COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER REPORTS

Births Greatly Exceed Deaths—
Few Cases of Contagious Disease.

D. P. Love, health officer of the county board this week turned in his report for the month of October showing that in Josephine county there were four deaths, of these two were adults and two children; 14 births, eight male and six female. Several cases of contagious diseases were reported, a number of them having come here from outside districts for treatment.

There were 20 marriages reported during October but the number of ceremonies performed during the month was 10, the other 10 having been performed previously but not reported by the person officiating. Although the law provides that all returns must be filed with the county clerk within 30 days. The penalty for failure to comply with this law is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 for each action for every five days of such failure to file returns.

Many of the returns were not made until 60 or 90 days, while some of them dated back as far as April and May. The clerk is making an effort to have this law complied with.

The Cold Storage delivery horse on Monday evening dashed down Sixth street and across the railroad tracks driverless but he was stopped at the Calhoun corner by Owen Thomas who rushed out of the store and grabbed the horse just as it was slowing up to turn the corner. In crossing the tracks the horse just escaped being run down by a freight train that was being backed up, the wagon clearing the track about two feet ahead of the car.

Attorney A. C. Hough returned Sunday from his eastern trip; Mrs. Hough and little daughter are still in Detroit owing to the fact that Mrs. Hough's health would not permit taking the journey. While in New York Mr. Hough secured a relic that is of great interest, being a notice to the sheriff of Montgomery county at Albany to call a jury for the purpose of presenting a case at law. The document is a genuine parchment and bearing date of April 17, 1790. The qualification for juror as set forth in the document is "free and lawful man who shall have in his own right or in trust, or in his wife's right the value of 60 pounds, free from debt or incumbrance."

"The Holy City."

"The Holy City" Clarence Bennett's great play was given at the opera house on Monday evening and was attended by a very large audience. As it is seldom that a Grants Pass audience has the opportunity of listening to so fine a production as this, the progress of the play was followed with keen appreciation which would, however, have been considerably enhanced by a supply of programs which were for some reason lacking.

During the progress of the play some very beautiful scenic effects are produced and the tragic parts are impressively thrilling. One of the most noteworthy things of the play is the ability of each actor to impress the audience with the character of the personage represented. Thus the play shows King Herod weak and helpless among his scheming counselors; Pontius Pilate, a politician without scruple; Judas Iscariot, avaricious, unscrupulous and yet vacillating; Marius the patrician, a strong, clean character in the midst of corruption. The leading part is that of Salome, impersonated by Luella Morey, who portays with wonderful skill the passions and traits which dominate and make up the formidable character of this semi-savage princess.

The tone of the play is elevating and the purity of the new religion of Christ is set in sharp contrast with the barbarity, ferocity and corruption of the age.

Patent on Bicycle Attachment

Judd Taylor has recently received notice of the granting of Patent No. 838,649 on a bicycle attachment, which was filed March 14, 1906, and patent issued October 16, one-half interest in the patent being assigned to W. A. Paddock.

The attachment is for the purpose of converting a rigid frame bicycle into a cushion frame, and can be readily attached to any bicycle. Mr. Taylor has been riding a wheel equipped with the spring attachment for some months past and has demonstrated its practicability and value not only to his own satisfaction but to the satisfaction of everyone who has ridden the wheel. By the addition of this appliance rough places are made smooth and a corduroy road would be hailed with delight by the wheelman.

These gentlemen have not yet decided whether to dispose of the right or to enter the manufacturing field themselves.
