CHILDREN ARE GIVEN GIFTS BY R. L. COE

The Christmas gifts to the boys and girls from R. L. Coe this year was a handsome box of fine candy, and the youngsters were right on hand at the time announced. Monday evening Grandpa Prescott, dressed up in Santa's garb and at the appointed hour began distributing the boxes. The boys and girls entered the front door and were handed a slip of paper on which they wrote their names and when this was handed to Santa Claus the child was presented with the box. There were 500 boxes of candy and in a very short time every one was gone. Business in the big store was paralyzed for the time being, and with the 500 youngsters, who were nearly all there at the same time, and as many more spectators, the building was crowded to its utmost capacity. This method of treating the children has been followed out for some years past and has gone a long way toward making the popularity with the young folks which the R. L. Coe store enjoys.

JEWELL HARDWARE CO WAS BURGLARIZED

August Baldwin languishes in duress vile at the Hotel de Russell for having sticky fingers. He had been working at the Jewell Hardware Company as a harness worker and during Sunday night went over the wood shed roof and climbed into the store and as he went out gathered up a lot of tools, jack-knives and other material valued at about $60. When the store was opened Monday morning the night visitor's tracks were noticed and a survey of the shop was made. An apron belonging to Baldwin was in the shop Saturday night, and as this was taken with the other plunder, suspicion pointed strongly to him. The police at this city and of Roseburg, Medford, Ashland and other neighboring places were communicated with and shortly afterwards word was received that he had been arrested at Medford. When taken into custody he had several of the knives in his pockets. Most of the tools were also recovered.

Odd Christmas Cakes

A GERMAN NOVELTY.

GERMANY for many years has been the land of Christmas novelties, and each year the Kaiser's ingenious toy, candy and cake makers devise some oddity which proves irresistible in luring small or great sums from the pockets of Yuletide shoppers. One of the latest manias is for quaint and humorous Christmas cakes, which are literally cartoons in sugar and dough. The cakes are decorated with all sorts of funny figures made of colored sugar and in many instances are not the crude art products one would expect under the circumstances. The Bavarian peasant, for example, is a fair type of the living original as he is pictured in the German comic weeklies. A Munich waitress carrying a well grouped bunch of foam capped steins of the beverage for which Munich is celebrated at home and abroad, even if she does suggest Salome a trifle, is decidedly lifelike, while the saluting soldier by his very attitude suggests that foam capped steins and sentry duty do not associate very well.

The German authorities have done much to encourage the toymaking industry, particularly by collecting toys from all the world that the toymakers might acquaint themselves with the wants and peculiarities of foreign markets. The wooden animals of the past have been eclipsed by the mechanical toys. A submarine boat which sinks into the water and rises again, all with one charge of soda powder; a diver which goes to the bottom and bobs up serenely when air is blown into him through a little tube, a Santos-Dumont airship which really flies, a real Gatling gun with stairs for tin soldiers to go up, a railroad with full working equipment—

these are among the mechanical toys of Sonneberg.

In short, Santa Claus in these times can find the means of gratifying the wishes of his most fastidious portioner.
