Not Quite the Same.
A country clergyman vouches for the truth of this story. Having arrived at that point in the baptismal service where the infant's name is conferred, he said, "Name this child."
"Original Story," said the sponsor nurse.
"What do you say?" he asked in surprise.
"Original Story," she repeated in clear, deliberate tones.
"It's a very odd name, isn't it? Are you sure you want him called by the name of Original Story?"
"Original Story—that's right."
"Is it a family name?" the minister persisted.
"Named after his uncle, sir," explained the nurse.
And so as Original Story the little fellow was christened. Some weeks after this event the minister made the acquaintance of the said uncle—a farm laborer in another village—whose name was Reginald Story.—London Tatler.

French Superstitions.
The French superstitions regarding deaths and funerals are all but numberless. "If you meet a funeral while driving, you will have an accident before your drive is over unless you turn back," they say. Many a gambler en route for Monte Carlo will not gamble that day if he meets a funeral. Others will bet only at rouge et noir and persistently on the black. The peasants have at least a hundred superstitions about bees. They believe (and did not Virgil, too, or did he but chronicle it of his contemporaries?) that bees are bred of dead men's bones and flesh. This seems to be one of the oldest of the current French superstitions, for on a very old tomb at Arles (found in the world famous Alyscamp) is this inscription: "This Has Become the Home of Unhallowed Bees."—London Answers.

What Ails You?
Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?
If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from illness of the liver with indigestion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.
The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. B. Barlow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Editor of American Dispensary; Prof. Jno. M. Soudger, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Lawrence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authorities and many others endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

THE ANA RIVER SPRINGS, OREGON

Source of Waters Investigated
by Government Geologists.

The northern end of the valley of Summer Lake, in Southern Oregon, contains a group of three or four large springs which unite to form Ana River, the principal feeder of the lake from the south. These springs occur in a semi-arid region, where their volume—about 100,000 gallons a minute—and their constant flow through wet and dry seasons make them objects of unusual interest and their source has always been a puzzle to local investigators.

Summer Lake valley is a depression bordered on the west and north by conspicuous cliffs of basalt and on the east by lower rims of the same material. One large stream, Chewaucan River, rising in the wooded mountains west of the basin, discharges into it through a conspicuous canyon, but the flow of this stream is less than that of the great springs at the head of the valley, and a large part of it escapes over the surface southward through Chewaucan Marsh into the alkaline Lake Abert, which occupies a depression somewhat lower than that partially filled by Summer Lake.

The surface drainage into the basin from the high, rocky, arid plateaus to the east is small. The temperatures of the Ana River waters is 20 per cent or more above the mean annual temperature of the region, indicate that the springs rise from depths 100 feet or more below the surface; and as the alluvium that forms the valley floor is probably a mere veneer whose thickness is much less than this, it is probable that the waters rise from the underlying rocks along one or more of the lines of easy passage afforded by the faults or fracture planes that limit the valley. But even if the springs yield rock waters rising from depths, the source of these waters still remains unknown.

The geologists of the United States geological survey who have been studying the region rejected at once the idea that the areas east and south of the springs could furnish the water, partly because of the aridity of these areas, and partly because the investigations had revealed structural conditions that would tend to prevent the circulation of water westward to the point at which it issues. North and west of the springs, however, is a mountainous region, not well known geologically, but including an area that is well timbered and has relatively high rainfall. In this region rise Sprague and Williamson rivers, both streams of considerable volume. It is probable that the surface of this mountain region presents areas of porous rock capable of absorbing the rain water that falls upon it, and these areas are regarded as the most probable source of the waters that issue in such great volume at the springs.

Good Liniment.
You will hunt a good while before you find a preparation that is equal to Chamberlain's Liniment as a cure for muscular and rheumatic pains, for the cure of sprains and soreness of the muscles. In cases of rheumatism and sciatica it relieves the intense pain and makes sleep and rest possible. In cases of sprains it relieves the soreness and restores the parts to a healthy condition in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is equally valuable for lame back and all deep seated muscular pains. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by M. Clemens.

A Worthy Antagonist.
"Did you visit any of the old caves when you were up in Scotland?" Jorkins was asked by a friend.
"Yes," replied Jorkins reminiscently, "and, by gum, we had to forcibly pull Maria out of one cave."
"Good gracious! She was fascinated by its beauty, I suppose."
"No, it wasn't beauty. You see, there is a wonderful echo in the cave, and Maria couldn't bear to think of the echo having the last word."—Liverpool Mercury.

His Eminence.
A French cardinal, being small of stature and hunchbacked at that, always gave the keenest repartee when addressed with "highness" and "eminnence." "My highness is five feet two inches, and the eminnence I carry on my back."

Seemed Incomprehensible.
