SELMA.
(Too late for last issue).
The 4th is past and gone and farmers in this vicinity are all hay ing.

Mrs. J. B. Clark, who has been in Portland visiting with her son, returned home last week.

We are glad to report no sickness here this week. All are convalescent.

L. C. and W. H. Hudson of Galice were at home with their families at this place the 4th.

J. F. Harless Sundayed at home returning Monday to W. C. Harmon's mill on Cheney creek, where he is at work.

D. H. Wimer of the Hotel Enterprise is doing business in Grants Pass this week.

Mrs. W. L. Tuttle of Dryden was in Selma yesterday delivering berries and vegetables.

Ed Churchill and C. E. Harmon of Grants Pass were callers at the home of R. C. Churchill Sunday. Jerome

Powers and bride who have been visiting at the home of their parents near here, returned to their home at Merlin last week.

G. F. Hudson is making hay for Shemitt Bros. at Anderson station this week.

J. W. Harmon of this place spent Saturday at the home of his parents on upper Deer Creek.

Last Friday when E. F. Hathaway of Dryden was on his way to Selma his team became frightened and ran about a half a mile, throwing Mr. Hathaway out and scratching him about the face considerably, and gave him a general shaking up, also tearing the harness almost to pieces. But nothing daunted, E. F. got himself together, borrowed a horse and came to Selma and did his trading as though nothing had happened. This is twice in the past year the team has run away upon the same road.

Good luck to the Courier.

DEERING

Very warm days and cool nights has been our portion lately. Our gardens are looking fine and dandy with small fruit in abundance. Apples, plums and peaches while not being so numerous as last year are looking fine and predict a good time for the long winter evenings to come.

James Daily of Kerby was looking over the orchard of C. T. Webb Tuesday. Mr. Daily has had a great deal of experience in growing fruit and says Elk Valley has some very thrifty and promising young trees. He spoke in very high terms of our peaches and plums, which indeed are marvelous.

Mrs. Frank Stiwalt and Miss Ruby O'Brien were callers at Uncle Ebe's cabin Thursday.

Thomas Jantzer and son who have been for some time camped on upper Elk Creek have crossed the divide and are now located on Saddle Bar.

Mr. Jantzer hails from Grants Pass and is seeking the source from whence came all this gold that is scattered around the country.

Sam Egger has taken a contract from the county to repair the stage road over the mountain and we can hear his blasts at all hours of the day. He has a crew of men at work.

J. H. Moore of Medord, who has had his tent pitched for some time in our valley has hoisted sale for Del Norte county, Smith River locality in California.

Vaughn Ash took in the thriving town of Holland Tuesday. Mr. Ash is seeking an opening for some business or will invest in Josephine soil if he can get a piece that suits him.

T. D. Collett and Chas. Reynolds ran afoul of an old bear and two cubs last week. The boys manage to capture one of the cubs which they now have on exhibition.

One of Uncle Sam's post office inspectors was in our burg Wednesday.

Miss Hattie Webb is visiting for a week with Mrs. Sadie Smock of Holland. They both have had seaside vacations at various places and of course will swap yarns.

Swan Hagland and Walter Gresham are the guests of E. L. Hays on Sucker creek for a week or 10 days. They will take in the big caves in that locality before they return here.

John O'Brien and E. Wilson have finished their irrigating ditch, started by them some time ago and now have plenty of water for both their ranches. They tapped the Illinois river just below the old Durkee place and carry the water nearly two miles.

Mrs. A. I. Reynolds presented a fine bouquet of roses that were taken from her flower garden to Mrs. Martha Webb of this place, that indeed were a marvel of beauty. The roses were of different varieties and one in particular as large as a tea saucer. Now "honest injun," can California roses beat ours?

The man was dying in agony. The death rattle was issuing from his throat, when his wife remarked "Jim, dear, do be more quiet; you'll wake the baby."

D. L. Webb lost a fine driving mare last Saturday night. He found her dead in the stall on Sunday morning. This makes five horses that Dave has lost since coming to Oregon.

E. M. Albright has just returned from a week's business trip to your city.

MULE CREEK

(Too late for last issue).
Fourth of July passed off very smoothly at Marial and Illabe, everyone having a good time.

G. W. Clay has disposed of his interest in the Red River Gold mining and Milling Co., and will hereafter live with his family at Roseburg, though he is still interested in a fine quartz proposition in this section.

Mr. Brown, manager of Red River outfit, made a business trip to Grants Pass for some extra fittings for their saw mill last week.

E. J. Porteous, manager of Rogue River Mining and Developing Co., was a visitor in Grants Pass last week.

J. E. Hizer and family of Glendale are visiting with Geo. Billings and family on Mule Creek.

Red River people have their water wheel installed and will begin to saw lumber in a few days. The company have a three mile flume to build on their placer property on Rogue River. Geo. Nunenbecko, manager of Paradise quartz mine on Saddle Peak, reports work progressing. At present he has only two men working. This mine has some very rich ore in sight.

Rogue River Mining and Developing Co. have completed their flume and are ready to mine, though they will not have a full head until about September. All the men but two will be laid off.

Mr. Abe Swartz, foreman for Red River Co., spent the 4th of July with his family at Riddle.

Earle N. Young, of the Forest Service, made a flying trip to Grants Pass to get a tooth pulled.

FRUITDALE.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bateham and family are attending the Chantauqua at Astland, Ore.

Mr. Conger of Placer, Ore., has been visiting his two little daughters, at the home of E. H. Wise.

Mrs. H. H. Wardrip and children went to Ashland last Saturday for a week's visit with her parents.

Mr. Glenn Sturtevant of Grants Pass was calling on relatives here last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Maude Kenworthy of Portland, Oregon, is visiting her cousin Mrs. G. A. Hamilton. Miss Kenworthy's father was the first mayor of Portland.

Edna Hamlin, who is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Heston, has been spending a few days with Rath and Orill Huck this week.

Brother Newman was taken to the hospital at Grants Pass last week and we hear he is somewhat better. We all hope he will soon be able to be back among us again.

An open meeting of the grange was held Thursday evening, July 9, at which time Johnson, lecturer of the Oregon State Grange spoke. His talk on the advantages of the Grange was very helpful and interesting. At this meeting it was decided to hold the Fruitdale Grange meetings on the first Saturday of each month, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Brother Long of the Presbyterian church preach for us last Sunday after Sunday school. His sermon was very helpful and was enjoyed by all present. We will be glad to have him come again some time.

H. H. Wardrip is having a driveway put in from his buildings directly east to the main road, where he has the name "Geneva Farm" suspended over a large gate. About half way from the gate to the house is a very pretty rustic bridge. Mr. Wardrip intends to set out ornamental trees and rose bushes along the driveway. We are pleased to see such improvements in our dale.

E. H. Wise received a car load of fence posts last week which he intends to use on his farm.

B. Y. P. U. Entertains.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Newman M. E. church Tuesday by the members of the various young peoples societies of the city, being the guests of the Baptist Young People's Union. These gatherings are held quarterly at the various churches and each time some one of the young peoples societies acts as host. An address was given by Dennis Stovall on "The Benefits to be derived from being a member of a young People's Society" Craig Sharp also spoke on "Methods and Plans for Young People's Work." Refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Millie Drake and then a bean guessing contest furnished considerable entertainment, Miss Lizzie Moore guessing 326 as the number of beans contained in a jar. The actual number was 327. A pleasing program was then rendered which included a piano solo by Miss Flavia Hackett, recitation by Miss Pauline Coe, vocal solo by Rev. F. C. Lovett, and a debate on the question, "Resolved, That the young men are doing more for the Young Peoples societies than are the Young ladies." The affirmative was discussed by Frank Ellis and Harold O'Neill but they were vanquished by Misses Josephine Randle and Nina Paddock.

COUNT THE DOTS

No Work, Just Play!

A Genuine Re-constructed Ruby for the person Sending in the First Correct Number of Dots in and around the "Three W Ring."

The three "W's in our window indicate the initials of the Makers of High Grade Rings. These three "W's" stand for WHITE, WILE & WARNER, Makers of Good Rings, Buffalo, N. Y.

In order to tell the people of this city of the many good qualities of these good rings, the makers have authorized us to ask you to join us in solving an easy problem. In the window you see a beautiful genuine Re-constructed Ruby Ring, worth $15.

There are times when you have little or nothing to do, and know of no better way of devoting this time than by making an effort to procure this beautiful ring as a reward for your services. The Ruby ring is given to the Lucky Counter. Just count the dots and send or bring us the number you have counted in a closed envelope with your full name and address, giving date and time of day. The correct amount of Dots is known to no one but the manufacturer of Three "W" Rings. This number is now contained in a sealed envelope and the seal will not be broken until the close of contest. There are "no conditions, no but's or if's," and we ask nothing in return for the privileges you have in solving this problem.

You do not have to make a purchase in order to have this privilege, but all we ask of you is to remember that our stock of Jewelry consists of the best merchandise obtainable at the most reasonable prices. Everything that is good in watches, silverware, diamonds, rings and jewelry can be found here.

We beg to call particular attention to our unusually large stock of rings. We do all kinds of jewelry repairing and watch work in the best possible manner, at moderate prices. Please remember we save you money and assure satisfaction.

Be sure and count these dots as this ad will not appear again. This contest closes October 1st.
