Geo. S. Calhoun and G. W. Donnell went to Portland last Friday night, returning home the following Tuesday. They attended to business and were present at the ceremonial session and banquet of Al Kader Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine.

S. M. Holt, of Ellenwood, Kan., is spending a few weeks here with his mother, Mrs. Lucy S. Holt, who is suffering from a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Holt has been engaged in the newspaper business for a number of years until recently, when he took up the insurance business.

H. C. Mackey is moving his photo studio from the Axtell building, which is soon to be removed, to the gallery building on H street, next the Layton hotel. Mr. Mackey will be ready for business in the new stand Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Firey and their daughter, Margaret, of Aberdeen, S. D., are guests of S. H. and J. G. Riggs, who are particular friends of former days in South Dakota. Mr. Firey is here to visit his friends and incidentally to get a knowledge of the golden opportunities for Eastern investors in the Rogue River Valley.

He is the traveling agent of the great Milwaukee System of railroads and a capitalist who knows a good thing when he sees it. He is greatly interested in this section and intends to make an investment here, presumably before leaving. His visit has much significance, and more than he is willing to tell.

A. B. Cornell returned this week from a 20 days' tour of the Willamette valley. He attended the regular annual meeting of the workers in the Oregon Life Insurance Co. at Portland, and after attending to his business in that city he visited Salem, Albany, Eugene, Cottage Grove, and other points. The company offered Mr. Cornell his choice of any territory in the state and he wanted to see if here was any better section than Southern Oregon. After looking the country over thoroughly Mr. Cornell is convinced that this section is the best and he will continue to place Oregon Life policies in the Rogue River Valley.

BORN

SMITH—At Grants Pass, Saturday, January 16, 1909, to Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Smith, a son.

HANSEN—At Grants Pass, Wednesday, January 20, 1909, to Dr. and Mrs. B. F. DeVore, a son.

HANSEN—At Grants Pass, Wednesday, January 20, to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hansen, a daughter.

DIED.

MOTT—At Grants Pass, Saturday, January 16, 1909, Mrs. Nellie Mott, aged 58 years, 4 months and 22 days.

Mrs. Nellie Mott was born October 24, 1850, near Pon du Lac, Wis., married to Theodore Mott in August, 1879, moved to Grants Pass, April, 1890. She was a member of the Methodist church and a charter member of Gen. Logan Women's Relief Corps, which was organized in 1891, and has ever been a faithful member of that order, always in attendance at their meetings when her health would permit. Love of home, friends and country were the three greatest links in her chain of character. Though a young girl during the civil war, she never forgot its heartaches and how she loved "Old Glory." Go to her home and the old flag of red, white and blue was ever in prominence. Her last request was to be laid to rest with the old flag pinned to her breast.

Don't forget to visit Mrs. E. Rekkop's store while the Big Sale is on. Do your hens lay? If not buy oyster shell, bone, and Prussian Poultry Tonic from Cramer Bros.

Roses, shrubs and vines at half price if you order with the Ladies Auxiliary of the Commercial Club. They can also give you a big discount on shade trees.

Churchill & Riggs sold this week the O'Brian property on upper 10th street to Arthur W. Burrough. This property consists of eight acres and has a good residence, and is well improved and partially planted to fruit. Price $2500.

The front of the Golden Rule store has been open for the past week while the carpenters were at work remodeling the show windows and entire front of the store. The large plate glass front will soon be placed and the store will present an up-to-date appearance, equal to the city stores.

The train service between Grants Pass and California points has been greatly interrupted during the past week. On Wednesday, train No. 16, from the south, due here at 6:35, did not arrive until very late that night, and there was no other train through until Friday morning when a number of the delayed trains was accommodated by a stub train put on between Ashland and Roseburg.

R. L. Coe & Co. have just installed a handsome four-tier suit cabinet, constructed of solid oak, with glass sides and ends, a piece of furniture which would be an ornament anywhere. The cabinet will hold 150 men's suits, the three pieces of each suit being hung together and any suit can be removed from the case without disturbing any of the rest. It is also a space economizer.

Home Grown Tokay Grape Vines. About 40,000 first-class Tokay grape vines are now on sale by Earl V. Ingles. These are vines that have been rooted from the car load of cuttings shipped in by W. B. Sherman last spring. They are exceptionally good roots, being grown with a limited amount of water. The advantages of planting home grown vines are great. They are thoroughly acclimated, grown on red granite land and can be delivered at any time. They will be dug whenever the buyer wants them and need be out of the ground only a few hours. Any good fruit grower will appreciate the value of going to the nursery rows and getting stock that is fresh. Those wanting these choice vines can now contract with me for delivery at any time. EARL V. INGLES. 1-22-09 Conklin Building.

LOCAL EVENTS.

"Laugh and grow fat"—Hi Henry's Minstrels, January 27.

Our country residents have not visited the county seat in great numbers for the last week; bad weather and worse roads is the cause.

Ground bone, shell, grit, charcoal and beef scraps to make Hens Lay, sold by Cramer Bros.

Street Commissioner Gillilan has been kept very busy every day for the past two weeks. The long storm made both streets and crossings in need of repair.

City Engineer Hobson is getting ready for work; he will have a large amount of official as well as private surveying to do in the near future.

In spite of the rain and general bad weather, crowds of ladies and gentlemen have been visiting the Sixth street bridge every day for a week or more.

The special committee of three appointed to receive and act upon the report of Expert Cummings were in session Wednesday. Mr. Cummings arrived from Portland Tuesday evening.

Every train from the north brings anxious homeseekers who refused to wait for the reduced rates. The rainy weather is not just what is needed to do a land office business but everybody will be accommodated.

Verdin & Conger have handsomely fitted up an office at 109 North Sixth street in the building formerly occupied as a hardware store by Coron & Co. The firm will deal in real estate and timber lands. The sign work on the new office is certainly a handsome piece of work.

Fruit Inspector Bateham is in receipt of a communication from Better Fruit to the effect that it will the near future devote one issue to exploiting the fruit of Southern Oregon. This issue will be illustrated with photographs from this section. This gives Southern Oregon another opportunity to secure much needed advertising and our citizens should be ready to volunteer reliable information to the Better Fruit representatives when they arrive to secure information for the edition.

You can get three pairs of Children's Hose for 25 cents at Gardner & Co's. 1-15-3t

Jesse Neathammer came in from Evans Creek Monday with a load of fat hogs which he disposed of to the butchers here. Mr. Neathammer intended to make the return trip the same day but the best he could do with a good team was to make the trip one way, 20 miles in the day, on account of the bad condition of the roads. Although the Evans creek district is in Jackson county, Grants Pass is the trading point and many hundreds of dollars are annually brought to this city from that section and it is probable that this amount would be greatly increased were the roads in fairly good condition during the winter. There is one stretch between the Jones creek bridge and Dry Diggings where the bed of the wagon fairly drags on the thick mud.
