FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1906.

Senator Fulton has delivered a fine argument on the railway rate matter. It takes rank among the best yet brought out in this controversy. His sharp and pointed replies to Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island who interrupted him at times and the ease with which he disposed of that gentleman stamp him a past master in the art of repartee. Mr. Fulton thinks the present law affords ample protection for railroads without the court review provision.

The lower house of congress passed on Friday the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill carrying $30,000,000, after considering the measure two weeks. The feature of special interest in the proceedings that day was the decisive victory over Oulirism when section 8 was reached, which called for the dismissal of clerks who had reached 65 years of age. These clerks are to be retained. The nonsense that would relegate one to the rear simply on account of age irrespective of mental or physical condition stands rebuked.

A great victory has been scored by Attorney-General Hadley in compelling the Standard Oil trust through H. H. Rogers and others of its officers, to answer certain questions sought by Mr. Hadley and so long refused. By decision of the court these gentlemen have been obliged to disclose all essential to the prosecution as to operations of this trust in Missouri. "I have made my case," said Mr. Hadley when leaving New York the other day. Let us hope this is so and that it makes the beginning of the end; the utter breaking down of these great aggregations of wealth together with the secret methods that make them possible.

The suspension of coal mining which began on Monday is the greatest in the history of fuel mining in the United States. Reports to date are in the main hopeful and it is thought the situation will improve from day to day. In the anthracite districts the tie-up is general; there is to be a meeting of the operators and committee of miners in New Jersey on Tuesday of this week. There is said to exist a good feeling between the operators and the men.

No importations of non-union men have begun, this is thought to promise hopefully as to agreement finally. President Mitchell thinks that fully 100,000 of the men in the bituminous districts have resumed work at the 1903 scale, which gives an advance of 5.55 per cent over the wages of the last two years. He expects 80 per cent of these men will be at work within the week at this rate, also that within 45 days every soft coal mine where the men are organized will be working on a union basis.

Senator Dillingham of the Committee on Emigration has reported a bill which is admirable in several of its provisions. It proposes to raise the head tax from $2 to $5 also to bar anyone who is weak in mental or physical state—taking no risk of such becoming a public charge, and imposing a fine of $100 on any steamship violating this provision. The present law applies this refusal and fine only in cases of malignant or contagious disease and the proposed new law would seem to give a much needed restraint. It also suggests a Bureau of Information in which states or territories desiring emigrants could deposit information concerning their several localities to include climate, soil and other resources, such as these people would wish to learn previous to making a home. The object sought is the distribution of such in the different states rather than allowing our large cities to become more congested by these incongruous masses. Foreign emigration is fast becoming a serious matter for our American people to consider one day last week 11,000 emigrants were landed in New York. Russia will probably send an average of 2000 per week through the present season. Other countries will send to us in constantly increasing volumes. The million and a half record of last year will be far outdone in 1906.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Alum baking powders are unhealthy. Do not use them for raising food under any circumstances. So detrimental are alum baking powders considered, that in most foreign countries their sale is prohibited. In many States in this country the law compels alum powders to be branded to show that they contain this dangerous acid, while in the District of Columbia, Congress has prohibited the sale of all food that contains alum.

Alum baking powders are sold to consumers at from 10 cents a pound to 25 ounces for 25 cents, or 25 cents a pound, and when not branded may generally be distinguished by their price.
