APPRAISEMENT OF THE
R. D. HUME ESTATE

Lower River Salmon King Owned the River Banks for About 12 Miles.

The late R. D. Hume, who was practically dictator with the powers of king at the mouth of Rogue river, left much less property than was supposed at the time of his death.
The appraisement of his holdings amounts to $378,000 and against this are debts amounting to $146,- 000. By some means Hume got hold of the land on either side of the Rogue river for a distance of 12 miles from its mouth and by this means he shut out all other fishermen from the salmon grounds. He acquired these lands during those days when it was easy to get title and when no questions were asked.

Of the 14,000 acres of land, 5000 to 6000 is valuable for timber, the remainder is productive only of grass for sheep; it is non-agricultural. Yet it may prove immensely valuable because it extends up each side of the Rogue river from its mouth for 12 miles and runs also seven miles north of the mouth of the Rogue along the ocean beach, without, it is said, a break at any place. Herein lay its value to Hume.
By tying up the river banks he hoped to keep off salmon invaders, and succeeded. Carrying out this policy of holding the district, he conducted his business affairs so that he was virtually king of Gold Beach and Wedderburn. By installation of his $35,000 cold storage plant and the deep wharf at Port Orford, he was extending his operations to the only other town of any importance in the county.

When he died men began to ask by what right Hume had held exclusive possession of the Rogue salmon grounds. The Rogue is a navigable stream, a third of a mile wide at its mouth, with 14 feet of water on its bar at high tide. It was realized that anyone had a right to come in from the ocean and seine. But all the frontage on both sides from the Pacific to beyond the fishing district was every foot held by the salmon king's estate, which could forbid landings or trespass, in short, where the county road came to the river would afford the only ingress except from the ocean.

MISSOURI FLAT ITEMS.

Well, Missouri Flat isn't dead yet, they all turned out to a corn husking Saturday at Samuel Cook's. Everybody enjoyed a good time.

J. F. Cook is still on the sick list.
He is slowly getting better.

F. M. Miller raised a bumper crop of corn this year. He only had three-quarters of an acre and he got fifty-five sacks from it.

There will be a wood-cutting at Samuel Cook's next Monday. All are invited.

When you buy "AMERICAN FENCE" you do not have to wait

The Mt. Lion mine is in full swing with a new foreman, Lee Courier, of Galice.

Well, soap will come. Mrs. Net Cook made a kettle full.
J. F. Bohl has returned to the Flat.
Looks just the same as he always did. NAPOLEON.

HOW TO GROW FAT.

A Lazy Stomach the Cause of Thinness, Nine Times in Ten.

If you are thin or lean, have scrappy arms and neck, you can't grow fat unless your food properly digests.

People take on flesh in proportion to the nutritious matter which the organs of digestion absorb and pass into the blood.

Just as long as the nutritious matter passes along without being absorbed, just so long will you remain thin.

Perhaps your stomach, bowels and liver need a tonic. If your digestion is not perfect, Mi-on-a tablets will put it right at once.

Mi-on-a will cure indigestion and every conceivable ailment of the stomach promptly. It cures by building and toning up and not by encouraging a tired stomach to continue its shiftless and health destroying habits. It promptly drives away sour stomach, belching of gas, heaviness after eating.

C. H. Demaray sells Mi-on-a for 50 cents a large box, and guarantees it to cure indigestion, sea and car sickness, vomiting of pregnancy and all stomach diseases and distress, or money back.

Mi-on-a is sold by leading druggists.

A surprise party was given Amos Williams last Saturday evening which was much enjoyed by those present.

We learn that Miss Linnie Perry, daughter of O. H. Perry, of this place, was recently married at Superior, Wis. Miss Perry's many congratulations.

It looks like fall has started in Crescent City and Grants Pass. They report having a good time.

a trip of a month's duration, during which time he enjoyed his honey-

The Railroad King Talks.

James J. Hill, who was in Chicago last Monday, said to a newspaper reporter that he intended to continue his progressive policy in pushing railroad construction along the lines in the west and northwest inaugurated during Harriman's lifetime. He was not disposed to go into particulars but did say:

"We intend to build all the lines that are warranted by the development of the country in the Northwest, and possibly some which are not warranted by present development. Yes, we are going to build a line south in the center of the state of Oregon from a point on the Columbia river. I cannot tell you how far we will go with that line. It depends upon conditions."

"Is it not true that you are heading for San Francisco?" was asked.

"Oh, no, indeed," was the reply.
"We are heading for Mexico City. I don't mind telling you what route we intend taking, if you will be careful not to say anything about it. We are going to build that line up the Deschutes river and then extend it to the highest point in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, from which point we intend using aeroplanes to reach Mexico City. Now, isn't that a good story for your paper? It has the merit of romance, at least, and that's better than a whole lot of newspaper stories."

Mr. Hill would not go on with reference to his building projects in Oregon.

THE LELAND BUDGET.

Miss Clara Bennett, of Placer, went to Grants Pass last week expecting to enter school but returned Tuesday. She says the country looks pretty good to her.

Mrs. Anderson, from the Greening down the river Saturday morning to visit relatives.

Mrs. Nell Sutherland and little nephew arrived Tuesday morning from Portland and went to the Greenback mine.

creek, went to Grants Pass Monday, returning Tuesday.

Mr. A. H. Carson, in company with a gentleman from Omaha, was in town Sunday looking at real estate.

John Mackin started Monday for Seattle to visit the fair.

The section crew escaped from what might have been a serious accident last Friday. They were on their way home from work when their car was run into by the Shasta Limited, which was late. The men stayed with the car until they saw they could not save it, then jumped.
The car was smashed into pieces, but no one was hurt.
