At the conclusion of the sermon the Ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the theme will be "Mormonism—Is it of God or Man?" A cordial invitation is extended to all.

A Brief Record of Local Events.

The Rogue River fleet has been added to by H. D. Norton, who last week launched a 16-foot canoe.

R. Thomas received this Friday the skin of a nine-foot cougar from Jump-off Joe that was sent in by his partner R. H. O'Neill, who is taking an outing in that classically named Valley. A note came also stating that the erstwhile wearer of the hide was reckless enough to get in front of Mr. O'Neill's rifle and went down at the first shot from the bold hunter. The skin will be mounted and kept by Mr. O'Neill as proof of his hunting prowess as well as of a delightful outing.

To our agricultural friends who no doubt have grown some vegetables, fruit, grain, or grasses this year that would make a fine showing for our agricultural display at the State Fair and who do not care to enter them for premiums, would assist us in making a large and showy display of the state's resources by shipping a few of their products to Secretary, Frank W. Durbin, Fair Grounds, Ore. These will be displayed with a card attached giving the grower's name and location, also other matters of interest connected therewith.

Miss Grace Dickson, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dickson of this city, has shown that she can handle a gun with the skill of a marksman and can shoot a deer when it is on the run as well as any hunter. Two weeks ago Miss Grace went with her grandfather, W. R. Dickson, to spend a week with him on his homestead on Elk creek on upper Rogue river. While there Miss Grace and Mr. Dickson were on several short hunting trips and on one of them a large buck got within range of the young lady's rifle when she raised the gun and fired off-hand bringing the deer down at the first shot. It was a fine one and Mr. Dickson brought home some fine venison for his friends as proof of the hunting powers of his granddaughter.
