DAVIDSON

We are informed that H. R. Alger, who resides three miles down the Valley from this place has sold his farm for a nice figure. We venture to say, however that a few years hence if he should pass through our fertile valley on the electric cars and behold the vast changes wrought he will have occasion to exclaim: "My country 'tis of thee."

We acknowledge a pleasant call by Arthur Gilmore of Pike City, Cal. Mr. Gilmore is a son of the genial and accommodating postmaster and merchant of Murphy and son-in-law of the hustling farmer, C. M. Rexford of Applegate, and made the trip out here to ascertain the condition of Mrs. C. M. Rexford who was so badly hurt in the fall from the Nickerson bridge. Arthur is now employed as foreman at the Alaska mine of Pike City, and is doing some extensive development work and otherwise equipping the mine for future operation, and thinks the Alaska will soon be on the list with the best dividend producers in that district. He had a couple of fingers mashed accidentally by one of the pumps just before he came a way which is giving him some pain, but he intends to return soon and resume his position at the mine. Mr. Gilmore believes that no other place on earth bids fairer for an ideal home than Sunny Josephine and has bought a piece of valuable land near Murphy, Ore., on which he will erect a neat cottage, and where he eventually intends to cast his lot for health, happiness and comfort.

Baptist Church.

No book except the Bible has exerted a greater influence in the world than has Bunyan's "Pilgrims Progress." It most faithfully portrays the Christian life. It is a lost book today, but it needs to be revived, therefore we invite all to study its characters and teachings with us.

The second of a series of sermons on this immortal allegory will be given by Rev. Joseph B. Travis at the Baptist church this Sunday evening. A recapitulation of what has preceded will be given, and the story will be illustrated with a fine set of stereopticon views especially prepared for the occasion. A song service precedes each sermon.

There are five in this series of sermons dealing with the characters and teachings of this wonderful book, a book that only recently furnished the topic for an address by President Roosevelt that has occasioned a world wide comment. All are welcome. Young people, old people and all will find the services of interest and profit. There will be no morning service at the Baptist church as we unite with all in the Memorial exercises at the Newman M. E. church.

BORN.

G-SMYTHE—At Grants Pass, Wednesday, May 23, 1906, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles G-Smythe, a son.

DIED.

CALDWELL—At the farm home four miles west of Grants Pass on Wednesday, May 23, 1906, Thomas F. Caldwell, aged 51 years.

The burial took place Thursday, Rev. C. O. Beckman conducting the services at the residence, the interment being in the Odd Fellows cemetery under the auspices of Woodmen of America, of which the deceased had been a member. A very large concourse of friends attended the funeral services and the floral offerings were in great profusion and very fine. A wife and grown daughter survive Mr. Caldwell. He moved to this county three years ago from Nebraska and he was held in high esteem by all who knew him as an upright man, generous neighbor and a true and devoted husband and father.

A Brief Record of Local Events.

Mrs. M. Clemens entertained the ladies of St. Luke's Guild Wednesday afternoon.

The Medford locals will play the A. A. C. baseball team at their grounds at this place Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knox were in Grants Pass Wednesday on a shopping trip. Mr. Knox has a fine farm on the Applegate three miles below Provolet and is largely engaged in the stock business. He is one of the owners of the big Percheron horse, Avata, and he is making a specialty of raising heavy draft horses. Mr. Knox also deals in horses considerable and he stated that large, young horses would readily sell from $175 to $225 apiece and that the buyers were unable to fill their orders at that price.

A poster was received at this office announcing the Thirty-fourth Annual Reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association in the Armory, corner Tenth and Couch streets, Portland, Oregon, Tuesday, June 14, 1906. All persons coming to, or born in the original territory of Oregon up to 1859, inclusive, without regard to where they now live, are eligible to membership. Reduced railroad rates will prevail on all lines in Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

A most unfortunate accident occurred to Harry Gordon Monday afternoon, which resulted in the breaking of the left forearm. Harry, who is employed as clerk in the Geo. S. Calhoun Co. clothing store, drove out about two miles in the country, in company with his brother Lionel, to put up sign boards for the store. While on a low limb of a tree he fell on his arm, breaking it. Ten months ago this same arm was broken about two inches below the present fracture. The arm was set by Dr. J. C. Smith.

The ladies of the Philharmonic club gave a most enjoyable dancing party Wednesday evening at Clemens' hall. The hall was tastily decorated for the occasion with streamers of red crepe paper and bunches of ivy and evergreens, while vases of cut flowers were in abundance, making the hall very attractive to the large number of guests assembled there during the evening. The patronesses were Mesdames Holman, Clemens, Judson, Good, Moss and Clarke. Splendid music was furnished by Prof. Henry, Miss Willis and Fred Cheshire. Orange punch was served during the evening, from a pretty little green and white booth, and 12 o'clock came all too quickly to the assembled guests.

H. E. Christie has sold a half interest in his sawmill, which he operated on Deer creek near Selma last Summer, to J. E. Hair of this city. They have moved their mill on Slate creek near Wonder to a location on John Ritter's place and will have it ready for sawing next week. The mill has a capacity of 20,000 feet per day and they have a fine body of good sugar pine and fir and Messrs. Christie & Hair will be able to make a large cut of lumber this season, which will be hauled to Grants Pass to be marketed. William Turner will be the sawyer and T. W. Yarber will be engineer. The logging will be done by W. H. Buell of Grants Pass and Thomas Wimer of Selma. They will use horses and trucks.

Popular Railroad Man Promoted

H. E. Lounsbury, well known in Southern Oregon as the traveling freight agent for the Oregon lines of the Southern Pacific Company, has been promoted to be district freight agent for that company with headquarters with offices in the Worcester block where are all the principal offices of the company. Mr. Lounsbury is succeeded as traveling freight agent for Oregon by H. A. Henshaw S. P. agent at Hillsboro for the past two years. Mr. Henshaw is a bright, energetic, accommodating gentleman and will be quite likely to be as efficient a hustler for freight as was his predecessor.

Mr. Lounsbury by his upright dealing and courteous manner has made many friends among the shippers and business men of Oregon, who will be glad to know of his promotion, which he has won by earning it through close attention to his duties.
