END COMES TO MRS. JEFF. DAVIS

WIDOW OF PRESIDENT OF THE CONFEDERACY SUCCEUMS TO PNEUMONIA.

Last Moments of Aged Woman Witnessed by Relatives, Who Were Summoned to Bedside.

New York, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the President of the Confederacy, who had been ill for a week at the Hotel Majestic in this city, died at 10:25 o'clock last night. Death was due to pneumonia, induced by a severe cold which Mrs. Davis contracted upon her return from the Adirondacks, where she had spent the summer months.

Although grave fears were felt from the first, Mrs. Davis' wonderful vitality, which brought her safely through a similar attack a year ago, gave hope of ultimate recovery until last night, when a decided change for the worse was evident, and the attending physicians announced that the end was near. It was then believed that Mrs. Davis could not survive the night, but she rallied slightly during the early hours of yesterday. Shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning she had a similar spell and the Rev. Nathan A. Slegle, pastor of St. Stephens' Protestant Episcopal Church, was hurriedly summoned to give religious comfort to the patient in her last moments of consciousness. The clergyman remained some time, and an hour later it was announced that Mrs. Davis had lapsed into a state of coma. The period of unconsciousness continued to the end.

At the bedside when death came were Mrs. J. Addison Hayes of Newark, N. J., the only surviving daughter of Mrs. Davis; Jefferson Davis Hayes, a grandson, who is a student at Princeton University; Mrs. Chas. E. Batesman, a niece; Dr. and Mrs. Gustav A. Webb, the latter a granddaughter, and Dr. W. A. Wylie, who with Dr. Webb cared for Mrs. Davis throughout her illness.

Mrs. Davis has for some years made her home in this city, where she had a wide circle of friends.

JACKIES PROVE GREAT SHOTS.

Remarkable Work Done from Battleship Maine at 4,600 Yards.

Barnstable, Mass., Oct. 17.—Some remarkable shooting on board the battleship Maine, the flagship of Rear Admiral Evans, is reported.

The Maine's forward turret, commanded by Lieutenant Roger Williams, platted eleven twelve-inch shot in a space 10x10 feet, at 4,600 yards, unmeasured range. A six-inch battery, commanded by Ensign L. R. Luby, bring volleys at 4,000 yards, made the center of the target look like a pepper sieve. Rear Admiral Evans said short range shooting had established the American fleet as leaders in that practice, and after watching the long-range shooting he felt sure no enemy could hit his ships as often as they could hit the enemy.

WILL ENTER SEATTLE

SUITS TO CONDEMN RIGHT OF WAY THROUGH CITY ARE BEGUN AGAINST HILL.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 17.—A new move was made yesterday by representatives of E. H. Harriman in their effort to secure entrance to Seattle and to property owned by the Oregon & Washington Railroad (Union Pacific) when condemnation suits were filed for a ninety-foot right of way through nearly twelve blocks of tide lands in the southern part of the city. The length of this strip is nearly 10,000 feet and crosses almost 2,000 feet owned by the Seattle and Montana Railway Company, belonging to the Great Northern.

A plan submitted by J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern, and approved by the City Council, was recently rejected by Harriman. This plan embodied the donation of a strip 60 feet wide through the property in question, the inner 30 feet to be occupied by 28 through running tracks of the Union Pacific and the outer 15 feet on each side to contain switching tracks of the Great Northern, on which Harriman was to have common use and privilege.

Harriman is attempting to reach the site on which he will build his station in this city.

Does the Stove Putty Question Interest You?

Want to know why a stove with puttied joints is expensive?

WHEN a stove manufacturer doesn't know how, or doesn't want to spend the money necessary to make an air-tight stove, he plugs up the cracks with stove putty.

Oh, yes, that stove will heat as good as any of them for a few weeks, perhaps.

It isn't long, though, before the putty dries up, contracts and falls out. Then you have a chink or crevice, open to the suction from the chimney.

The valuable gases, which should be burned, are forced up along with the smoke.

So is most of the heat.

If you want to see a stove that is air-tight throughout, and which will save you enough on fuel the first winter to pay for itself, come in and examine Cole's Original Air-tight Stove for wood, and Cole's Original Hot Blast for coal.

Made without putty, and guaranteed to remain air-tight during the entire life of the stove.

Cole's Air-tight Wood Stoves burn wood or lighter fuel.

Cole's Hot Blast burns Hard Coal, Soft Coal, Slack, Lignite or Wood.

Fire is never out with either from time stove is set up in fall until taken down in the spring.
