 3,500,000 gallons of water each 24 hours. Extensive betterments to the distributing system is planned for this year, it being the purpose of the company to give Grants Pass a water service equal to the best had by any city in the Northwest.

Sunday the electricians of both companies were employed in changing the connections from the old to the new system and that night Grants Pass, which had heretofore been getting electric current from both stations, was entirely lighted from the Condor station at Gold Ray. Mr. Clarke will be the Grants Pass manager for the Condor company and all business for this city pertaining to electric light and power will be attended to at his office on E street. C. L. Cleverger, who has been city electrician for the Condor company, will continue to hold that position. Jay Booth, who has been a lineman with the old company, will now be with the Condor Company as one of their crew of linemen. The Condor company will retain the electric generators as they are at the Water company's plant, and by arrangement with the latter have them in readiness to put in operation on short notice should the long distance service be interrupted, so as to not leave the city in darkness by reason of an accident.

Dr. Ray stated that it would be the endeavor of the Condor Company to give Grants Pass a first class electric light and power service. Patrons could have their choice of taking light by either the flat or the meter rate, and there would be no change in rates. With a rate of 10 cents per kilowatt to private users and 1.40 per month for 32 C. P. incandescent street lights and $6.20 per month for 2000 C. P. arc street lights Dr. Ray claims that no town in Oregon is getting a cheaper light service than is Grants Pass. The contract for street lighting is assumed by the Condor company. Grants Pass now has eighty-three 32 C. P. incandescent street lights and ten 2000 C. P. arc street lights, and the Southern Pacific has an arc light on the depot grounds. Geo. S. Calloun and several other business men have arc or incandescent lights in front of their places of business, and the Condor company has a big electric sign in front of their transformer station. With all these city and private lights Grants Pass is able to make the claim good of having the best lighted streets of any town of similar size in Oregon.

RECEPTION GIVEN TO BRIDE AND GROOM

Residents of Murphy Tender their Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reid.

Murphy people always enjoy themselves. Even tradition points with pride to the social gatherings of the Applegate as far back as the days of the Crescent City freight teams, and why shouldn't they be happy? They have every surrounding to make them so. If the ceaseless song of flowing waters, the odor of an endless forest, the sunlight reflected from the snow-capped hills, together with a moral nature and a satisfied conscience would not produce happiness, then this earth hasn't the conditions necessary to its development.

That the people of our neighborhood understand the fact that to be happy one's self is to make others glad, was fully shown last Monday night when more than fifty of their friends gathered at the home of the newly wedded Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reid.

No, it couldn't have been a charivari, for that awfully spelled word to us means all the horrible, unearthly and supernatural sounds the human ear is capable of recording, and like football and pugilism, stands for the lack of civilization in yet to overcome barbarism in the human make-up.

Instead of tearing the siding off the house, breaking the windows, or blasting the visitors was announced by singing. They were met at the door and invited in by the jovial Mr. Reid who, with his new wife, received the well wishes of the crowd, some of the older ones speaking from the knowledge of what such congratulations mean; the younger ones knowing not and worrying not over the meaning of such wishes, and others of us caring to learn that mystic meaning but having as yet found no teacher.

After the congratulations a carefully prepared program of recitations, vocal and instrumental music was rendered; then came the time honored "treat" of the bride and groom which consisted of a beautiful supper of oysters, sandwiches, pickles, pies, cakes and coffee.

At a late hour the company wended their way homeward, each with the inward desire that every person of every clime might feel as contented, have as many friends, and live in as favored a community as was the good fortune of the residents of Murphy.

May time never dim the memory of this new year to Mr. and Mrs. Reid. May each succeeding year with its trials and its joys, its hopes and its fears be as happily commenced as 1905, and although the rapid recurrence of new year's day brings the inevitable truth that the span of life is shortened, may it also impress us with the fact that to live is more fearful than to die and that man's goodly influence stops not at the tomb.

COMMITTEE.
New Years at New Hope.
The people of the New Hope community assembled last Sunday night to watch the old year out and the new year in. The occasion will long be remembered as one of profit and pleasure. The features of the meeting were vocal and instrumental music, recitations, select readings and speeches. C. N. Hathaway had charge of the literary part of the entertainment, and the Stringer brothers the instrumental music, while Clarence Wymant enlivened the occasion with the graphophone. A tempera co. lecture by Stephen Jewell was delivered and received by the audience with marked approval. Mr. Jewell discussed this question from the personal liberty standpoint, showing that no person had a right to do wrong. C. N. Hathaway then gave an explanation of true religion, which he defined to be universal brotherhood.
At the hour of midnight a parting song was sung and all went to their homes feeling that it was good to have been there.

APPLGATE VALLEY IS PROGRESSIVE

Building Good Roads—Rural Telephones Next Improvement.

Provoit is now in telephonic communication with Grants Pass and other places in Josephine county by long distance telephone. A telephone has been installed at the residence of Rev. E. Badger, on the long distance line from Grants Pass to Williams. As there is no telephone at Murphy, Kohli, Davidson or Applegate and those places are each within a radius of five miles of Provoit a telephone at the latter place will accommodate a large settlement. This section is one of the largest farming districts in Rogue River Valley as well as one of the most progressive and the farmers are alert in taking up modern ideas and methods. They are planning to make their farmers institutes which will be held on Saturday, February 17, one of the most successful of the series of eight institutes, that Dr. Withycombe and the Agricultural College staff will hold in Southern Oregon. They are taking an active interest in good roads and some of the best roads in Josephine county are to be seen in that part of Applegate Valley. Now they are considering the installing of a rural telephone system and it is quite probable that before the close of this year that every farm house in that section will be supplied with a telephone.

DRYDEN

Mrs. E. A. Humptain entertained a New Year's dinner party.

Miss Etta and Dames Crooks came home to spend the holidays with their parents.
Miss Zella Harmon came home from the Pass to remain the rest of the Winter.

Robert Tolen and family spent Christmas at Grants Pass with Mr. Tolen's mother.

There have been a good many parties and socials in Deer Creek Valley in the last ten days, so methinks everybody is enjoying life in the far West.

Mrs. Wm. Turner attended the Kerby Christmas tree in company with her son and family, J. O. Turner of that place and was a guest at Christmas dinner of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Zimmerman entertained quite a party at dinner Christmas day. Mrs. Zimmerman quite outdid herself in the culinary art and the well loaded Christmas tree was an object of delight to the children.

NEW HOPE

Several cattlemen are in this part of the county hunting their cattle.

Floyd Wynant and Miss Tena English attended the watch meeting Sunday evening.

Messrs. Will McCallister and Victor Daniels were hauling hops the first of this week for Henry Rehkopf.

The watch meeting held at this place was a grand success. A very delightful program was had lasting till midnight.
Mr. and Mrs. Willis York and family were the guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meisenger, of this place, Sunday.
Supervisors collect money in one place and use it on some other one. The roads are in some places almost impassable. The ditches washed out on both sides right up to the very wagon tracks endangering both man and beast, especially at night. There has been little or no work done on this road since last Spring a year ago, but still every voter had his $3 to pay as road tax. And furthermore the farmers say that work has got to be done on this road before they will pay any more road tax. SHORTY.

MERLIN

Mr. Weidenmaier, of California, is visiting his family in Merlin.

H. L. Keyte left recently for a mining claim he and some others have located up Galice creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Overton, of Glendale, are visiting Mr. Overton's sister, Mrs. Della Robertson, near Merlin.

Ed Anderson, who has been at Grants Pass the last Winter, has returned to the Stratton creek mine where he will begin work soon as there is sufficient rain to afford a water supply.

The watch night party given at the Pleasant Valley school house New Year's eve was a success. A nice program consisting of songs and recitations was rendered, and as the old year was about to expire a dainty lunch of cake and coffee was served. The affair was planned and arranged by Miss Millie Frier, who is teaching in that district. Miss Frier deserves credit for her talent in conducting so successful an affair.

The skaters of Merlin gave a masked skate New Year's night. The costumes were tasty and the characters well carried out. A negro lady in flowing gown of large figured calico was fine. One represented a Spanish dancing girl, another Ned Riding Hood, another a Sister of Charity, one a Japanese lady, one a clown in flowered pants and dunce cap, another an old maid, which was very natural; one a queen with her crown and royal robes, and others equally well gotten up and enacted. Everyone young and old, had a good time. TRIX.

WILDERVILLE

Health is good as a general thing, except a few cases of Canada fever; nothing serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Martindale, of Grants Pass, have returned home after visiting at W. Y. McCollum's the past week.

Mr. Bowman made a business trip to Grants Pass the first of the new year and made himself a present of a new wagon.

The new year is here with fine prospects of a year of plenty. If we all do our part, work and smile and not murmur or complain and fret about our lot in this life, for we all have much to be thankful for.
Rev. George Clark was called up Slate creek on New Year's day to marry a young couple, Thomas Pollard and Miss Mamie DeVore. The young couple took the afternoon stage to Grants Pass to take the train for Portland to spend it in honeymoon.
