SOCIAL EVENTS

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sampson, Mrs. C. H. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. James Slover and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bacher spent Sunday at Woodville on a picnic and fishing excursion. The trip to Woodville was made by the motor car and the return to this city was made on No. 16, thereby giving the entire day in the suburbs to the pleasure seekers. The outing was greatly enjoyed and quite a number of the finny tribe secured by the anglers.

An excursion party left this city Friday evening for Savage Rapids, where they held a very enjoyable moonlight picnic on the banks of the Rogue. The party, 32 in all, was chaperoned by Mrs. August Goettsche and left the city about 8 o'clock in the large picnic van which is used for conveying pleasure seekers to the different points of interest around the city. The drive was enjoyed by the young people with all the vigor of youth, health and happiness, and no accidents occurred to mar the pleasure, with the exception of a slight breakdown, which necessitated the bunch walking for a few miles. On arrival at the rapids the evening was spent with games and music and a sumptuous spread was enjoyed, after which all embarked for the home drive and arrived in the city at a reasonable hour. Those participating were Mrs. A. C. Goettsche, Mrs. Jessie Dunlap, Misses Caldwell, Maude Dullbon, DeEtte Tetherow, Reba Smith, Fay Sill, Claudia and Georgia Coron, Minnie and Vera Reymers, Grace Turner, Dessie Cole, Hazel Morey, Jessie Layton, Pearl Dyer, Josie Vandewalker; Messrs. Phil Cheshire, Clark Morey, Ben Herriott, Verne Launer, Lester Coburn, John Denison, Lloyd Dyer, Clyde Martin, Rodney Calvert, Fred Wilcox, Herbert Brown, Elmer Spaulding, Louis Steelhammer, Ed. Gano.

The members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church left the city at 6 o'clock last Saturday evening in the large picnic van en route for Murphy, where they spent the evening in a most enjoyable moonlight picnic party. Supper was served in the beautiful grove at that place, after which games and music were indulged in until time to make the return trip to Grants Pass. All join in declaring this one of the exceedingly pleasant events of the season, as not only the picnic but the drive to and from the country were fraught with keen pleasure to those participating.

A moonlight picnic party composed of Mrs. Lillian Denison, Misses Lucie George, Alice Horton, Nell Dement, Margaret Williamson; Messrs. G. P. Jester, A. C. Holcomb, Ralph Davis and Verne Launer, walked across the river to the park Tuesday evening and proceeded to enjoy the moonlight on the banks of the Rogue. As the "moon rays" rather chilling, a large bonfire was built by the gentlemen, while the ladies spread an appetizing lunch. Rowing, games and a general good time were indulged in and at a reasonable hour the young people returned to the city, well pleased with the evening's excursion.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Mary Coe, assisted by Mrs. J. Pardee, entertained the graduating class of the Junior Christian Endeavor society at the park with a delightful picnic. A delicious luncheon was served under the trees on the banks of the Rogue and the evening was most delightfully spent with games, music and rowing on the river. Those present were: Misses Florence Webb, Jeannette Cramer, Ruth Hathaway, Prudence Pardee, Mathew Riddle, Edwin Bobzien, Luther Coe, Joe Pardee, Hobart Gillilan.

The Misses Cornelia, Gertrude, Vivian and Julia Galbraith were the four charming hostesses who entertained in honor of Miss Iris Cook at their home Thursday afternoon. Miss Cook is soon to be married, and the dainty reception tendered her by the Misses Galbraith was in honor of this occasion and was in the form of a "heart" party, thus carrying out the sentiment of the occasion in a very pretty and appropriate manner. After the guests were assembled the game of hearts was indulged in, the prize being secured by Miss Jessie Hale. Later the guests were summoned to the dining room, where a most beautiful view met their eyes. The birds were closely drawn and the light furnished by lighted candles with red shades, while a large red light hung from the center, casting a beautiful rosy glow over the long tables and the guests, and was reflected from many tiny red hearts with which the dining room was artistically decorated. When the guests were seated a messenger was announced for Miss Iris, and when he was bidden to enter, there stood cupid, very arch and smiling, conveyed in a dainty wagon drawn by a small pony, harnessed with red ribbons. The wagon was well filled with kitchen utensils, which were presented to the bride to be, and which came as a very pleasant surprise to that young lady. The parts taken as cupid and the pony were very pleasingly carried out by the little Misses Gretchen Clemens and Hortense Hough. The luncheon was then served, consisting of shrimp salad and biscuits, sherbet and frau frau. Altogether this was one of the most charming and original affairs which has occurred in the social line. The guests present were Mesdames Hersey, Cook, Stonaker, Booth; Misses Laura Riggs, Ada Smith, Genevieve Parsons, Jessie Hale, Iris Cook, Anna Hiner.

Mrs. George Howland entertained very delightfully on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Iris Cook, the affair being in the form of a miscellaneous shower, at which the young lady was most bountifully remembered by her friends with scores of beautiful gifts, in view of her marriage in the near future. Mrs. Howland was assisted in entertaining by Miss Evelyn Conklin. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, and the afternoon was passed in a very pleasing manner by the guests present, as the hostess left nothing undone which would in any way contribute to the pleasure of the occasion and the result was an afternoon of pleasure, which will long be remembered by the guest of honor as well as the guests, who were as follows: Mesdames Cook, Moss, Clemens, Satchwell, Hersey, Klockner, Hale, Fuson; Misses Iris Cook, Vivian Galbraith, Jessie Hale.

On last Saturday evening about 14 of the members of I. O. O. F. lodge of this city went to Gold Hill by team, taking with them a first degree candidate to be initiated in that lodge. The visitors were warmly welcomed by the Gold Hill lodge and after the initiation services were over, all repaired to the banquet room, where a swell banquet had been prepared by a committee of the Rebekahs. The visitors then started on their return drive to this city and the wee sma' hours had numbered four before they were again at their homes. All are loud in their praise of Gold Hill's hospitality and the fine time enjoyed there.

Twelve of Grants Pass ladies, Mrs. Amos Smith, Mrs. G. O. Oium, Mrs. Tom Harvey, Mrs. Arthur Fryer, Mrs. Warren Burt, Mrs. Alice Carlon, Mrs. Herman Horing, Mrs. Otto Dunlap, Misses Dot Cook, Georgia Coron, Maude and Myrtle Baber, went to Woodville on the motor car Thursday morning to spend the day picnicking in the woods near town. The ladies were laden with lunch baskets and kodak, and on arrival at the little city they were directed by the station master to the beautiful grove adjoining the town on the banks of the Rogue and were soon enjoying all the delights of outdoor life. The day was one continual round of pleasure, spent in picture taking and various outdoor sports. At noon a bountiful lunch was served on the green grass under the spreading trees. Paul Schallhorn, a Grants Pass boy who is now located in the Palmer store at Woodville, being the guest of honor, as he was the only man at the table. After visiting the different places of interest in and around town, calling on friends and viewing the handsome new brick school building and the new bridge, four of the party, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Oium, Misses Maude and Myrtle Baber, were obliged to return home on the 3 o'clock train on account of duties demanding their attention, but the remainder of the party spent the entire day in Woodville, enjoying their supper in the grove and returning home on No. 16. All vote the excursion one of the most pleasant affairs in the picnic line which has been held for some time.

Public Installations in the Legions. The members of the National Protective Legion in town will be interested to learn of the three big meetings recently held up north. Monday night, April 25, the W. O. W. hall in Springfield was filled to overflowing, a big delegation going over from Eugene. The officers of both legions were publicly installed by A. R. McLean. Wednesday night Odd Fellows hall in Roseburg was full to listen to a program furnished by the members of Roseburg. Mr. McLean reports legion work in Oregon to be in the best condition since he introduced the society in this state two years ago.

WOODVILLE TO FRONT; WATCH IT GROW

Woodville, our sister town on the south, is certainly making long strides in the right direction these days. Modern improvements are everywhere noticeable, and the town has an alert, up-to-date appearance about it that is readily noticed by the stranger. A commercial club has recently been organized and has a charter membership of 60 of the citizens and business men, and all are taking a keen interest in the welfare of their city. A handsome new bridge across Rogue river, costing $12,000, has recently been completed and is open to travel. A new bank is soon to be built, the safe of which has already been purchased and the work will be commenced as soon as the material arrives. This building, as well as the Odd Fellows hall which will also be built in the near future, are to be constructed of brick. The lots for these buildings have already been purchased. A handsome $15,000 brick school building has recently been completed and is now in use.

So many new comers are settling in this little town that it is necessary to have more dwelling houses to accommodate the population, and consequently 50 new houses are under construction, but the work is at present retarded by the lack of lumber to complete them. Some lumber has recently been shipped in, however, and it is expected that more will follow soon, so that the good work will go forward with all possible speed. A 20-acre tract has recently been opened and subdivided into lots, 50x100, and these are selling rapidly. A new hardware store was recently established by Roy McLean, of Grants Pass, and he expects to have his stock on hand and open up his store next week. Another store which is enjoying a large patronage is the general merchandise store of C. E. Palmer. Mr. Palmer opened up in Woodville the first of April and he now has as fine a business as anyone could wish and his daily sales average as high or higher than many of the stores of larger and more favored localities. In addition to the other improvements made in the place, the town has been remodeled and the streets now run in straight lines, and all the old shacks are being torn down and their places are to be taken by neat new buildings.

Altogether, the town is in a prosperous condition and it is fast making this fact known to the outside world. The citizens are hustling, and are going to make some of the neighboring cities hustle to keep pace. Woodville has a bright future, a part of which is told by the stationery used by the business men of that town—no dead ones there. Watch Woodville grow.

Pernoll Wins for Detroit. ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Detroit won a weird game from St. Louis this afternoon, 7 to 1. Both teams played poorly in the field, St. Louis' errors being particularly costly. Detroit lost several runs as a result of poor base-running. Pernoll pitched a masterly game, working himself out of several bad holes. Score: R H E St. Louis 1 8 4 Detroit 7 6 2 Batteries—Graham, Gillian and Stephens; Pernoll and Stanage.
