We always like to meet with Mrs. Brown, she has the coziest home there is in town, a "Homey" kind of home, you know, a place where you can sit and sort of rest your face. I know of houses gewgawed so with style, that when you enter you put on a smile—A sort of social shine, as you might say. So that you'll harmonize and be an fait. But oh, how dreadful tired I should get if I should train forever with that set. No, give me Mrs. Brown—whose happy guest can just lounge down and rest, and rest, and rest. Her rooms are low and broad, and quiet green—That restful green, and all the pictures lean at comfortable angles, and you chat in low and cooey tones—and there's a cat, of course a cat, that yawns there in the sun. A picture of content, like everyone. Then Mrs. Brown brings out her dainty set of tea things, and we know that we shall get the very nicest, dearest cup of tea—The CHASE & SANBORN'S brand, you know, and we have all of us been using it 'round town, it's always safe to copy Mrs. Brown.

HE WAS A FORMER RESIDENT OF GRANTS PASS

Garfield Gunnell, a former Ogden school boy and for the last four years in the government service as teacher in the Philippine Islands, left Hong Kong, China, yesterday on the start toward America, expecting to reach Ogden early in September. Upon arriving home he will have made a trip around the world, will have visited most of the well-known places and many almost unheard of places in the Far East and in Asia generally and Europe. He has visited practically every part of the Philippines and studied the people and conditions, so that his letters home are accurate and valuable descriptions of that archipelago, its lands, its waters and its peoples. Garfield was attending the University of Oregon when requested by the United States authorities at Washington to aid in the work of educating the young people in those faraway islands, so that he has been away from Ogden some six years and many persons make friendly inquiry about him and await almost impatiently the opportunity to welcome him home, even if for a brief stay. It is understood that the young man has been requested by the authorities here to return to the same work and that he promised to do so, though at the sacrifice of purposes and ambitions along contrary lines.

The editor of the Standard has taken a personal interest in the career of this young worker and traveler and knowing his ability to observe and study people and things, and tell of them through his pen, has the hope and expectation of getting from him, in time some entertaining matter for our readers. He has made the Philippines Islands a playground as well as a place for hard, devoted labor for the natives—has made Japan pleasure resort during vacations and when seeking health, and is particularly well qualified and prepared to speak and write of those countries—Ogden, Utah Examiner.

Garfield Gunnell is a brother of A. H. Gunnell and a former resident of this city.
