Church Services Sunday.

Newman M. E. Church.

Services next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hour. This church has secured the services of a deaconess who comes from the deaconess training school of San Francisco and she will be introduced to the congregation next Sunday morning by the pastor, under whose direction she will work.

First Baptist Church, Sun., Oct. 31.
Morning worship begins promptly at 10:30, when the pastor preaches on the topic, "Making Life Count." The Bible school meets as usual at 11:45 under the direction of R. K. Hackett. The Young People's service is at 6:30, Miss Millie Drake leader. At 7:30 occurs the evening song service and sermon; Subject, "A Queer Quarrel." A cordial invitation is extended.

Bethany Presbyterian Church.

At the morning service, 11 a. m., the pastor will speak on "The Power of the Invisible in the Earthly Life." The evening theme will be "Removing the Landmarks," the third discourse in the series on "The Gospel in the Old Testament."

The Junior Christian Endeavor society meets at 3 p. m., and the Senior at 6:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

First Christian Science Society.

New line of Garland Ranges just received by Cramer Bros.

Mrs. Nancy Hunt, of Tehama, Cal., spent a few days with her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. S. Shatuck, this week, leaving Thursday on her return to her home in California.

Cramer Bros will take orders for Rose Bushes and other garden plants.

Fashionable Ladies

should not fail to see Parker's Art Novelties at our store. The line is very complete, and all are invited to call and look the line over.

Again

let us call your attention to the fact that at this store we have the very best in fine China and Glassware, and also the common grades that are for every-day use. Our everyday China and Glassware is of the latest designs and patterns and our prices cannot be beat in Southern Oregon. If you are in want of anything in this line you should not fail to look our line over before you purchase.

THE RICH GROUND OF THE BRIGGS STRIKE

new discovery seems to rival the gold in value. Tests are now being made and methods of handling the minerals looked into.

While the party was in Gold Hill arrangements were made to mill 500 tons of ore now on the dump at a mill on an adjoining property, to determine the kind of plant that should be erected on the Sardine Creek mines. This property has been developed in a quiet way and Mr. Sanders informs us that it consists of two parallel ledges, one three feet wide and one fourteen feet wide, on which are now dug over 700 feet of tunnels and drifts. One tunnel exposes a pay shoot in the face and along the ledge already for a distance of two hundred feet, with a width of more than fourteen feet, and is about three hundred feet underground.

The ore is of the same general character as the Galice ores, the values being mostly in the sulphides of iron and lead, showing free gold in places and will mill $8 to $12 per ton in gold. The workings on the Forest creek property have been extended to a point where arrangements must be made for milling the ore now available or develop the ledge further to ascertain if it justifies the erection of a plant, as it is a small ledge.

After the inspection of the properties, Mr. Soranson decided to let Mr. McConnell return east alone, and to personally remain here this winter and partly relieve Mr. Sanders who has laid out and attended to the work the past few months, as he has other important matters in hand. The Courier predicts that Mr. Soranson will be a valued addition to the business interests of the city.

Earthquake Shock.

An earthquake shock was felt in Grants Pass at about 11 o'clock Thursday night. It was very perceptible, houses trembled and china rattled. The same shock was felt in Glendale and at points as far south as Redding and Baird, Cal.

Vernon Anderson and Al Dean left Wednesday for West Fork on business connected with the Forest Service.

Gladwin Smith and Rex Tuffs went on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Deer creek Thursday and it is expected they will return with a big load of game.

H. L. Gilkey and Geo. C. Sabin went out for quail on Thursday and were fortunate enough to return with a fair number of these choice birds. A cold bottle and a quail were considered in Shakespeare's time the choicest feast obtainable.

Tulip Bulbs 40 and 50 cents per dozen at Cramer Bros.

A. H. Carson, our horticultural commissioner, left Wednesday night for Albany where he made an address at the Albany Apple Fair on Thursday on the subject of peach growing in Oregon. He brought in from the vineyard a handsome crate of Red Emperor grapes for the Courier's fruit display. These grapes are very handsome and they can now be seen in our window. They are certainly very fine.

Last Saturday afternoon Walter Hamer, the driver of the Rochdale delivery, made too short a turn and the light wagon was overturned. This caused the horse to run and in his trip from 2nd and E streets to the barn the wagon was demolished.

JOSEPHINE TEACHERS AT THE INSTITUTE

This County Has a Full Representation at Ashland this Week.

The school bells all over the county have been silent Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, and as a consequence the younger generation, especially the boys, have been extremely happy as there were no lessons to be learned.

The local office of the Southern Pacific on Wednesday morning sold 63 tickets to Ashland and it is supposed the greater number were to teachers. Among those who went from this county were:

Grants Pass: County Superintendent Lincoln Savage, City Superintendent R. R. Turner; Misses Fay Newtown, Pearl Barker, Edith Carter, Christina McLean, Blanche Crane, Minnie L. The High school football team of this city goes to Ashland Saturday to mix up with the High school bunch of that city. This will be the first game played this season and is expected to be a most exciting one to the football enthusiast.

Mrs. L. D. Fry, formerly a resident of this city, but now residing in Portland, arrived here this Friday morning to visit friends for a few days.

George C. Sabin, the druggist, has fully recovered from a six-week's siege of illness and has been out for the past few days. His numerous friends are congratulating him on being able to attend to business once more.

OUTFITTERS TO BOY AND MAN

Can We Enforce the Game Laws?

It is a shame to ask such a question, but more shameful is the condition that makes it possible. In Wednesday's Oregonian we read that fish dealers and hotel keepers were arrested and fined in Eastern Oregon for putting on sale the fish taken from the irrigating ditches when the water was turned off.

Here in Grants Pass we have men supplying the hotels and meat markets exposing fish for sale just as if there were no closed season.

Rogue river is one of the finest sporting streams in the world, but the end is not far distant if we cannot secure a game warden who will enforce the law. Only today the writer saw several fishermen fishing off the dam just below the bridge. Men are making a business of fishing for the market, fishing with spoons, fly and salmon eggs, and taking out hundreds of pounds each day.

The commercial fishermen have their day during the open season, when their nets are sweeping the river making impossible any fishing by sportsmen. In the close season these experts drop the nets and resort to the different lures, taking almost as many fish as with the nets. Where does the busy man, who can only occasionally have a day off, come in? He doesn't come in at all.

The intent of the law is to have a closed season for commercial fishing. A strict enforcement of the law will give us this. If the game warden cannot enforce the present law then the only thing to do will be to secure the passage of a law by the next legislature closing Rogue river entirely to commercial fishing and preserving this splendid sporting ground as one of the greatest attractions in Southern Oregon.

SPORTSMAN.

THE LELAND BUDGET.

Col. Blaisdell left Friday evening of last week for his home in Portland.

Carl Stewart and wife came down from Grants Pass the latter part of last week for a short visit with Mr. Wilson.

Charley Ellis started for Coos county Tuesday and expects to remain there during the winter.

Our school house has been re-seated with new single seats and a new slate blackboard has been added. This places our school building among the best and most comfortably furnished country school buildings of the county.

A very pleasant time was spent in a social way at Mackin's hall Tuesday evening. The hall was very prettily decorated and Mr. Fifield furnished graphophone music while the members and friends of the Sunday school were gathering. After the opening songs and prayer, Mr. Huntington set forth something of the purpose of the Sunday school, and, as the children follow in the footsteps of the parents, urged that the parents attend the Sunday school. The programme was carried out nicely. The children certainly deserve much credit for the interest taken and the enthusiasm with which they carried out their part of the program. A dainty lunch of fruit and cake was served by the ladies of the Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alderson have moved down to the Ideal, where Mr. Alderson has work for the winter.

Mrs. Wilson and the children came up from Grants Pass Tuesday evening, to remain until school re-opens after institute.

DIED—At the family home on lower Wolf Creek, October 20, Mike Maloney, aged about 54 years. The deceased was born at Myrtle Creek, Douglas county, and the body was taken to that place for burial. Mr. Maloney had been ill for some months and death came as a merciful release from suffering.

Among the teachers who went from this vicinity to the institute at Ashland we noticed Miss Josephine Hathaway, of lower Wolf Creek; Miss Rader, of Grave; Miss Shafer, of Placer, and Miss Scovill, of Leland.
