Rev. D. H. Leech, pastor of the Newman M. E. church of this city, will hold services at the Ashland Methodist church on the coming Sunday, taking the place of the minister at that place, who is absent in southern California for the benefit of his health. Rev. Leech goes to Ashland this Saturday and returns on Monday.

J. A. Piffy, of Portland, a contractor, was in the county Saturday and Sunday to look over a piece of Murphy property.

Quite a delegation of Kansas people arrived here Saturday and will probably make this place their home, as they brought a car of household goods with them. They are Howard Sherman and family, Geo. A. Sherman and family, J. T. Quantis and family, F. H. Morgan and family. These people are from Manhattan, Kan., the first two gentlemen named being carriage makers and the latter two farmers. It is their intention to locate in this city and follow their respective trades should they find a suitable opening.

A horse race was run on Pine street last week which stirred up quite a little crowd and some excitement as well. The race was between Mrs. Amos Smith's driving horse, George, and a pony belonging to George Bowers. In the first dash there was a difference of opinion between the judges, so it was run a second time. The horses started off, but Mrs. Smith's horse flew the track and the rider, Ernest Lewis, had some difficulty in getting him back, when he made a good run, almost catching the other pony in the finish. On riding home, Mrs. Smith noticed that her horse limped and on examining his foot found a nail in it, thereby showing the reason for his flying the track at so inopportune a time.

Oregon ranks seventh among all the states in railroad building during 1909. These figures are compiled by the leading railroad publications of the country and show that the Beaver state added 134 miles to its railroads during the year just closed. The Pacific Northwest is declared to be the great goal of competitive railroad building in the United States. The struggle of the railroads to enter Central Oregon is detailed and development in the Willamette valley and in the Oregon Coast country is recorded. This is a far better showing for the past year than was made in 1908, when 79 miles of new railway was built in this state.

Klamath Falls is enjoying the best sleighing in years. The ground is covered with a six inches of well-packed snow. Nature has not only provided pay amusement for the people of this section, but it has taken the preliminary steps for a bumper crop for the year 1910.

Petaluma Incubators

With the high price of poultry and with eggs at 40 and 45 cents per dozen there is money in the chicken business. With a good Incubator you can hatch your pullets so that they will be fall and winter layers. The PETALUMA is the simplest Incubator on the market and brings good results. We shall gladly furnish any necessary information and catalogue.

Woodville's Awakening.

The people of Woodville and vicinity are beginning to sit up and take notice of the fact that they are on the map.

School opened January 3 in a fine brick building that has just been completed at a cost of $15,000, and it is said that Grants Pass must erect their new high school building before they will have as good a school building as Woodville. The finishing touches are just being put on the bridge, which is a steel structure and will be a big thing for the town, as now a large share of business which has previously gone to Gold Hill and even Medford, will come to Woodville. Messrs. Carner and Sabin have just completed the survey and staking of an addition, containing about 40 acres, and which joins the present town site on the northeast.

In this addition is one main street, 80 feet in width, and another 60 feet, and already a number of lots have been contracted for with the purpose of building business houses. Besides they have numerous applications for residence lots. These lots are all cleared and lay with a slight southwest slope, there not being a rough or undesirable lot in the whole addition. These lots will be offered for sale beginning next Tuesday.

A box factory and planing mill is to be built this spring and together with the clearing of land and planting of fruit trees, it does not take a very far-sighted man to realize that Woodville is a coming town.

There will be a grand reduction in the price of photographs for a few days only at the Grants Pass Art Studio. Don't forget the chance. 1-212t

Meeting of City Council. The city council met in regular session on Thursday night after the transaction of considerable routine business took up the subject of street paving.

On motion the old ordinance was repealed and a substitute for the same was offered, read a first time in full and a second time by title. When the council adjourned it was to meet next Thursday night for the purpose of passing the amended paving ordinance, so as not to cause a delay of more than one week by the repeal of the old ordinance.

It may be stated here that the entire council and members were in their desire to accomplish this at the earliest possible date. This ordinance provides for the assessing of the costs for intersections to be abutting property, as provided in the charter.

An ordinance was introduced and passed creating a new street between 8th and 10th, along the north line of Blanchard's property, thence west. This new thoroughfare was named Blanchard street.

Marcus Robbins is putting up a small business house on the north side of Sixth street, near K, which has been rented to W. G. Thresher, the painter and paper hanger. Business seems to be crowding south on Sixth street.
