HOW TO DRAW CROWD

Small Kansas Town's Unique Idea That Helps Trade.

AMUSEMENTS ON SATURDAY.

Committee Advertises Prizes For Lightest Married Woman, Heaviest Lady, Queerest Dressed Boy—Fat Men's Race—Other Funny Stunts.

The trouble with some small towns is that nothing ever happens in them. That's why people don't care to "come to town." The farmers around about stay at home Saturday afternoons and piddle around if work is slack rather than hitch and drive into town and find themselves too lonesome to live. What the small town needs to keep up its spirits, attract people, draw trade and make life worth living is amusement.

There is a little town in Kansas called Edingham which has realized this fact and has done something unique. Edingham has a new Commercial club. The Commercial club has a special committee to work up "stunts." A "stunt" is something that is made to happen by artificial means. This committee got its several heads together and figured out a series of Saturday afternoon "stunts" that make most town affairs look like a plugged nickel. Every Saturday afternoon now there are hundreds of out of town people in Edingham. Any town with spunk enough can do likewise. Those people trade at the stores and other places and help the town along.

In a recent issue the Kansas City Star thus describes one of Edingham's "stunt" Saturdays:

On Saturday the Commercial club just said that certain things would be done on Main street Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock those same things were done. And there were about 200 farmers' wagons in town. That's all. They said there would be a fat men's race. There was. Five hundred farmers brought their families to town to see it. The winner got a buggy whip, a bottle of grape juice and a facial massage. They said there would be a twenty-five yard race for girls under twelve, the winner to be given a neck charm and two pounds of candy. They said that each of the two heaviest women coming to town to get in one vehicle should receive a china silk shirtwaist pattern, and the heavier $1 in cash. They said that the two lightest married women coming to town in one vehicle should receive a white embroidered parasol and a cake. They said the most ludicrously dressed boy should receive two collars, a necktie and a pair of socks. The week before they said there were $30 in money and a sack of flour waiting for the heaviest load of women coming to town in one vehicle.

It rained Saturday in Edingham. It rained quite some, but the Commercial club, through its committee on stunts, had said there would be things done on Main street at 2 o'clock, and the rain didn't melt anything with them. They got a scraper and a team of mules, skinned about thirty inches of surface off Main street and in ten minutes everything was ready for the fat men's race.

"All ready to enter here," called Willis Cahoon. "This is the fat men's race. Who's in?"

Doc White stepped up to the line. "I ain't a fat man," he said. "I only weigh 280, but I'm willing to show what I can do."

"Here," said Jim Stewart, "I thought this was a fat men's race. I weigh 310, but I ain't going to run with no living skeleton."

"Three hundred and twenty-six is my figure," said Roy Wallace as he toed the line, "but I'm willing to run with these race riders if White will take off that Panama hat. If the wind gets under that it'll blow him across the finish line. This ain't no aeroplane contest; this is a foot race."

"Cut out that talk and wait for the word," called out Starter Sharpless. "This is no debating society; it's a foot race to see who gets that facial massage."

"I'll give Stewart his now if he don't quit crowding," said Wallace.

"Go!" The word caught Stewart with his mouth open, and he lost valuable time getting it shut again that ought to have been devoted to getting his feet out of the mud. The crowd standing behind the starting line had to be told about the race afterward. They didn't see anything after the first deluge of mud that followed the uplifting of those feet. They telephoned back from the finish that White was the winner.

The weighing of the two heaviest women roused the partisanship of the crowd to the highest pitch. Cheers went up when Mrs. John Henry proved by the scales that she weighed 265 1/2 pounds. Mrs. J. R. Goodpasture only smiled. "Lend me to it," she said. As she stepped on the platform the crowd quivered with excitement. So did the scales. "I may have lost some," said Mrs. Goodpasture modestly. "I haven't been weighed since yesterday at 4 o'clock."

The clerk of the scales, Mr. Arthur, showed traces of deep emotion. "Madam," he said, "if you have lost anything it isn't weight; it is all here. Go to the committee and get a shirt waist pattern and $1 in cash. The scales quit at 245 1/2."

"Whoop-ee!" said the crowd.

Mrs. Don Reece established her claim to the parasol offered the lightest married woman, with a record of ninety pounds. Mrs. Tobe Van Schorlack took second honors and 50 cents in cash with 105 pounds.

MUCH CONCERN FELT

Ordinary Methods for Treating Catarrh Prove Unsuccessful.

Recent statistics showing an increase in catarrh have shaken the confidence of medical men in the usual prescriptions to safeguard human health from the ravages of this disease.

When stomach dosing provided ineffective, it was natural to look for her treatment, and it is believed that in Hyomei, an absolute cure for all catarrhal troubles has at last been found. Breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, its healing medication reaches every spot where there are catarrhal germs, destroys them, prevents their future growth, and soothes the irritated mucous membrane so that relief is felt almost instantly, while lasting cure is practically sure to follow.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, and is sold by Demaray under an absolute agreement to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. It is the only cure for catarrh that has ever been sold under a guarantee to cost nothing unless it cures, but Demaray has so much faith in its power to cure all catarrhal troubles that he is willing to take the risk, so that Hyomei does not help you, there will not be a penny's expense. Get an outfit at once on this liberal plan.

CLEVELAND'S GREAT ROAD.

Beautiful Boulevard Which Will Border the Rockefeller Estate.

Mayfield road, in Cleveland, O., when improvements begun the other day are finished, is to be one of the finest thoroughfares in that section of the United States, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Beginning at Garfield monument, the highway, eighty feet in width, will run three miles east of the end of Cleveland Heights village, paved with approved Telford macadam like the city boulevards. A grass plot will run through its center, containing shade trees at intervals of about 100 feet the entire distance. When other contemplated improvements are made the road will be a practical extension of the Cleveland park system. John D. Rockefeller, whose Forest Hill estate and other property borders on the highway, is one of the most extensive landowners, abutting to the extent of his 3,000 foot frontage, and has been instrumental in making the boulevard as planned.

So far $181,000 has been spent in piping and grading, and the contract for paving will involve about $205,000 more. Even in the matter of trolley poles Mayfield road isn't going to be surpassed. The poles will be fixed in the center strip, hidden to a degree by the trees, and will be provided with ornamental iron arms. On each side of the road proper are to be a sidewalk and grass plot twenty feet wide.

The Cleveland electric and Cleveland and Eastern railways have agreed to lay double tracks throughout its length. In part of which there are now only single tracks. The car tracks will be laid through the middle of the grass planted roadway.

These improvements have been under discussion for the last six years by Cleveland Heights citizens. Next year's work will be begun on the Coventry road, connecting with the Shaker lakes. This thoroughfare will be made 130 feet wide.

A Real Wonderland

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable "wonderland." At Moond City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by all druggists, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Facts About the Capitol.

A walk over to the national capitol reveals to you an edifice well worth seeing, and only after spending some time in walking through it can you gain a conception of what the domestic life of the capitol is. For instance, consider that it contains 430 rooms which are used for office, committee and storage purposes; 679 windows, 550 doorways, 140 fireplaces, 261 wash basins and sinks, 14 bathtubs, 15 ventilating fans, 18 motors, 8 elevators, 2,000 horsepower of boilers, 8 steam pumps, a lighting service equivalent to 25,000 incandescent lamps of sixteen candlepower each and over 14,000 square feet of skylights. This is all on the inside, and when we look over the outside and the forty acres of land to be kept up we begin to realize that it is no small job to keep the cobwebs out of the capitol and the weeds out of the yard.—Pathfinder.

GIVE NATURE A CHANCE.

The strongest minds have gotten their inspiration direct from Nature. Nature is the great teacher of mankind. We can look to Nature for all our needs. In the recent Russo-Japanese war the surgeons of the Japanese navy and army discovered that wounds would heal more rapidly and with better success if left to Nature. They washed the wounds with water which had been boiled and thus sterilized—then bandaged the wounds with clean linen—no powerful drugs or antiseptics were used in their first aid to the injured. Such methods resulted in the loss of only 32 out of 682 men treated in a naval hospital for their wounds. It is only from lack of observing Nature's laws that most of us suffer at one time or another from indigestion, impure blood and a generally run-down system. Our remedy lies in Nature's laboratory—deep in the fragrant woods—where are many American plants, the roots of which when properly treated will supply a health-giving tonic.

Many years ago a physician who had made an extensive practice among the afflicted made a striking departure from the usual methods of his colleagues in medicine—he went straight to Nature for the cure of those stomach disorders which resulted so often in an anemic condition, or impure blood, loss of appetite, pale or pimply skin, feeling of lassitude and weakness. He found that the bark of the Black Cherry-tree, the root of the Mandrake, Stone root, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Golden Seal root, made into a scientific, non-alcoholic extract by the use of glycerine, made the best alterative and tonic. The refreshing influence of this extract is at once apparent in the recovered strength of the patient—the vital fires of the body burn brightly and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which otherwise may poison the system. This alterative and tonic extract has been found to stand alone as a safe, invigorating tonic, as it does not depend on alcohol for a false stimulation, but is Nature's own method of strengthening and cleansing the system. It tones up the stomach and the blood in Nature's own way. It is well known all over the world as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The name given to this vegetable compound is because one of the important ingredients was Golden Seal root. Such an authority as Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says "very useful as a stomachic tonic. Cures catarrh of the stomach and headaches accompanying the same." Dr. Grover Coe, in his book Organic Medicines, speaking of Golden Seal root, says that "as a liver invigorator it has few equals." Further he says, "in chronic inflammation of the bladder we deem it one of the most reliable agents of cure. As a tonic in the convalescing stages of fever, pneumonia, dysentery and other acute diseases Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) is peculiarly appropriate."

Dr. Coe continues: "We would here add that our experience has demonstrated the Hydrastis or Golden Seal root to be a valuable remedy in bronchitis, laryngitis, and other affections of the respiratory organs."

"Of service in chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels following abuse of alcohol, a tonic after malarial fever. Has a distinct, antimalarial influence. Good in all catarrhal conditions, as uterine catarrh, leucorrhoea, etc. Is a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia." —Hobart A. Hare, M. D., University of Pennsylvania.

Prof. John M. Scudder in Specific Medication says: "It stimulates the digestive processes, and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched, and this blood feeds the muscular system. I mention the muscular system because I believe it first feels the increased power imparted by this tonic. It is a tonic in the most natural sense of the word, and is regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states." After many years of study and laboratory work Dr. R. V. Pierce produced the most happy combination of this Golden Seal root with other efficacious ingredients, and increasing in curative power these native plants from our American forests by the addition of chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, which is far better than alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles residing in plants. Glycerine is used in medicine to subdue inflammation and by cleansing the membrane of the stomach of abnormal secretions aids in the cure of dyspepsia, and stomach and intestinal troubles. It is a positive cure for Coughs, Influenza, Bronchitis and all Pulmonary diseases. One bottle will convince you—at your druggist, 25c, 50c, $1. at National Drug Co. and at Demaray's.

A Great Relief.

"The miner," said an operator, "accepts a situation fraught with peril as we accept our breakfast. He is as calm in the presence of danger as we in the presence of a steak. There is a story of a Pennsylvania miner who late one autumn was imprisoned while at work by the fall of a huge block of coal. With the greatest energy his friends set to work to liberate him. This, though, proved to be a task of enormous difficulty. On account of the position of the hole and the nature of the fall it was five full days before they reached their comrade. When finally a passage had been made the manager put in his head and called: "Jack, how are ye?" "All right," was the reply. "What day is it?" "Thursday." "Good. Then I'm in time for the chrysanthemum show."
