

TAN OXFORDS

The phenomenal and sudden demand for Tan Oxfords which has sprung up so suddenly through the east and west caught many manufacturers unprepared to serve their customers. This demand does not exist in New York alone, but prevails throughout the larger cities of both east and west.

ADVERTISE.

There is a certain risque story that young men tell when they get off by themselves, the burden of which is that it pays to advertise. It certainly does and if Grants Pass and Josephine county are to be developed to their fullest extent, it has got to be done by advertising. The cities of Southern California are the finished products of judicious advertising. We of the Pacific Coast realize that there are several important drawbacks to Southern California as an ideal home. But you take your Eastern man who has retired from business and who wishes to spend the remainder of his days in ease and physical comfort, he thinks that Southern California is located right next to the gates of Paradise. Nothing but advertising did it. Now the same can be done for Grants Pass. The climate here cannot be excelled by any spot in the Temperate Zones. Civilization and primitive Nature are closer together than at any other point on the Pacific Coast and that is what is attractive to the Eastern man. Game of all kinds is abundant within walking distance of Grants Pass. You can go up or down the Rogue River from town and catch your salmon and trout and in the hills on either side are deer in abundance. No city of Southern California can come anywhere near this as a place for a residence for the man who wishes to get the most out of life; not considering it at all from the viewpoint of the man who wants to make money for that is a wonderful thing all by itself. Remember Shakespeare: "We are advertised by our loving friends," and add to it the language of the street gambler: "Don't knock."

WHEN THE DEVIL WAS SICK.

The old, old English rhyme has it that "When the Devil was sick, the Devil a Saint would be; but when the Devil was well, the Devil a Saint was he." Very true and that seems to be the situation of our esteemed fellow countryman, Abraham Ruef. He has lately made a confession and claims that when he gets out of this scrape he is going to turn reformer and take a few pointers from the lessons that Henny has been driving into him. The surprising thing about all these kind of post mortem, good-god resolutions is that they never come soon enough. They always wait until they are in a sick condition and the doors of the penitentiary seem to be opening very wide before they are willing to confess. Mr. Ruef will be a saint as long as he is in the pen, but as soon as he gets out it will be the old English rhyme over again. It is like these fellows that are getting pardoned out of the penitentiary because they are dying of consumption and only have a few more months to live and they want to get back home and die in peace. It is really surprising how terribly sick convicts are and how they are just on the verge of death. Yet as has been before remarked, when they do get out they never fulfill their part of the vow.

Mr. Pitt Mine in Operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Godfrey returned Monday to their home in St. Helens, where he is a prominent business man, after spending 10 days in Rogue River Valley, the greater part of the time being guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Corlies, of this city. Mr. Godfrey is a stockholder in the Mt. Pitt mine in Jump off-Joe valley and he spent several days at that mine and at the Mountain Treasure mine three miles below, of which latter company he is stockholder and a director.

Mr. Godfrey stated that at the Mt. Pitt mine the five stamp mill is being run day and night on ore that is turning out good values. A full crew is employed by Manager A. G. Hooper and in addition to keeping the mill supplied with ore development work is being carried on. The mine is showing up well and there is every reason to expect that it will become one of the best producing properties in Southern Oregon. The Mountain Treasure is a property that is just being opened up. A contract has been let by the Company for driving a cross-cut tunnel of 350 feet. This will cut the vein at the 200 foot level. The contractors now have the tunnel in 60 feet and on its completion drifts will be run to more fully ascertain the extent of the ore body. If it shows up as well as now indicated a five stamp mill will be erected on the property.
