CRAMER BROS.

The Southern Oregon Supply Co., has another efficient clerk, in the person of Herman Young, to assist in looking after the constantly increasing trade of this progressive establishment.

Rev. J. E. Day, the well known Woodville pastor and horticulturist tells the Courier that he has had treatment for catarrh from Portland and Salem Physicians, but never has been so pleased and benefited as he has by Dr. Findley's treatment. He speaks in high praise of his skill and also of him as a man, saying that he has noticed that he is kind and gentle and a thorough gentleman. All this he says without Dr. Findley's knowing that it was going to be in print.

W. S. Bailey, the busy secretary of the Applegate telephone company, informed the Courier, when at the county seat, Wednesday that things are going along nicely out that way. There are more would be patrons to the phone service, who will have to wait until the required apparatus can be had from the factory. He has issued a call for the annual meeting of the stockholders and directors for Monday, January 13, when the question of increasing the stock will be taken up and other matters of importance considered. Mr. Bailey is also "Mayor" of Davidson, as well as postmaster and general merchant.

Barnes, the jeweler was too busy this week to write up a change of ad which may be taken as another indication that Courier advertising pays and he says it most certainly does.

KINNEY & TRUAX

V. A. Peterson writes from his new home, at San Diego, Cal., that he is well pleased with the people and the climate. He now has a nice position with the Benson Lumber Co., of that most southern city of any importance on the Pacific coast.

The Holy City.

For this, the third season of Clarence Beckett's wonderful drama "The Holy City," every degree of theatrical representation has been made to excel. The allegory, musical, spectacle and thrilling situations so greatly enjoyed last year, the large company of superior talent, costumed in garments of almost bewildering beauty, is stronger and more brilliantly arrayed, and additional accessories have been provided. Nothing more dramatically complete will be seen this season and it is of pleasant record that last year's success is being surpassed. Manager Kinney confidently expects this engagement will be to the capacity of the theatre. "The Holy City" will also serve to bring to our notice a new star on the dramatic ornament in the person of Miss Luella Morey a brilliant young, emotional actress that will be seen as "Salome" the daughter of King Herod. Opera House, December 3d. While we tire of a sameness of the objects of everyday life, we never find first-class amusement a bore--the field is broad and ample--thought and study for anyone. In Miss Morey's rendition of the Queen of Gallias, who was the beautiful daughter of the puppet King Herod, who ruled with a despotic hand the Empire in the days of John, she finds the greatest field for her energies and the one thought in her heart is to render this sublime tragedy in away that taught but good may ever come of it. The cast selected in the support of Miss Morey, has each one been chosen for their special fitness for the role portrayed, and the scenic embellishments are all that one could desire. Opera House December 23.

He will appreciate a present from Harth. Fads and Fancies in Furnishing--Harth's.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

J. F. Hale, the Medford music man was sojourning in the city for a short time, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dunlap of Portland are expected as Christmas guests at the home of F. L. Cronan.

Claude Cheshire will come up from Portland to see the home folks, "and others," during the holidays.

John Harrington of Medford, has been in this city for a few days looking after some business interests.

George Thompson has been looking after some important affairs in Medford for a few days past.

The Provolt, Davidson and Kubli postoffices will be discontinued on and after January, on account of the new route service which will then be set in operation.

Miss Susie Bannard, who is spending some time at Campbell, near San Jose, Cal., writes the home folks that she is enjoying the climate and that her health is much benefited thereby.

H. A. Corliss, superintendent of the Ideal Hydraulic Gold Mining Co. was in from Grave Creek, Wednesday, looking after some important business matters of Ashland.

A. S. Barnes, spent Tuesday night in this city, as the guest of his son, Bert Barnes, the jeweler and family, while en route to Portland on a business trip.

This week the Grants Pass Fruit Growers Association received returns from another car of Spitzenberg apples, which were sold in the New York City market at $2.25 and $2.50 per box.

There is a war on between the rival Grants Pass livermen, with the natural consequence that rates have been very materially reduced and now we can almost afford to ride, rather than take "Walker's Hack."

M. M. Lewis of this city, who entered the forestry service last April, as a forestry guard, has already been promoted and is now Assistant Ranger and will hereafter be located in the district tributary to Grants Pass.

Mrs. C. M. Stone of San Francisco, who is so well known in this city, where she conducted a drug store for a number of years, is the guest of the family of J. E. Peterson. Her son, Dr. Bertram Stone is now a full fledged physician, at San Francisco, where he is building up a very nice practice.

The city authorities have had a large force of men engaged in the laudable undertaking of digging ditches this week to carry off the surplus water from the neighborhood of Sixth and F streets. Pedestrians will greatly appreciate this good work, when the heavy rains begin to fall, later on in the season. W. B. Sherman, who is to engage exclusively in timber lands, says he proposes fitting up one of the finest offices to be found anywhere in Southern Oregon. If it surpasses his last effort along this line it will certainly be a work of art, for the quarters of the Best-Foller Realty Co., formerly occupied by the W. B. Sherman Realty Co., were noted for being decidedly elegant in every sense of the word.

Newcomers cannot help but be favorably impressed with this city as a place where the people are lawabiding and the fact that there has not been an arrest made in this city since November 23 and the additional fact that the saloons are keeping their respective places of business closed on Sunday, ought to add materially to the good impressions they receive of the place. Few cities of this size in Southern Oregon can boast of such a record as this.

L. C. Gillette, the realty dealer departed for his old home, at Fort Worth, Texas, on Monday morning's overland, where Cupid has summoned him. Rumor has it that he will lead one of the fairest of that city's society young ladies to the hymeneal altar about Christmas day and after a pleasant honeymoon trip by way of Los Angeles, San Francisco and other Pacific coast points the happy couple will arrive in this city to reside about the middle of January.

Building Inspector, A. S. Hall, of the U. S. Postoffice Department, in making a tour of inspection of the offices in this region, finding that the Grants Pass office was growing in importance and that the volume of business is assuming large proportions, has decided to recommend to the department some much-needed improvements. Among other things, he will ask that the building be extended 28 feet, making it 88 feet in all and that better light be afforded by means of skylights. There are some other and far reaching recommendations which are not ready to be made public, yet for awhile, but which indicate all too plainly the fact that the department regards this as one of the most important offices in Southern Oregon.
