Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Mother's Favorite.
The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children, for colds,
croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

GOOD WAY TO ADVERTISE RESOURCES OF STATE

Marion County Man Advocates the Sending East Newspapers in Place of Pamphlets.

The county court of this county, says the Salem Statesman, with a commendable desire to advance its interests by advertising its re- sources and advantages in the Eastern states and thereby secure desirable immigration and the introduction of capital has appropriated $500 to pay for 16 pages in a book which the Portland board of trade is preparing for circulation through the aid of the big railroad companies and their im- migration bureaus, the intention be- ing to print 50,000 copies of the books 15,000 copies to be substantially bound and the remainder in paper covers.

There is no doubt but such publi- cations do a certain amount of good in advertising the country of which they are descriptive, but there are many people who do not consider them the best means of reaching the desired results and who believe that a similar amount of money expended in other lines would do more good. A prominent gentleman of Marion county in discussing the matter re- cently advanced the following theory: "I believe," he said, "that $500 expended in sending the Eastern states the everyday newspapers of this locality containing a regular rehearsal of the life and accomplishment of the community, would produce better and more lasting results than any number of big books of special matter which can be circulated. I would not send boom editions, or special editions, but I would adopt a plan of this kind: Let the county court appropriate a certain amount of money to be used in sending newspapers back to the Eastern states say for three months. Then, let persons who are living here and have friends or acquaintances in the east who would be desirable resi- dents of Oregon, hand in their names to the newspapers and have the papers sent to them for one, two or three months so that they could read the current history of this region. Two hundred weekly or semi-weekly news- papers could be sent in this way for three months for $100 or less, and for $500 1000 newspapers for three months. Even better terms could probably be made with publishers and more papers sent, and I believe 1000 local newspapers visiting the people regularly, without any attempt at boom news, but just the current litera- ture of the time, would do more good than all the special advertising you can concoct.

"The newspapers could advertise the proposed arrangement and ask its patrons throughout the county to send in one or more names of Eastern friends, with a statement of their character and the newspaper could at- tach these lists with a verified state- ment of the papers mailed and file with the county court as vouchers for the money appropriated. I believe this is worth presenting to the county court. The proposition will not only keep the money at home but I believe will give better returns for the out- lay."

The following are the bills and pro- posed amendments which have been filed in the office of the secretary of state to be voted upon:
The $1,000,000 appropriation bill passed by the last legislature and held up by referendum petitions.
The local option bill proposed by the Liquor Dealers' Association as an amendment to the present local option law.
The bill filed by the owners of the Barlow road, requiring the state to buy the road for the sum of $42,000.
The proposed constitutional amend- ment filed by the Equal Suffrage League, extending the elective fran- chise to women.
A bill by the People's Power League making it unlawful for public ser- vice corporations to give passes or free or reduced rate service to public officials.

A bill by the State Grange, levy- ing a license tax upon the gross earn- ings of the refrigerator and sleeping cars and oil companies.

A constitutional amendment pro- posed by the People's Power League to amend section 1 of article 12 so that the public printing will be en- tirely within the control of the legis- lature and may be let by contract, or a printer elected or appointed, upon a salary or other compensation.

An amendment proposed by the People's Power League to amend sections 1 and 2 of article 17, so that one legis- lative assembly may submit constitu- tional amendments, and that when the vote upon an amendment has been canvassed by the governor and a ma- jority found in its favor, he shall proclaim it adopted, and it shall then be a part of the constitution, beyond the power of the courts to pass upon; also that no law for a constitutional convention shall be in force until ap- proved by a vote of the people.

An amendment proposed by the People's Power League to amend section 2 of article 11, giving the legal voters of a municipality power to frame and adopt their own charters, and forbidding the legislature to create municipal corporations.

Oregon Firm Receives Big Price for the Fleeces From Two Animals.

Twenty-five pounds of mohair from two fleeces and netting the owner $41.75 is a pretty big record for two goats, but that is what a buck and a doe did for Riddle & Sons, as wit- nessed by returns received last week.

The letter received from the New York firm, to which they recently shipped the two fleeces, follows:

"I herewith enclose my check for $41.75 in settlement for your last ship- ment of mohair sent last month. The lot consisted as follows:

3 1/2 pounds at $5.00 per pound...	$17.50
2 pounds at 3.00 per pound...	6.00
5 pounds at 1.50 per pound...	7.50
8 pounds at 1.00 per pound...	8.00
5 1/2 pounds at .50 per pound...	2.50
Total.....	$41.75

"I was very much pleased with this lot of mohair, although there was not as much of the very long lengths as I would have liked it to be. I trust you will make an effort to supply me with larger quantities of long mohair in the near future, as I am in need of it at all times.

" Hoping to receive another ship- ment from you soon, I remain, Yours respectively,
L. LEVUSSOVE.

Mohair is put through a process of machinery that combs and grades it into different lengths making five grades from a fleece. The price varies according to the length, the long mohair bringing the highest price. The age of the fleeces on which Riddle & Sons received re- turns was 13 and 14 months. They have about 40 to shear in the Spring and the mohair will be about 2 years old and even a higher price than $5 per pound may be expected from the longest grade.—Rural Spirit.

Lands Open to Settlement.
The following notice has been re- ceived from the Roseburg land office: Notice is hereby given that the ap- proved plat of survey of Township 32 south, Range 10 west of the Will- amette Meridian, Oregon, has been received from the Surveyor General for Oregon, and on Friday the 23d day of March, 1906, at 9 o'clock a. m., the said township plat will be filed in this office, and on and after said day we will be prepared to receive appli- cations for the entry of the unappor- tionated and unsurveyed lands in said township.
BENJAMIN L. EDDY, Register.
J. M. LAWRENCE, Receiver.
This township was withdrawn from entry on April 29, 1903, and so long as the order of withdrawal shall con- tinue in force, applications for land in said township cannot be received from those who have not acquired settlement rights therein prior to April 29, 1903.

In a chancery court decision at Butte, Mont., the master in chancery has decided that, while it is true that smelters injure farms, they cannot be removed, as they are of too much value to the community of a mining district.

Umatilla County Farmer Raises
Big Crops by Thorough Cultivation.

An interesting story was told in Saturday's Journal of a Umatilla county farmer named Smith who has gradually acquired about 4000 acres of wheat land in what is known locally as the Juniper Flat country in northern Umatilla county. He, as others had done and were doing, went there a quarter of a century ago or so and took up a claim, and they tried wheat-raising with very poor or at least indifferent success. Drought and hot winds and sometimes frosts pre- vented the raising of profitable crops, so one by one his neighbors became discouraged and left, Mr. Smith, who still had faith in the region, or else had a strain of obstinacy that in thi- case was a valuable asset, buying their lands, until he has one of the largest farms in the state. This is the least important part of the story, which is that gradually the land be- came productive, yielding on the average larger crops year by year until now wheat-raising there on good-sized farms is profitable, and on a great farm like Mr. Smith's the net returns are many thousands of dollars a year.

This result, it may be presumed, and is indeed stated, is due in part to better and more careful methods of farming—thorough plowing and har- rowing, best method of seeding, selection of the best seed for that kind of land, and care in harvesting. But all this would not produce 20 bushels or more of wheat per acre on a desert; the land itself became more produc- tive with cultivation, which attracted and preserved needed moisture. The more Mr. Smith and his neighbors cultivated their lands, the longer they stuck to them, the greater their faith in them and work on them, the greater became the crops.

This is not a new or strange phe- nomenon. It has been observed in other sections of the same county, in Gilliam and Morrow and Wasco and Baker and other counties, and the ex- planation of it is simple and the les- son it teaches is plain. What a few years ago would have seemed to be a miracle has been wrought in dry land farming, simply by faith and work.

Be a Booster.
There can be but little doubt that the present year will be an active one in the business world throughout the Pacific Northwest. All indications point to record-breaking volume in distribution for both jobbers and re- tailers, and a period of prosperity and advancement for industrial in- terests. It will be a time, likewise, when the various sections will have an opportunity to take on increased population and strengthen themselves for the future. The wise merchant will find it profitable from a business standpoint to see that his home town is not behind in the matter of attract- ing new residents and the acquisition of facilities for handling more busi- ness. A good trade in a dead town is all right, but there are better op- portunities in a live community, and there is nothing lost in being a con- sistent booster.—Oregon Tradesman.

Itch—Ringworm.
E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years, I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all reme- dies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured com- pletely." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at National Drug Co., and at Roter- mund's.
