"Oh, I reckon it can get along very il without a newspaper," said the nical listener. "Rome lasted several turies without any newspapers and w to be a sizable city."

"Very true," replied the veteran, der, ery true. But you must not forget at Athens and other rival towns likewere without local papers. You talking of ancient times. I am dis-sing the present. Just suppose that Greek metropolis, for instance, had sessed a thriving and progressive rspaper-the only one on earth. I'm ne would have sat on one hill inpread out until the ancient rapid transit problem would have been the biggest public question in Greece." "But what has all this got to do with the little town in Texas?" Well, just this. We are living now in a newspaper age. The local newspaper is the great town booster. Ancient Rome could grow without newspapers, but any modern city would shrivel up and leave only a dry spot on the map if all its newspapers should shut up shop and move to rival cities. The lo-cal paper is the ploner of other agency has been so powerful in the building up and development of west and northwest have been built rgely by newspapers. "A hundred years ago the United States consisted of a fringe of population along the Atlantic coast and a few pioneers in the wildernesses farther in-land. About that time the newspaper table. began to make a showing. From year year it has been coming more and ore into evidence, with improvements in machinery, in paper manufacture, in type easting and the like. Now the local paper is a public necessity. No town can get along without at least one paper. There are very few towns now that are without their home week-Take the map of any state and look it over closely. Get a newspaper directory and study it along with the map. You'll find that any town big enough to be on the map has its local paper, with very few exceptions.

"As I say, the town paper is the ploneer. In many cases the paper has arrived even before the town. This applies particularly to Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Texas. I have had experience in some of those states in the newspaper line when they were in what you might call the ploneer stage, and I know what I'm talking about. I now see telegraph news Items from towns in Kansas, for inmere spots on the prairies, laid out about seven fathoms. town lots and waiting for populaon. In several of these towns the arst building put up was a hotel. One oom was occupied by a small printing lant, and a local paper was pub-Bshed. News? Why, plenty of it. While the town may have had only alf a dozen people, it had bright prospects, great possibilities, and the editor was continually writing about those possibilities and prospects. New citizens were coming in, outsiders were buying lots, and that little newspaper rew up with the town, being itself the chief instrument of the town's growth. It circulated outside and let the outsiders know the prospects and possibilities. Now those towns which started in that way have daily papers, most of them, and a home circulation that is not to be despised. "I'm sorry for that Texas town be ause it doesn't seem to be living in this day and generation-in the newspaper age. It apparently didn't have enterprise enough to keep the local ditor there. He has moved, no doubt, o a town which knows a good thing when it sees it and is disposed to help push it along. When I call this the newspaper age I mean that it is the age of advertising, of publicity. Printer's ink publicity is the kind that ounts. Every newspaper is a big free advertisement for its community. talks. It blows the town's horn when otherwise the horn would not be blown. It makes the town where it is publishd the center of the earth for the people who live there and for others whom It may induce to locate there. In these days a town without gumption enough to appreciate the public value of a local paper is not worth map space, and it won't incumber the ground very

They approached the men and warned them dedly of the opinion that little old that they had better cease creating a disturbance and go quietly to their stead of seven, and Athens would have homes. The two men seemed to resent the interference of the officers and after consulting together for a moment, approached them and without warning Tansey pulled a revolver almost in the face of McCartney and shot him in the neck. His companion also pulled a gun and fired two shots at Officer Mitchell, neither of which took effect.

After firing the shots, the two men took to their heels and fied. Mitchell stopped only a moment to look after his wounded companion and then made off after them. In America. Bones of Ship on Desolate Isle.

Tutuila, Sept. 4 .- The captain of the island steamer Maori lately visited Beveridge reef, also known as Nicholson island, which lies between Tonga and the island of Niue, and is isolated in the ocean. The reef is about ten miles from north to south and eight miles from east to west. He entered the lagoon with the steamer and found good anchorage. He also saw the remains of an old wreck, or several wrecks, judging by the large quantity of chains and innce, which I knew twenty years ago anchors. The depth of the ingoon is

Heney Will Not Go to Oregon,

Portland, Ore., Sept. 4 .- Special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney will not return to Oregon early in October to resume the land fraud trials in this State, as was expected.

Plans heretofore announced con templated the return of Heney to Oregon about October 1st, when the prosecution of pending land fraud trials would be resumed. Now that Heney is to continue his work in California, the time when the land fraud prosecutions will again be taken up in this State is more indefinite than ever.

Prominent Logger Murdered.

Hoquiam, Wash., Sept. 4 .- Frank Todd, one of the best known loggers in Chehalis county, was murdered in cold blood at his home in Hoquiam Sunday night, when he was struck down within his own woodshed by blows on the head delivered by an unknown assaliant. Rifled pockets, a blood-stained handkerchief and valuable effects scattered about the floor showed the motive for the deed.

Many Casualties During Maneuvers. Vienna, Sept. 4 .- The long list of casualties among the troops engaged in the yearly army maneuvers, now in progress in the neighborhood of the Wiener Neustadt, has aroused widespread public indignation. Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach indigestion or the cure of weak stomach indigestion or so generally employed. So the now worldfamed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or billousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance battle (all list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is hade from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forest. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts. Cachiers and writers on Mutrin Action who recommend them as the very best remedies for the disenses for which Golden Medical Discovery is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above.
From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompained with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will,
It will eure the affections that lead up te consumption, of taken in time.
