It would seem that it requires more evidence to convict a liquor dealer than an ordinary citizen. We have heard of cases where the evidence of one witness has been enough to convict, but we have not, as yet, been able to ascertain how many witnesses, aside from detectives, the law requires to offer sufficient testimony to convict those dealers who are in open violation of our laws, making men drunk. And yet, these law-breakers would have us think that they are, of all men, the most desirable citizens and the most zealous in keeping the "Pure Food Law" (as applied to liquor).

The mails are flooded with letters, price lists and even premium offers to individuals soliciting holiday trade in the accursed drink. How many homes, think ye, would be made happier. How many hearts would be made lighter for the offer made by these liquor dealers?

The day is coming when this curse will be no more and this fair country shall indeed be white. In the meantime let the temperance forces march steadily forward, trusting in God, who is the friend and guide, leading in this gigantic struggle against wrong.

The Will of the Sovereign.

The anti-liquor laws in modern democracy, are not edicts imposed upon the people, as the saloon men would be glad to have the people believe; they are laws adopted by the people themselves, and depend upon the people for their execution. This is especially true in regard to the local option law in our own state of Oregon. By the "Initiative" the citizens expressed their will, and offered to the people of the cities, precincts, and counties a local option law. This they did by a great majority.

And again, when an attempt was made this last year to emasculate that law by cutting out from its beneficent action the cities of our state the people, by a very much larger majority, repudiated that attempt. By this action the people served notice on the liquor fraternity that they should keep their hands off the local option law. That enactment was by the will of the sovereign people of the state of Oregon, and must stand.—American Issue.

The boldness of these liquor men is incomprehensible. One of the class accosted a farmer the other day with "Do you want to do some hauling?" This being a slack season in farm work, the farmer thought he might take the job, but upon inquiry found that the hauling consisted of not much at a time but a little off and on all winter or longer—well, in fact, supplies for the saloon at Savage Rapids. And these supplies are not to come from Medford, but from Grants Pass. Can it be possible that Medford liquor men have their agents in our city? Surely the men of Grants Pass are loyal to the laws of our state (?).

Press Correspondent.

Received too late for last issue.

The W. C. T. U. in its meeting last Friday did some work in planning for the Parliamentary department. This line of work under Mrs. Mary Hildreth, as superintendent will be taken up in a course of study in the near future. Full particulars will be given later. There were present at the L. T. L. meeting about 30 children. It is hoped that the organization with officers, superintendents and yearly program of meetings can be completed at our next meeting that the year book may go to the publisher and be in the hands of every member before the end of the year. Let all the White Ribboners help to make this year the "best ever."

The National Women's Christian Temperance Union touched "high watermark" in the organizations history at the Thirty-fifth annual convention just closed. The note of victory sounded at Nashville, Tenn., one year ago, was caught up at Denver with greater enthusiasm and determination for the rapidly whitening map of our country was the best possible evidence that we have wrought to some purpose. The year's accomplishments, aside from the gain in prohibition territory, include an unprecedented gain in membership 120,468 above all losses, an increase of more than $1000 in the amount contributed to the Frances E. Willard Memorial Fund, and a balance of $8,597.69 in the treasury, with no "bills payable." On matters of policy the convention was conspicuously harmonious.

Two new officers, corresponding secretary and treasurer were elected one new department, that of Co-operation with missionary societies was adopted; a college Y secretariats was created; two white ribbon missionaries to the orient, Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson of Massachusetts and Miss Ruth Frances Davis of Wisconsin and a missionary to Mexico, Mrs. Nellie Burger of Missouri, all under commission from the World's W. C. T. U. were consecrated to this special service and bidden Goodspeed Plans for the coming year provide for an extension of the work in many directions. The convention of 1909 was voted to Omaha, Neb. (Signal)

The Head Hunters.

In Tappahoe, in New Guinea, the houses are built on piles in the open ocean a good distance from the shore. The object of this is to protect the inhabitants against sudden attacks of the deadly head hunters, who always are on the lookout for victims, whose heads they need in their businesses. Other villages in this happy land are perched up in all but inaccessible trees for the same weighty reason.

The Laugh.
The gods had each bestowed upon man some gift, and now they were standing about to look him over. "Ain't he comical?" cried one or another of them, and it was on that suggestion that they all united in giving him the laugh. It proved about the most precious gift of all. Only for the laugh, how should man have lived it out in anything like comfort?—Puck.
