

GRAND HOLIDAY DISPLAY

The Christmas rush is now on in full blast; seasonable goods are on display in all departments. Never before in the history of the country has there been so much money in circulation. There has been work and better pay, less call for credit and higher prices paid for farm products than ever known before in the history of Oregon. The banks have more money on deposit, the people have more money in their pockets, and if we don't get one cent more business this year we will be ahead of any previous year. Why should we kick? Why should you? We are not going to. We are preparing for a big Holiday Business. We are going to sell Holiday Goods cheap. We shall look for you; don't disappoint us. Will save you some money on everything you will want to buy from Dolls to Donkeys

Free Delivery Notes
 A woman mail carrier in Delia, Oregon, has been a heroine the other day. She was carrying a forty mile route through the timber, managing a large family of fourteen years since an amount of $100.00 was made for the project. Recently as ten years ago the Boston Globe recently as ten years ago the amount of $100,000. Last year it was $25,000,000, while this year the free delivery will cost $37,000,000.

gan work at Alexandria on route 19 and with but a few days' exception, while ill, has not missed a week's service for her patrons. She is one of the most painstaking and popular of the eight rural carriers with routes centering in Alexandria. In the years Mrs. Condo has carried mail she has not neglected her household or social duties, being one of the most active members in two of three literary and social clubs. Tiring of horses, Mrs. Condo decided to surprise her patrons with an automobile. Without consulting any one except members of her family, Mrs. Condo bought an automobile buggy. In a few weeks she mastered the management of the conveyance. Mrs. Condo is financially independent and delivers mail for the benefit the work and open air trips are to her health.
Hard Luck.
 "It looks very much as though some people are born to ill luck," sighed the old lady.
 "Why do you think so?" queried the chance caller.
 "Well, take myself, for instance," said the old lady. "I have collected nearly 20,000 medical recipes and pasted them into a book during the last fifty years, and I have never been sick a day in my life."
 "Here's a letter from the boss," said the machine leader's henchman. "He said you'd give me a job."
 "But," protested the merchant, "I have absolutely nothing for you to do here."
 "That's all right. I won't mind that so long's I get me pay regular."

ROLLING TAMPER.
 Curious Machine For Preparing a Road For Oil.
 A new and curious kind of roller or "rolling tamper" has been devised for use with a type of road invented and used in California. This road has been called, from the place where it originated, the Santa Monica system and is little more than an oiled road in which the oil is caused to penetrate deeply instead of being merely spread over the top. The top soil is loosened to a depth of several inches, so that the oil when applied may penetrate for quite a distance below the surface. The earth thus oiled is then rolled and thoroughly compacted and practically forms an inferior kind of asphalt paving.
 From the circumference of a large roller project a considerable number of tamping points, and the effect of this is to compact the soil from the bottom upward, these points sinking into the depth of the loosened earth and rising nearer and nearer to the surface as the bottom layers become contracted, until finally the tamping point sinks but a little distance into the surface of the roadway, says the Municipal Journal and Engineer. In using this method of road construction the earth is plowed to a depth of about six inches and is properly surfaced with a road machine, the clods or lumps having first been broken up with a harrow or similar machine. Asphaltic oil is then sprinkled over the roadway, the endeavor being to give about one gallon of oil to each square yard, and the oil and earth are then thoroughly mixed by a cultivator, after which the roller tamping begins.

This process of oiling and tamping is repeated three times, until each square yard has received about three gallons of oil, when the surface is smoothed down by the use of an ordinary roller.
 In the construction of reservoir embankments in India the British engineers substituted for the roller, which is commonly employed in England as well as in the United States, flocks of goats, which were driven continuously back and forth across the earth as it was placed in thin layers by workmen, who brought it there in baskets, and it is probable that the compacting effected by the small hoofs of the goats is more thorough than that which would result from a grooved roller. It is said that the idea of the rolling tamper was suggested by seeing the effect upon the soil of the passing of a herd of sheep, and it would appear as though the effect of the two might be very similar. It is well known that an ordinary flat roller will not give nearly so solid an embankment as will a grooved roller.

DOCTOR THE ITCH WHERE THE ITCH IS
 Don't Dose the Stomach to Cure Eczema and Other Skin Diseases
 Those afflicted with Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, or other skin diseases of a similar nature, should never dose the stomach to rid themselves of the terrible itch. They should doctor the itch where the itch is—cure the skin through the skin, not through the stomach.
 Eczema and other disease of a kindred kind are skin diseases—not blood diseases. Science has shown that Eczema is caused by germs in the skin and that the disease can be eradicated only by killing the germ.
 Dr. Decatur D. Dennis was one of the first physicians to follow out the germ theory in skin diseases. Then he discovered that by mixing oil of wintergreen with other soothing agents he had a liquid prescription which killed the germs and cured the awful itch, leaving the skin white and smooth. Since that time this D. D. D. Prescription has been the standard remedy for skin diseases, just as D. D. D. soap is the standard high grade skin soap.
 The first few drops of D. D. D. give instant relief from the terrible itch and from the frightful burning of the diseased skin. So reliable is this D. D. D. remedy that hundreds of physicians prescribe it. It is as wash as this as water and as mild and as pure, which is applied to the diseased portion of the skin.

 Mrs. Frances Richmond of Milton, Trimble county, Kentucky, writes: "My little girl's fingers were sore almost to the bone from Eczema. I used part of the sample bottle of D. D. D. Prescription received from you and now they are well. It is a wonderful skin remedy." We carefully investigated this D. D. D. Prescription before recommending it to our neighbors and patrons, and after a long experience we are more than ever convinced of its wonderful merits.
 You needn't decide now, but call at our store anyway and we will show you how this D. D. D. Prescription gives instant relief from itch.
Wait Whitman on Carlyle.
 I am not sure myself about Carlyle's final place—what he must finally come to—whether to be acknowledged, I fondly hope, as a great man, or to be forgotten. I am disposed to think of him as more significant than any modern man—in himself a full answer to the cry of the modern spirit for expression. This chirpy, self-satisfied age, full of vaunt, boast—so certain of all facts or as facts—stood in need of just such a man—a man full of scorn, complaint, contempt, lashing it into good manners by his fury.—Horace Traubel's Record of "Whitman in Old Age" in Century.
